INTRODUCTION

BROUGHT TOGETHER BY COINCIDENCE AND BOUND TOGETHER BY A COMMON ENEMY, KAIM ARGONAR AND HIS GROUP ARE ANYTHING BUT RAGTAG: CURRENT AND FORMER MONARCHS AS WELL AS MYSTERIOUS AND POWERFUL IMMORTALS HAVE JOINED UP TO FIGHT THE FORCES OF EVIL.

DURING THEIR ADVENTURE EACH CHARACTER WILL BECOME MORE POWERFUL. THE CHARACTERS' BASIC ATTRIBUTES (PRESENTED IN THIS SECTION) PROVIDE A ROUGH OUTLINE FOR HOW THEY WILL ADVANCE AS THEY GAIN LEVELS; THE HIGHER THE GRADE, THE FASTER THE CORRESPONDING STATISTIC WILL GROW. MORTALS LEARN SKILLS AS THEY PROGRESS, AS INDICATED ON THEIR SKILL ADVANCEMENT CHARTS; IMMORTALS GAIN NEW SKILLS ONLY BY LEARNING THEM FROM THEIR MORTAL ALLIES. SOME SKILLS ARE EFFECTIVE AUTOMATICALLY (INDICATED BY A DASH IN OUR CHARTS), BUT OTHER SKILLS MUST BE ACTIVATED IN BATTLE AND MAY COST MP TO USE. THE SKILL ADVANCEMENT CHARTS SHOW THE MP COST TO USE THOSE MOVES DURING COMBAT.

LIEUTENANT KAIM ARGONAR HAS BEEN SERVING IN THE UHRAN MILITARY FOR AS LONG AS HE CAN REMEMBER, WHICH ISN'T A VERY LONG TIME AT ALL. IN THE RECENT TRAGIC BATTLE AGAINST THE KHENT ARMY, KAIM FOUGHT HEROICALLY, AND AFTER ITS APOCALYPTIC CONCLUSION, KAIM FOUND HIMSELF AS THE ONLY SURVIVOR AND WITHOUT HIS MEMORIES. FOR THE IMMORTAL KAIM, A LOSS OF MEMORY IS A BLESSING; EVERY TIME HE DREAMS, HE RECOLLECTS A PIECE OF HIS PAST—A PAST HE KNOWS IS FILLED WITH PAIN AND SORROW. NOW KAIM RETURNS TO UHRA TO FIND THE NATION IN DISARRAY. HE SENSES THAT HIS OWN HISTORY IS TIED TO THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN UHRA, AND AS HE CONTINUES TO WORK FOR HIS COUNTRY, HE WILL LEARN MORE ABOUT HIMSELF, AS WELL.

JANSEN FRIEDH

AS THE LACKEY OF GONGORA, THE ROYAL ADVISOR OF UHRA, JANSEN HAS LIVED AN EASY, SHELTERED LIFE—HE SPENDS HIS DAYS DOING GONGORA'S DIRTY WORK AND HIS NIGHTS DOING HIS OWN. THE WISECRACKING JANSEN SPENDS A REMARKABLE AMOUNT OF ENERGY COMPLAINING ABOUT HAVING TO DO REAL WORK, LEAVING LITTLE STRENGTH TO ACTUALLY DO ANY. BUT JANSEN HAS MANAGED TO LEARN A BIT OF MAGIC, MAKING HIM A VALUABLE MEMBER OF THE TEAM WHEN GONGORA ORDERS HIM TO TAG ALONG. THERE'S SOMETHING FISHY ABOUT JANSEN, THOUGH, AND KAIM AND SETH KNOW IT—THEY KEEP ONE EYE ON THE TRAIL AND ONE EYE ON THEIR SHIFTY TEAMMATE. JANSEN'S LOYALTIES MAY RUN ONLY AS DEEP AS HIS POCKETS, AND WHEN THE MONEY RUNS OUT, SO MIGHT HIS OBEDIENCE TO GONGORA.

DESPITE HER YOUTHFUL AND EXUBERANT DISPOSITION, SETH BALMORE IS, LIKE KAIM, AN IMMORTAL WHO'S A THOUSAND YEARS OLD. UNLIKE KAIM, SHE HASN'T USUALLY FOUND HERSELF ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THE LAW. A HIGH-SEAS PIRATE BY TRADE, SETH SHOWS THE FEARLESSNESS OF SOMEONE WHO HAS SEEN DANGER MANY TIMES AND HAS LIVED TO TELL ABOUT IT. BUT WHILE HER DEEMANOR REFLECTS HER EXPLOITS, SHE IS AT A LOSS TO RECALL THEM. FOR SHE TOO HAS LOST HER MEMORIES.

WHEN KAIM IS SENT TO INVESTIGATE THE CAUSE OF THE TRAGEDY THAT WIPED OUT BOTH THE UHRA AND KHENT ARMIES, HE SUGGESTS THAT SETH SHOULD ACCOMPANY HIM—A SIGN THAT THERE IS AN UNSPOKEN BOND BETWEEN THEM.

MACK

ALTHOUGH COOKE MIGHT BE THE A RESPONSIBLE SIBLING, HER BROTHER MACK IS DEFINITELY THE MORE ADVENTUROUS. IT IS EVIDENT RIGHT AWAY THAT THERE'S SOMETHING SPECIAL ABOUT MACK—HIS BOND WITH HIS MOTHER PERSISTS, EVEN IN HER FAILING HEALTH. IN ADDITION, MACK HAS AN UNUSUAL SENSE FOR MAGIC THAT DRIVES HIM TOWARD A GOAL HE'S TOO YOUNG TO UNDERSTAND. MACK IS SMALL STILL, BUT HIS AGGRESSIVENESS MAKES HIM A STRONG FIGHTER IN SPITE OF HIS SIZE. HE'S ALSO A VERSATILE ALLY, CAPABLE BOTH OF WIELDING HIS DISCUS-SHAPED WEAPON AND OF CASTING SPIRIT MAGIC SPELLS.

WHEN KAIM MEETS COOKE AND THE TWO DISCOVER THE NATURE OF THEIR CLOSE RELATIONSHIP, COOKE IS HESITANT TO EMBRACE IT. ADVENTURING FUNDAMENTALS

NOW THAT YOU'RE FAMILIAR WITH LOST ODYSSEY'S HEROIC CAST, IT'S TIME TO EXPLORE WHAT YOU CAN DO WITH THEM! WE'LL BEGIN BY INTRODUCING GAME-EXPLORATION TECHNIQUES AND A HOST OF OTHER GENERAL GAMEPLAY PRINCIPLES BEFORE MOVING ON TO THE NITTY-GRITTY: COMBAT MECHANICS AND TACTICS.

EXPLORATION

Everything in Lost Odyssey begins with exploration, so it's critical that you familiarize yourself with the basics of traveling and investigating the game world. In this section, we'll make sure you're mobile and know what to watch for.

1 WALKING

Your primary mode of transportation will be your own feet. Most of the time, Kaim represents the entire party as you walk around. Pay attention to your surroundings as you explore the many towns and dungeons—subtle visual clues, such as a group of people all looking in the same direction, could indicate where you should head next. Kaim will stare at things of interest, as well; if you notice him looking at something, follow his path of sight to the object. If you still aren't sure what you're supposed to interact with, look for onscreen button prompts that let you know when you might want to check something out.

2 WALKING SLOWLY

You can usually walk at your own pace wherever you go, but there are times when a light step will be handy, especially when you're sneaking around places someone else doesn't want you to be. In those instances, hold down the B button to walk slowly (and more quietly). Remember to keep the B button held down until you're out of danger—as soon as you let go, you'll resume hiking in your normal, louder way, which could cause all sorts of mayhem. You won't have to walk slowly very often during your journey, but it's important to keep this technique in mind, because it's extremely useful at times.

3 RUNNING

Walking slowly might get you past unwitting enemies, but running will let you evade the wary ones. Hold down the X button to pick up the pace. Occasionally you'll need to run to avoid moving obstacles such as runaway boulders. In monster-filled areas, you can make a break for the exit with a quick dash, slimming down the number of battles you'll likely have to fight. You can run any time you want, which is handy for whisking through towns that you've already trekked through multiple times, but don't be so hasty as to miss a hidden treasure or valuable information from the townsfolk.

4

TRAVELING VIA THE WORLD MAP MENU

You can jump from one major location to another via the World Map menu.

When you exit a town or dungeon, the World Map menu will appear automatically, showing you where you can travel (indicated both as dots on the map and in a list). If there is a key location where you should head next, a blue flashing icon will appear next to the place name in the list. As the story unfolds, you won't always be able to return to a place you've been before; those locations will be grayed out until you can return to them.

NAVIGATING BY SHIP

Once you've commandeered a ship, you can take to the high seas. When you're on the ship, you have much greater camera control than you do when you're just walking around, and it can be disorienting at first. The camera doesn't actually move when you turn your ship; use the right stick to adjust your view as you navigate. Employ the Navigation Map to keep your bearings, or press the right trigger to pause and bring up a full map. If you'd like you can press the right bumper to go inside the ship's cockpit, but there's not much to do there. Head to the front of the cabin to resume steering.

5

There are some places even your trusty ship won't go, such as over ice floes and through heavy currents.

5

Newer ships, such as Sed's Nautilus, let you dive under the sea to explore submerged caves.

The White Boa lets you break through solid ice to discover otherwise unreachable locations.

USING THE NAVIGATION MAP

Your Navigation Map is invaluable. As you move around, keep one eye on it for obscured passages and hidden doorways. Doors and other egresses are represented as blue bars; in towns, you can identify shops and ringmakers as purple dots, inns as blue dots, and save locations as orange dots. You can press the BACK button to adjust the zoom to three depths, which is especially helpful for when you begin to hunt for treasure—it shows up as a yellow dot once you've gotten a hint as to its whereabouts.

1 MERCHANTS

Most towns, and even a few locations outside of town, have at least one merchant who'll sell you items and equipment. Most merchants sell an array of products—you won't often find separate accessories stores, weapons stores, and ring-components stores, for example. There may even be multiple merchants within the same store—purple dots on your map will help you locate vendors. Making money isn't all that difficult; there's no need to be shy about spending your hard-earned gold on a new weapon or overstocking on healing medicine.

You can sell off excess items and inferior equipment—at a reduced price from what you bought them at, of course.

2 THE RINGMAKER

One merchant of note is the traveling ringmaker. He assembles powerful rings by combining weaker rings. For example, he can take a Flame Ring, which adds elemental power to your physical attacks, and a Bruiser Ring, which increases your attack damage, to create the stronger Fire-Powered Ring that combines the effects of its enhancements. Since you can wear only one ring at a time, these hybrid rings are very valuable. The ringmaker is usually not behind a counter, but you can often find him near stores that sell ring components. As you progress through your quest, the ringmaker becomes more adept at assembling rings; check back with him to see what new combinations he can create.

The ringmaker doesn't ask for any money—only rings that you've created on your own.

3 INNS

The inn is the hub of most towns, and a good place to find people with information to share. You can also stay the night in towns for a nominal fee, but you will hardly ever find yourself in need of an overnight stay because you regain your health completely every time you jump to a new location via the World Map menu. When you do choose to sleep, you'll be given the option to review the dreams you've recalled. However, you can also review dreams in the title menu any time you like, free of charge.

4

SAVE POINTS

You can save your game when standing near glowing orange save points. Save often, even in towns, as challenging areas tend to sneak up on you. When you come across a save point while exploring a dungeon, consider it a subtle indicator that you're approaching a particularly tough section or a boss.

EASY HEALING AT SAVE POINTS

YOU CAN HEAL YOUR ENTIRE PARTY USING A LITTLE TRICK AT SAVE POINTS. AFTER SAVING, GO INTO THE SYSTEM MENU AND QUIT YOUR GAME, WHICH WILL TAKE YOU BACK TO THE TITLE SCREEN. WHEN YOU REENTER YOUR GAME, YOUR ENTIRE PARTY WILL BE FULLY HEALED, SAVING YOU BOTH TIME AND PRECIOUS HEALING RESOURCES.

TALKING TO PEOPLE

Virtually everywhere you go, someone can provide a morsel of helpful information. Talk to everyone you see, from boring old innkeepers to hyperactive children—you never know whose knowledge will lead you to a special item or prompt one of Kaim's memory-inducing dreams. Besides, the story is just that much richer when you get the perspective of the people in it. Press the A button to speak with someone; there will seldom be an onscreen prompt to tell you when you're close enough to get someone's attention, so just walk up and say hi.

SUBQUESTS

Most of the people you speak with have only a few general words to say before sending you on your way. However, a number of folks have greater plans for you. If someone has lost their dog or has misplaced their absent-minded boyfriend, it's worth taking the time to solve the little problem: often it will lead to a handsome reward. Some quests are more elaborate than others; for example, one puzzle will have you paying your respects to 16 statues scattered all across a mountain village, while another will require you to play tag with a young girl. You don't have to stray far to solve the quests—just keep your eyes peeled as you explore the surrounding area.

CHARACTERS

GAME BASICS

WALKTHROUGH

APPENDICES

At a certain point into your journey, you'll be able to sniff out hidden valuables via a treasure locator. However, you won't be able to discover these items all on your own; you'll need to talk to people to get a little nod in the right direction so you know where to look. You should speak to everyone you come across, as you can't tell who's going to give you a tip. The tipsters won't be willing to cough up detailed directions to their hidden treasures, but they will usually give you a pretty good hint. After you get your clue, the approximate location of the item will show up on your Navigation Map, and you can review the clue in the Treasures tab of the Items section on your menu screen. The item locations are typically invisible, but you'll know you're in the right place when your controller rumbles like crazy as you approach your target.

SEARCHING FOR ITEMS

Many of the valuable items you'll need for your quest can be found by searching areas carefully. The hidden items could be anything from accessories to recovery items to spells for your Spell Book, and can be found in towns as well as in dungeons. Some items are easier to locate than others—treasure chests and large pots are obvious places to look, but many items are stashed in less evident locations, such as among cascading flowers or under a pile of rocks. Note that the way items are concealed is consistent within an area—if you find something by kicking a tree trunk, keep your eye open for more tree trunks to kick. The value of the items themselves is pretty good incentive, but you can also earn an achievement for finding all the hidden items in the game, so it's worth searching every nook and cranny even if you feel that your party is in good shape.

PIPOTS

IN VARIOUS LOCATIONS AROUND THE WORLD, PIPOTS—STRANGE LITTLE CREATURES WITH LONG RABBITLIKE EARS—HAVE TAKEN UP DWELLING IN POTS. THE PIPOTS WILL OFFER TO TRADE ITEMS FOR MORE-POWERFUL ITEMS. SOMETIMES THE MORE ITEMS YOU TRADE, THE BETTER ITEMS YOU’LL GET; OTHER TIMES, THOUGH, THE BENEFIT OF THE TRADE IS NOT SO BLACK-AND-WHITE. PIPOTS CAN ALSO UPGRADE MP-RECOVERY ITEMS, CURATIVE ITEMS, AND EVEN BOMBS.

WHAT THE PIPOTS LIKE THE MOST, HOWEVER, ARE SPECIAL ITEMS CALLED SEEDS, WHICH YOU’LL FIND ALL OVER THE PLACE. YOU CAN TRADE SEEDS FOR WEAPONS AND ACCESSORIES; COLLECT ALL 99 SEEDS TO ACQUIRE THE SIX SPECIAL ITEMS THE PIPOTS HAVE AVAILABLE.

SPECIAL SEEDS

DREAMS

Kaim has seen many important events over the past thousand years, but his amnesia prevents him from remembering most of his life. Occasionally Kaim's memories will flood back to him when he comes across something similar to an event in his past. At such times, an interlude shows a story depicting his dream. Kaim's dreams aren't integral to the progress of the story, but they provide insight into Kaim's long life. Kaim isn't the only one to have the dreams; Seth's memory will also percolate through the fog of her amnesia. While much less frequent, her dreams tend to be more relevant to the game's story (and they usually are part of important cinematic sequences). You can check the main menu to see which dreams you've already viewed. Consult the appendix for a full list of the dreams and how to trigger them.

COMBAT

BETWEEN WILD MONSTERS AND ARMIES AT WAR WITH EACH OTHER, THE WORLD OF LOST ODYSSEY IS FULL OF PERIL. MORE OFTEN THAN NOT, YOU'LL NEED TO LET YOUR FIGHTING SKILLS DO YOUR TALKING FOR YOU. UNDERSTANDING HOW TO USE EVERY AVAILABLE COMBAT TECHNIQUE IS ESSENTIAL FOR YOUR SURVIVAL.

PICKING A FIGHT

There are a number of ways for you to engage in battle. Most of the time, battles will be random occurrences while you are in field and dungeon areas; these are perhaps the most dangerous because you never know when they'll happen. However, there are also plenty of bosses that feature much more difficult battles. If you come across a save point deep within a dungeon, you can bet that you're about to get into a major fight. Take the game's advice—it's always smart to save before a boss battle.

BASIC TURN ORDER

For every round of battle, you must choose what you want each character to do—fight, cast a spell, defend, etc. What you can't decide directly, however, is when your characters will perform their actions during each turn. You can roughly predict that using items and defending will happen at the beginning of a turn, melee attacks will happen next, and spells tend to take the longest to perform. Each member of your party has a speed rating that serves as a baseline for when they will perform their maneuvers, but many factors (such as spells and status effects) can go into changing that speed. When you're choosing what action to perform, you won't be able to see the turn order of the upcoming round—only once the battle sequence begins will you have the luxury of seeing who attacks when via a row of icons on the bottom-left of the screen.

In addition, each monster has its own speed rating that has to be factored in—pay attention to when a monster attacks, as a given monster tends to strike at the same time during every round of battle.

When fighting multiple monsters of the same type, you can identify them individually by the letters on their icons.

If you cast a spell that takes more than one turn to complete, the number of turns remaining will appear over the character's icon.

PHYSICAL ATTACKS

The one action that every character can perform in battle is to attack with a weapon. With the right attacker, it can be your most potent tool in battle—powerful warriors such as Kaim and Tolten are almost always best utilized by letting them display their physical might. But some characters, particularly the more magic-oriented members of the group, should never swing their weapons unless it's completely necessary. You can swap your weapons in battle to great effect, as discussed under “Swapping Equipment in Battle” later in this section.

Attacking an enemy consists of more than a brute-strength assault. You don't need the same level of planning that goes into choosing your next skill or spell action, but there are some things to consider. Bear in mind how much damage your fighter has been inflicting to determine how to best utilize his resources. Additionally, the amount of damage a character can do will vary based on the character's equipped items, particularly rings.

ATTACKING WITH RINGS

You can augment your melee attacks with various powers and attributes by wearing special rings. Many rings improve your fighting, with effects that add some sort of damage modifier against certain types of monsters (such as Magical or Fire-type beasts), or grant you the power to inflict a status ailment upon your foe (such as Poison or Sleep). There are also more-powerful rings that combine several of these skills; such rings are generally much more difficult to acquire. Your party members can wear only one ring at a time, but they can change the ring they're wearing at any moment, even during battle, simply by pressing left on the left thumbstick on the character's main combat menu, and selecting Equip. This is a free action that will not use the character's turn. Since ring effects trigger only on an attack, characters that you don't intend to attack with don't need to equip rings.

Weapons augmented with an elemental effect from a ring will have a corresponding aura.

RING ASSEMBLY

For the most part, you must make rings yourself from components that you find in the wild, acquire from battle, or purchase in shops. You must have enough of each of the necessary components before you can make a new ring; once you've acquired at least one of the components, your Ring Assembly menu will be updated automatically with the ring formulas that use that component.

Not only will you earn ring components for winning in battle, but you can steal components during the melee.

It's a good idea to assemble rings as soon and as often as you can, for two reasons: First, ring components are not in short supply. You'll even come across merchants willing to sell you ring components at a reasonable price. Second, many rings are themselves components necessary for creating more-powerful rings. At the very least, create one of every type of ring. And remember to look for ringmakers who can convert excess rings into more-powerful rings that have combined skills.

ULTRA RINGS

For every kind of ring you can make, there is an Ultra version that you can create, as well. Ultra rings increase the size of the timing circle during attacks, giving you a better shot to nail Good and Perfect hits. You'll be able to see the difference in battle—the outer, shaded part of the timing circle will be significantly larger. Ultra rings are no more powerful than their normal equivalents, but the added opportunity will benefit your team's performance in battle.

USING RINGS IN BATTLE

To get the full use out of your equipped rings, you must perform a timed action during battle. Once all your moves have been set and the battle sequence starts, when an attacking character begins its move a circle will appear over the target enemy and a countdown sequence will begin. Hold down the right trigger (RT) at the start of the count to form a circle that will shrink onto the first one—then let it go when the circles align. If you're close to matching them up, you'll get a Good rating and a slight ring effect; if you're exact you'll get a Perfect rating for a more powerful effect. It's pretty hard to miss completely and get a Bad rating, which results in no bonus at all—the most common reason for missing is simply forgetting who was attacking during the round.

Another important element of ring usage is swapping them in battle, which will be covered in detail later in this section.

CHARACTER SKILLS

Just as the way characters dress or speak defines their personality, skills define how they behave in combat. Skills serve all kinds of functions, such as granting physical or magical powers to party members or bestowing them with the ability to steal items from their enemy. Not all skills provide characters with moves that they can perform manually during battle; in fact, most skills improve your characters automatically. Battles are the exclusive domain of skills—you'll never be able to use them outside of combat, even to heal a wounded ally.

Skills operate a lot like spells: you can use only one per turn, and they draw from the same pool of available MP as spells do. Skills are not necessarily reliant on a member's natural magical ability, however—the power of skills such as Combo and Power Hit depend on a character's physical strength, for example. Skills have varying degrees of effectiveness, and like spells, the ones you acquire later in the game tend to be much more powerful than the ones you have toward the beginning.

Cooke's Prayer skill can heal a party member without consuming MP. It's not very strong, but at lower levels it's invaluable.

Some skills grant their effect automatically, while others, like Jansen's Steal, must be selected from the Skill menu.

With skills you can create powerful combinations. For example, you can use Taunt to draw enemy attacks to a character with the Counter skill, who can then perform counterattacks.

LEARNING SKILLS

Skills are the primary factor in differentiating mortal from immortal characters. For mortals, learning new skills is rather simple: they learn them as they gain levels, and they can equip accessories to add new skills, as well. They can never forget any of the skills they have learned (except for skills they know due only to an equipped accessory). Pretty much everything a mortal knows how to do except attack and defend comes from a skill—even the ability to cast spells is considered a skill. For immortals, learning skills is a more involved process, detailed next.

SKILL LINKING

Immortals do not gain any skills on their own. Instead they must learn the skills from their mortal allies through Skill Linking. An immortal can link to any skill that a mortal already knows; the immortal will be able to use that skill after learning it and assigning it to a skill slot. For an immortal to truly learn the skill, he'll have to go into battle with the mortal whose skill he's linked with. (Skill Linking doesn't affect the mortal in any way.)

Additionally, immortals can learn skills from accessories in the same way they learn them from a mortal. When an immortal equips an item, the character will slowly gain the knowledge to learn how to use that item. Skills have SP (Skill Points, which are akin to Experience Points). You must earn enough SP in battle for the immortal to fully know the skill he's trying to learn.

Immortals can pick and choose their skills arsenal by establishing Skill Links with their mortal allies. Since they can select from numerous skills amongst numerous mortal allies, their options are many.

Immortals can use the skills contained within accessories as they're learning them, but they must learn a Skill Linked skill completely before they can use it themselves.

ASSIGNING SKILLS

Once an immortal has earned enough SP to learn a given skill, the process for equipping the skill is only half over. You must then assign the skill to one of the character's skill slots. Since you can equip only as many skills as you have slots (and immortals will learn far more skills than they have room for), skill slots are extraordinarily important. To increase the number of skill slots an immortal has, you must find Slot Seeds—rare and valuable items that are strewn across the world. There are 48 Slot Seeds in all—enough to give each immortal character 12 of them.

MAGIC

Magic is vital to your combat strategy, but the scale of the magic system can be overwhelming. Spells serve a number of purposes, particularly causing damage and status effects, and healing and protecting party members. Many spells perform the same function, but to varying degrees of effectiveness—choosing the right spell for the occasion is of paramount importance. Like the other aspects of a character's growth, spells will become stronger as your team gains power. But it won't matter how many spells you've learned if you don't know how to use them wisely.

There are three main classes of spells: White Magic, Black Magic, and Spirit Magic. White Magic involves mostly healing and status-recovery spells, but there are effective attack spells, such as Shine, as well. Black Magic spells are offensive for the most part, with an emphasis on elemental and status attacks. The wild-card spell group is Spirit Magic, which includes an eclectic mixture of offensive, defensive, and support spells. It takes a while to see how Spirit Magic spells can integrate into your battle strategy, but they can become effective tools once you understand their value. Mortal characters tend to be proficient in only one type of magic—Mack is a specialist in Spirit Magic, for example.

The Spirit Magic spell Gamble does random damage against a single enemy—sometimes it does a devastating amount of damage, and sometimes... not so much.

COMPOSITE MAGIC

There's a fourth type of spell that isn't exactly a class on its own: Composite Magic gives spellcasters the ability to combine two spells that they already know into one greater force. For example, if a caster knows the Spirit Magic spell Shadow and the Black Magic spell Aqua, he can cast All-Aqua, which is the equivalent of casting Aqua on every foe he's facing. Like the other spell classes, Composite Magic has multiple levels of proficiency— even if you know the two spells that go into making a composite spell, you must have the necessary skill level to cast it. Composite Magic tends to work best for immortal characters, who can learn multiple groupings of spells relatively easily.

LEARNING SPELLS

Spell levels are essentially skills, and are learned the same way—mortals earn the ability to cast more-powerful spells as they gain levels, and immortals learn spell levels from Skill Linking. Each spell level provides the ability to learn four spells, but you'll know only two of them automatically. The other two are found as items somewhere in the game. The good news is that everyone in your party uses the same Spell Book, so if you find a spell, everyone who knows the skill for its level will be able to use it right away.

WHITE MAGIC SPELLS EARNED AUTOMATICALLY

LV1	HEAL	CURE POISON
LV2	ZEPHYR	CURE PARALYSIS
LV3	COVER	CURE SEAL
LV4	HEALA	CURE PETRIFY
LV5	ZEPHYRA	CURE-ALL
LV6	COVERA	REVIVE

LV3	SPEEDA	SLOWER
LV4	SHADOWA	FEAR
LV5	POWERUS	MINDUS
LV6	FASTER	DELAY
LV7	SHADOWUS	RANDOM
LV8	ALL-POWERUS	ALL-MINDUS

Frequently you'll learn spells that are the more-powerful equivalents of spells you already know. For example, Zephyr and Zephyra both heal your entire party, but Zephyra restores about four times as much HP per character. It costs more to cast, but it's much more convenient to use Zephyra once than Zephyr three or four times.

Immortals can learn spells either via Skill Linking or by wearing accessories that teach them the spell (just as they can with other skills). Learning a spell level means that you'll also learn all the spell levels below it—for example, if a character learns Level 5 Black Magic, she will also gain the knowledge of levels 1 through 4. Note that to earn the achievement that comes with Kaim learning every skill, he'll have to learn each skill at every level—it's not good enough to teach him only the highest level of magic.

Most of your characters can cast spells at one point or another, but some characters are better suited to it than others. Pay attention to each character's Magic Attack stat and maximum MP to determine the best candidate for taking on primary spellcasting duties.

MP

Each spell costs a certain amount of MP to cast; typically, the more powerful the spell the more it costs to cast. Try to use the spell that best suits your situation—don't use the strongest spell in your arsenal if a weaker spell will get the job done. And remember that skills and spells draw from the same pool of MP, so plan your spellcasting strategy accordingly.

CASTING TIME

Every spell requires a certain amount of time to cast, and that duration is sometimes longer than one turn. In general, you can tell which spells take the longest by seeing how many allies or foes the spells affect: spells that deal damage to an entire batch of enemies at once tend to take at least two turns to pull off, while single-target spells are much quicker.

You can get a rough idea of when in the turn a spell will be cast by looking at its casting speed—a number and a letter that tell you when your spell command will be executed. The number represents how many turns must pass before the spell gets cast. The letter in the casting time indicates when within the turn a spell will be cast, with S spells going off earliest, followed by A through H. For example, if you cast a spell with a 2-G casting time, you must wait one full turn, and on the next turn you will execute the spell. The farther through the alphabet the letter is, the later it will go off during the turn.

You can change your mind if you choose to not continue to cast a multiturn spell—after every turn, you have the option to take a different action. A lot can change over the course of a single turn, and your original plans might not be optimal. In that case, cancel the spell and change direction to better serve your needs.

For spells that take longer than one round to execute, the spellcaster's icon in the turn-order queue will display the number of remaining rounds.

If the rest of your party has trimmed away a good number of enemies, there's no need to cast a group spell when a single-enemy spell will be just as effective.

MODIFYING CASTING TIME

There are a number of ways to modify when a spell will be cast. Certain accessories will accelerate the process, as will some skills. These modifiers can make a big difference—many spells that would take two rounds to cast will be shortened to one round, allowing you to get off a power spell when you need it the most.

You can hasten your own casting speed with the Concentrate skill.

The time it takes to cast a spell may be delayed if an enemy attacks in midspell. If you get hit before you can get your spell off, occasionally it will push the execution back a full turn. The upside is that spell delays don't affect only you—if you suspect a monster will cast a spell, you can focus your attacks on that monster in an effort to delay the spell's execution. Some skills and items minimize the likelihood of your spells getting delayed, as well as increase the chances of delaying a monster's spellcasting. Your Guard Condition also affects the likelihood of a spell being interrupted, as detailed under "The Guard Condition" later in this section.

Spells affecting an entire group usually take more than one round to execute.

USING HEALING SPELLS

Most spells are designed strictly for use within battle, but you can use HP-restoring spells outside of combat. Any member of your group can cast healing spells—even those who are not in active formation. Use your reserve members' MP first when healing your party, and save your active players' MP for the battlefield. You don't need to worry about spells that cure status ailments, because all status ailments are expunged automatically at the end of every fight.

Restore the HP of your entire party with Zephyr—it's much cheaper MP-wise than using Heal.

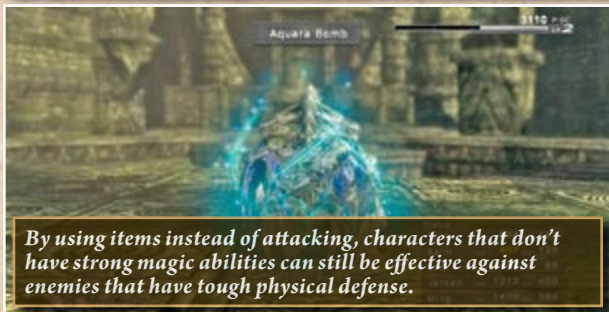

USING ITEMS IN COMBAT

Using items in lieu of performing other actions in battle has advantages and disadvantages. The big advantage is that using an item is usually the first thing that happens during a round, even before melee attacks. If you're concerned that one more hit will take down an ally, it's better to use an item to heal him than to wait for a spell to do it (which would force you to weather an entire round of attacks). Items can also take the place of spells when you're low on MP or you've been hit with a status ailment that prevents spellcasting. In such instances, items can be a good option in a push to end a battle—especially elemental items that have the same effect as spells (such as a Ground Bomb, which is the equivalent of a Ground spell).

On the other hand, the ability to use items is limited to items in your inventory. You won't find merchants inside dungeons, so conserve items until you really need them. Money is never hard to come by; don't hesitate to stock up on restorative items before you enter a new area.

You'll be able to get items that heal status ailments long before you'll learn the equivalent spell.

By using items instead of attacking, characters that don't have strong magic abilities can still be effective against enemies that have tough physical defense.

ANGEL'S PLUMES

YOU MAY BE TEMPTED TO PURCHASE A BUNCH OF ANGEL'S PLUMES IN CASE YOU NEED TO RESURRECT YOUR FALLEN COMRADES, BUT THERE ARE A FEW BIG CAVEATS ABOUT THAT APPROACH. FIRST, ANGEL'S PLUMES DON'T GIVE YOUR PARTY MEMBERS MUCH HP TO GET YOU BACK ON YOUR FEET—MORE OFTEN THAN NOT, YOU'LL GET KNOCKED DOWN AS SOON AS YOU STAND UP.

SECOND, IMMORTAL CHARACTERS COME BACK TO LIFE ON THEIR OWN AFTER TWO TURNS (THEY ARE IMMORTAL, AFTER ALL), AND WHEN THEY RETURN THEY'LL BE GIVEN MORE HP THAN WHAT AN ANGEL'S PLUME PROVIDES. THE BEST TIME TO USE ANGEL'S PLUMES IS TOWARD THE END OF A BATTLE, AS ONLY THE SURVIVING (AND NON-PETRIFIED) MEMBERS WILL EARN EXPERIENCE.

AFTER YOU GAIN THE DOUBLE ITEM SKILL, WHICH LETS YOU USE TWO ITEMS CONSECUTIVELY, ANGEL'S PLUMES BECOME MORE EFFECTIVE BECAUSE YOU CAN RESURRECT MULTIPLE CHARACTERS, INCREASING THE ODDS THAT ONE WILL SURVIVE. FINALLY, AT THE END OF BATTLE ALL CHARACTERS COME BACK TO LIFE (AS WELL AS LOSE ALL STATUS AILMENTS)—SO YOU WON'T NEED TO USE ANGEL'S PLUMES OUTSIDE OF COMBAT.

Yes! He's back in the fight! And... down he goes again.

If you're going to use an Angel's Plume, save it for the mortals. Immortals will come back to life on their own.

TEAM POSITIONING

How your party members are placed during battle can have a significant effect on your team's performance. Team positioning is largely intuitive, but there are some key aspects you should be conscious of.

You are permitted to have only five active members in your battle formation—the rest of your party will have to watch from the sidelines. You can distribute your party members between the front and back row any way you please. The best strategy is to put your stronger melee attackers in the front row and your magic users in the back. Your heavy hitters don't get an advantage for being closer to the action, but their higher Defense and HP serves to protect the entire party because of the Guard Condition system.

Jansen might not like being stuck behind a girl, but Seth's high HP will save his life more often than he'd like to admit.

1

THE GUARD CONDITION

The Guard Condition (GC) system protects the back line of your party from taking as much damage as the front line.

When your GC is high, attacks against the back line will suffer far less damage than the same attacks against the front line—this goes for spells as well as melee hits. As a result, it's best to put characters with weaker defense in the back row to preserve their lives.

The starting strength of the GC is determined by the total combined HP of the characters in the front row, so you'll want to enter every battle with your front-row fighters at or near full HP. As your front row takes damage, the GC wears down. The more the GC deteriorates, the more susceptible to damage your back line becomes. The GC wears down in increments from 4 to 0—a full GC is at level 4 and gradually wears down to 0 as you take damage. Your GC falls every time your party gets hit, but the inverse isn't true—healing characters doesn't restore GC. You can restore GC in other ways—via certain skills, for example.

In short battles, GC isn't much of a factor because the battles are usually over before it can make any difference. However, it's important to keep your GC up in long, drawn-out battles so that your back row doesn't get battered by attack after attack.

Your GC level also has an effect on casting interference—the likelihood of a spell getting delayed in midcast will increase as the party's GC dwindles.

Guard Condition applies not only to attacks and spells, but also to damage-causing status ailments.

Enemies understand GC—your front line will be targeted more heavily early in battle.

The skill Wall (and its stronger variants Walla and Wallus) will replenish lost GC.

HOW GC AFFECTS FORMATION CHANGES

Outside of battle you can adjust your formation as much as you please. But once you get into battle it's not so easy. To move a character from one row to another, you must use that player's turn, and he won't be able to do anything else during that time. When you change a player's position, the GC will adjust accordingly—move a character to the back row and you'll lose GC; move a character forward and you will gain GC.

PETRIFICATION

THE STATUS AILMENT PETRIFICATION HAS A UNIQUE EFFECT ON YOUR GC. WHEN A CHARACTER IS PETRIFIED, YOU'LL LOSE GC EQUAL TO ALL THE REMAINING HP OF THE AFFLICTED PLAYER. HOWEVER, IF YOU TREAT THE AILMENT DURING BATTLE, THE GC WILL RETURN IN FULL.

ENEMY GC

Enemy GC works exactly the same as party GC—to hit a back row of enemies effectively you should first wear down their front row. Quite often, the enemies will align similar to how you would, putting the high-magic, weak-defense fighters in the back row. You don't have to completely wipe out the enemy's GC before turning your attention to a back-row foe—just beat up on the front row until the GC is whittled down enough to make your shots felt. Also, remember that your melee attacks will typically come first—you can cast spells effectively on the back row of enemies at a battle's onset if you target your fighters at the front row. Of course, you can't always tell at a glance which enemy is in which row—check the diagram under an enemy's name when you target it to verify its position.

As soon as you can do any real damage, pounce on back-row enemies.

When all the enemies are on the same row, the Enemy GC meter doesn't appear.

SWAPPING EQUIPMENT IN BATTLE

Your characters can utilize an incredible combination of weapons, rings, and accessories, each of which serves a different purpose. You can change your equipment any time you want, even in the midst of a battle, without penalty—it won't cost your characters a turn.

The value of swapping out items in midbattle cannot be understated—it is one of the most important techniques you can employ. If you get into battle against a Fire-type foe, equip a Water-type ring to deal extra damage. If you want to see if an enemy is carrying a rare item, equip the Treasure Glasses accessory and see what the enemy is holding, then switch back to a more combat-oriented accessory. You can even steal an item from an enemy, and equip it during the same battle!

Some items will change the appearance of the character that wears them. It doesn't make any difference gameplay-wise, but when the camera passes over Kaim wearing cute little Mimint Ears, it's worth a chuckle.

WEAPONS

Your party can use a host of weapons in battle. Weapons don't possess any special powers—a weapon's only value is how hard it hits. You won't need to change your weapon often—just equip the most powerful weapon a character can use. Most of the members of your party have only a small selection of weapons that they are allowed to use—Mack can use only discus-shaped weapons, for example. Some characters eventually learn skills that allow them to share the ability to wield their specific weapons with other players, however. If an immortal learns Jansen's Black Staff skill, for instance, she can then use all of his weapons in battle, too.

You can usually buy more-powerful weapons at the shops in each town, but the most powerful weapons in the game can be found in the wild—keep your ears open for side quests and special missions, which frequently provide new equipment as rewards.

RINGS

You learned about rings in an earlier section, but they deserve emphasis here—you stand to gain the most by swapping out rings during battle as the need arises. Every enemy has a weakness, and the more rings you have, the more you can take advantage of the weakness by equipping suitable rings. You'll find a good number of ring components by searching your environment, but if you really want to get good stuff, steal from enemies early and often. (There are even rings that can help you steal more often and more effectively.) The rings that you can't make by yourself (those that you'll either need to find or have created) tend to be the best in the game, giving the attacker an array of different bonuses for any situation.

Accessories provide mortals and immortals alike with skills. Like rings, you can usually wear only one at a time, although later in the game you'll be able to equip multiple accessories simultaneously.

Similar to Skill Linking with mortals, immortals can learn an accessory's attached skill by wearing it until they've garnered enough SP. But since they also have to equip the skill they've learned for it to be in effect (which takes up a precious slot in their skill list), there are times when you may want to keep the accessory equipped even after an immortal has learned the skill from it, simply to save yourself a skill slot.

Mortals can't learn skills from accessories as immortals can—they must have the accessory equipped to reap its benefits. There's no advantage to having the same skill linked twice; Jansen doesn't benefit from having the Thief's Bracelet equipped since he already knows the Steal skill, for example. The same goes for immortals—if you choose to assign the learned skill in a skill slot, it's best to equip a different accessory right away.

To create extremely well-rounded immortal characters, rotate accessories among them so each immortal can learn all of the skills the accessories can provide.

DEFENDING AND FLEEING

When you defend, you forgo any offensive action in favor of protecting yourself for the round. It makes a significant difference in how much damage you'll take, but usually you should defend only when you have no other effective option in battle—for the most part, your best defense is a good offense. Besides, the defending player might not even be targeted, which negates the whole point of defending.

Some skills make defending a much more valuable tool in battle. One of the most effective is the Relax skill, which will restore a significant amount of MP when you defend. Give it to one of your back-row spellcasters and defend when you get into an easy battle.

When all else fails and it appears your chances of winning the battle are slim, you can try to escape from the battle by pressing left from the character's battle menu and selecting Flee. If you flee, you won't earn any experience, gold, or other spoils like you do when you win a battle. Additionally, your flee attempt might fail—you might not be allowed to escape and you could lose your chance of doing anything else. If the situation is particularly dire, try to flee with multiple characters to improve your chances of escaping. Once you get the skill Turn-Tail, try to always have one member of your party equip it—it guarantees your ability to flee every time.

It sounds counterintuitive, but it's best to defend when the going gets easy, using the opportunity to heal your characters via skills.

If you're getting really banged up, the Turn-Tail skill is your friend. Just remember to heal before you wander into another battle.

STATUS AILMENTS

In addition to taking physical damage, your characters and enemies alike are susceptible to status ailments. Status ailments adversely affect performance in battle by preventing the target from casting spells or by putting him to sleep. Status ailments aren't guaranteed—if you're targeted for Paralysis, there's a decent chance it will fail. The duration of status ailments also varies—sometimes a status ailment will last only one turn, and other times it will last multiple turns. Some status ailments persist until you take care of them through spells or items, or until the battle is over. (In all cases, status ailments are wiped away after the battle is over—even death is reversed at the end of battle.)

You can protect yourself from status ailments by using skills that provide resistance, limit how often you get afflicted, or prevent you from receiving the status ailment at all. Some enemies (particularly bosses) have immunities to status ailments, as well—experiment with a variety of ailments to figure out what works against an enemy and what doesn't.

MONSTER TYPES AND ELEMENTS

As diverse as your combat repertoire is, the monsters you'll face are even more varied. Monsters have both types and elements that denote their strengths and weaknesses. No single action in your arsenal is guaranteed to work against every monster—you must make wise decisions and attack a monster's weaknesses if you want to be victorious.

MONSTER TYPES

Monster types describe some physical aspect of your foe, such as Hardened or Organic. Some monster types are helpful in determining how you should attack them; for example, Hardened types are tough to hit with physical attacks. You can also get an idea for how they'll attack you—you can be sure that Spirit Magic enemies are inclined to cast Spirit Magic. You can't tell what type a monster is by default—the skill Factual Analysis will reveal its type (and its element, discussed next). However, you can often tell what type a monster is by its appearance—birdlike creatures are typically Aerial types, and robotic-looking foes are Mechanical types, for example.

You can deal extra damage against monsters of certain types by equipping type-specific rings. Since you can swap out rings during battle without burning a turn, you can give yourself an advantage for virtually every attack you launch. That means you'll need to have the appropriate ring in your inventory when you go into a battle, so be sure to make at least one of every type of ring that you can.

There are rare monsters that have multiple types, and thus multiple weaknesses.

Equip the right ring for each situation—wear the Jamming Ring to knock out mechanical enemies, for instance.

ELEMENTS

In addition to types, some enemies are branded with elements. There are only four elements, and they work in a rock-paper-scissors fashion—each element is vulnerable to a different element and strong against another. Elemental enemies are easier to fight than enemies that have no element, as there are magic attacks that will do elemental damage in addition to your ring enhancements. Though an elemental attack won't do as much damage against a non-elemental enemy as against an elemental foe, they do work. There's no need to save your elemental spells for elemental enemies only.

Elemental spells are effective against non-elemental foes, too. The spells affect all non-elemental enemies the same way since there's no elemental matchup to factor in.

BATTLE REWARDS

All this combat has its rewards. Most importantly, combat provides experience that will raise your characters' levels. Going up a level not only raises your stats, but also allows your mortals to earn new skills at regular intervals. When you go to a new location, you'll typically gain levels quickly until you reach the ideal level for that area. But if you're higher-level than you should be for a given area, you'll earn only 1 Experience Point per battle, making it impractical to level up by picking unnecessary fights.

You'll also earn SP after each battle—usually equivalent to how many enemies you fought. This does not scale the way Experience Points do, so you can grind to earn SP. Additionally you'll earn gold, plus items chosen at random from enemies' Dropped Item lists (which you can see with the Treasure Glasses or the Treasure Analysis skill). These items are almost always ring components.

THE HIGHLANDS OF WOHL

LOST ODYSSEY BEGINS WITH KAIM AT THE CENTER OF AN ALL-OUT WAR BETWEEN THE NATIONS OF KHENT AND UHRA. EVEN KAIM MAY NOT BE ENTIRELY SURE HOW HE GOT THERE, OR WHY, BUT THAT WON'T STOP HIM FROM LAYING WASTE TO ANY KHENT SOLDIER FOOLISH ENOUGH TO STAND IN HIS WAY. HOWEVER, THERE MAY BE DEADLIER THINGS THAN KAIM TO HIT THIS BATTLEFIELD. . .

THE MIGHT OF AN IMMORTAL

There are two phases to Lost Odyssey's opening battle. In the first, Kaim is surrounded by an army of soldiers who are too weak to break through his defenses. You can pick any target you like, and there's no need to worry about defending or using items.

But when the soldiers realize just how screwed they are, they'll call in a Heavy Tank that is more than capable of pounding Kaim into a pool of blood, bone chips, and dangling forelocks. To defeat it, you'll need to alternate between targeting its Right Unit and Left Unit. Whichever one you hit will raise a shield to defend against your next attack, so don't ever target the same one twice in a row. You should have just enough health to destroy both units and hit the tank's Magic Engine for the killing blow, but if you want to fight conservatively, you can defend to reduce the damage of the raised-arm Blade Attack and heal yourself with Kaim's supply of Healing Medicines.

2

BASHING SOLDIERS WITH THE BRUISER RING

After the meteor impact, Kaim finds himself in the Hypocenter area of the Highlands. The area is littered with the shattered husks of Khent war machines, which Kaim can smash apart with a tap of the A button. You'll find items in the debris, including a Bruiser Ring that Kaim will equip automatically.

- A. Healing Medicine
- B. Bruiser Ring
- C. Angel's Plume
- D. Mana Herb
- E. Name Plate

EDGE OF WASTELAND

- A. Healing Medicine
- B. Mana Herb

When Kaim attacks with a ring equipped, a white circle will appear, and if you hold down the right trigger and release it just as the circle aligns with the target reticule on the foe, you'll activate the ring's ability (in this case, dealing additional damage). The Insane Khent Soldiers that wander the Highlands offer a good opportunity to practice your timing, but the results don't matter much; even if you fail to activate your ring, you should deal more than enough damage to kill them with a single hit.

After you pass the save point in the Gorge, you'll meet two friendly soldiers who will offer a free ride back to Uhra. Before you take them up on it, backtrack toward the entrance of the map since the soldiers lead you right past two treasure-filled crates. Then open the two treasure boxes in the camp, talk to the other survivors, and hop into an armored car when you're ready to move on. While in the car, talk to fellow survivor Seth to advance to the next event.

THE MAGIC REPUBLIC OF UHRA

THE COUNCIL WISHES TO SPEAK TO A SURVIVOR, SO GUARDS HAVE BEEN SENT TO ESCORT KAIM TO AN AUDIENCE WITH THE ELECTED RULERS OF UHRA. IN THE TIME BETWEEN THAT MEETING AND HIS NEXT ASSIGNMENT, KAIM CAN GATHER VALUABLE ITEMS, MEET NEW COMPANIONS, AND EVEN RECALL A FEW FRAGMENTS OF HIS PAST.

THERE'S ALWAYS TIME TO LOOT

The Council can wait—there are garbage cans that need kicking! Before following the guards into the station, run back to the guard tower near the entrance to the Great Gate area, and climb the ladder. Kick the garbage can on top to reveal the first of 99 hidden Seeds, which can be traded to Pipots for valuable items. Four more trash cans await near the entrance to the tower, and the loot includes the first of three Magma Fragments you'll need to make a Flame Ring.

THE MYSTERY OF THE MISSING HELMET

You'll meet Colen on the ground floor of the tower, near the central elevator. He'll explain that one of the soldiers lost his helmet after an elevator ride. When you ride the elevator yourself, keep your eyes peeled, and you'll see one of those strange gold helmets stuck on the elevator rigging to the right of Kaim. Before following the guards into the station, ride the elevator back down, then press the A button to ram the rigging and send the helmet crashing down. Return it to Colen for an Antidote Brooch, a very important accessory that can teach Kaim the Anti-Poison skill.

PEELING POSTERS FOR TREASURE

Whenever you see a poster that has a corner blowing in the wind, you can peel it back to reveal a hidden item. There are five such posters in the monorail station, concealing quite a bit of money and a second Seed, so make sure you find them all before you hop onto the train at the east end of the station.

You'll exit the monorail on the second floor of the Central Station, where you'll find a Cold Water Stone in a trash can and an Engraved Ring sparkling on the station floor. Take that ring downstairs to the lost-and-found counter (on the west side of the station), and the attendant will reward you with a Cure-All. Continue into the Central Station Square, where you'll notice several black objects that look like kettles. You'll find items in these, as well as in the usual posters and trash cans.

KAIM'S NEW ASSIGNMENT

When you exit east from the Central Station Square, the guards will escort you through Main Street and into the council building. There you'll be given your next assignment: Investigate the Grand Staff construction site with fellow immortal Seth Balmore. While they round her up, you're free to explore Uhra, or head straight to Tolsan's Inn for a comped night's stay. Before you slumber, make sure to scour the posters, vases, and garbage cans for 10 hidden items in the Main Street area, and to stop in to Virno's Tavern to ogle the lovely Rinella.

You can view it now, or skip it and watch it later in the game (you can select it from the title screen or from the menu that appears when Kaim rests in a bed). When you finish watching it, you'll earn a 20G achievement. If only all literature worked that way!

If that little taste of Kaim's backstory left you hungry for more, visit the tavern to the southwest and approach the bar. After a conversation with the soldier there, Kaim will remember a second dream, "A Hero's Return." Exit the tavern, come back in, and head upstairs to unlock the third dream "In the Mind of a Captive." Still not enough? Leave the tavern and reenter, then approach the father and son at the bar to unlock yet another dream, "A Mother Comes Home."

WHITE FLOWERS AND A GRIEVING MOTHER

If you haven't met Jansen yet and received the summons from Gongora, venture south down Main Street after your first night's stay at the inn. After that event, you'll need to head north through the Residential Area to find Gongora's Mansion. Be sure to stop and talk to the moms on the playground benches to trigger two events. The first is a new dream, "White Flowers." Don't miss it!

On the next bench over, you'll find a mother who lost her son in the Highlands battle. Give her the Name Plate you found there, and she'll reward you with a pair of Poison Oils. They're of no use by themselves, but they'll put you halfway toward making the Poison Ring.

KAIM, MASTER RINGSMITH

THE POSTER AT POINT B IN THE RESIDENTIAL AREA CONCEALS WHAT SHOULD BE YOUR THIRD MAGMA FRAGMENT. THAT'S THE LAST ONE YOU NEED TO CRAFT THE FLAME RING AND EARN THE 30G RING ASSEMBLER ACHIEVEMENT. BUT DON'T EQUIP IT QUITE YET; THE BRUISER RING IS MORE GENERALLY USEFUL, AND YOU CAN ALWAYS CHANGE RINGS AT THE BEGINNING OF EACH TURN DURING COMBAT (WITHOUT WASTING YOUR TURN) WHEN YOU RUN INTO A WIND-TYPE FOE THAT WOULD BE PARTICULARLY VULNERABLE TO FIRE.

2

AN AUDIENCE WITH GONGORA

Continue north through the Residential Area, where you'll find Gongora's lavish mansion.

When you speak to the guards, you'll be asked to step aside until Tolten leaves, and then you'll be ushered into the building. Make your way to the Magic Research Lab at the center of the mansion, kick over a few trash cans, and then ride the elevator in the northwest corner to Gongora's study. You'll find Jansen already waiting.

RAIDING GONGORA'S TREASURE STORES

After you meet with the councilman, his masked attendants will offer you anything you like from his treasury, which really takes all the fun out of stealing it. Head north from the Magic Research Lab and hit the three treasure boxes, which contain a number of useful accessories. Before you leave, step between the two chests to the left, grab the wooden crate with the A button, and pull it toward the chests. You can then slip behind it to discover a fourth chest full of Magma Fragments.

ONE FINAL DREAM, ONE FINAL TREASURE

You'll run into Seth on your way back to Main Street, and the message left for you at the inn will confirm her claims. To return to the Great Gate, you can take either a cab or the monorail. Dream-seekers should opt for the latter; Kaim will remember the "Little Liar" dream when he runs into a father and daughter sitting on the benches at the upper floor of the Central Square Station. The monorail to the Great Gate departs directly across from them.

4

When you take the elevator down the Great Gate tower, stop to speak to the guard at the ground level. He'll ask for your help controlling the elevators that run along the east side of the tunnel, and give you three levers to pull. To line them up, pull the levers in A, C, B, A, A order. You can then take the elevators yourself to a treasure chest with a Platinum Gauntlet accessory.

5

MEET UP AND HIT THE ROAD

Kaim will find Seth waiting in front of the Great Gate, and Jansen and his entourage will join you soon after that. As your merry party heads toward the open road, Barkus (the long-absent owner of the weapon shop) will drive up to meet you. He's off to reopen his shop in town, but he'll give you a crack at his wares first. You can buy plenty of bombs and recovery items for your journey, but the only new accessory is the Thief's Bracelet, and since your immortals can learn Steal from Jansen, it isn't a necessary purchase.

THE IPSILON MOUNTAINS

TO REACH GRAND STAFF FROM UHRA, KAIM'S PARTY WILL HAVE TO CROSS THE TREACHEROUS IPSILON MOUNTAINS. IT'S A TOUGH ROAD, BUT YOUR PARTY IS IMMORTAL—AT LEAST, MOST OF ITS MEMBERS ARE. MORTAL JANSEN HAS ONLY A FRACTION OF THE STRENGTH OF KAIM AND SETH, SO THEY'LL NEED TO WORK HARD TO KEEP HIM ALIVE.

THE LONG ROAD TO SKILL MASTERY

BEFORE YOU TAKE THE FIRST STEP OF YOUR JOURNEY, MAKE SURE THAT KAIM AND SETH HAVE EACH EQUIPPED AN ACCESSORY AND LINKED TO ONE OF JANSEN'S SKILLS. ON THE HARD ROAD TO COME, EACH HERO WILL WANT ACCESS TO JANSEN'S WHITE MAGIC LV1 FOR BETWEEN-BATTLE HEALING, SO MAKE THAT YOUR FIRST PRIORITY. WHEN AN IMMORTAL FIRST LEARNS A SKILL FROM JANSEN, YOU'LL UNLOCK THE SKILL LINKER ACHIEVEMENT—LET THAT BE A REMINDER TO EQUIP YOUR NEW SKILL WITH THE SET COMMAND IN THE SKILL MENU. SKILLS FROM ACCESSORIES TYPICALLY TAKE LONGER TO LEARN, SO GET AN EARLY START ON ANTI-POISON FROM THE ANTIDOTE BROOCH AND GUARD HEAL FROM THE PLATINUM GAUNTLET, AS BOTH WILL BE USEFUL IN THE BOSS BATTLE TO COME.

RAMMING TREES AND PROBING POTS

There is a lot of great treasure on this map, but you'll need to be extremely thorough to find it. Be sure to approach each tree and attempt to ram it with the A button, as the trees often contain Seeds and ring-assembly components. You'll also find a few pots and even a treasure chest, which contain several excellent bits of loot: a Ground spell that will now be available to anyone with Black Magic Lv1, a Knight's Code accessory, and best of all, the first Slot Seed. Slot Seeds increase the number of slots an immortal has for equipping skills, and while the first seed is of no immediate use, it will be invaluable when your skill lists begin to fill up. Split the Slot Seeds you find evenly between Kaim and Seth.

THE FIRST TASTE OF REAL COMBAT

The monsters you'll face here can wear you down (particularly the Ground-casting Diacorns), so be sure to keep your health up. As a general rule, target only front-line foes (you'll see either "Front" or "Back" highlighted beneath a foe's name when you target it), and concentrate on culling your enemies' numbers quickly. Kaim should be able to kill a Dagger Bird with one hit if you can score a Good or Perfect with a ring, while the slightly weaker Seth should stick to targeting the more-feeble Kelolons. Jansen will gain plenty of MP as he levels up, so he can afford to use Black Magic spells liberally.

Practice the timing of your ring attacks, and aim for Perfects even when you don't need the damage boost. You'll unlock the Perfect Three achievement if you can score three Perfects in a row.

When your foes are at the brink of defeat, have a few of your characters use the Steal skill instead of attacking. Stealing has a low success rate, but it's a good way to build up your inventory of ring-assembly components.

DETERMINING ENEMIES' ELEMENTAL WEAKNESSES

YOU CAN LEARN THE FACTUAL ANALYSIS SKILL FROM THE HAWK EYE ACCESSORY OR LINK IT FROM JANSEN, WHO LEARNS IT AT LEVEL 13. WHILE ANY PARTY MEMBER HAS FACTUAL ANALYSIS EQUIPPED, YOU'LL BE ABLE TO SEE EACH FOE'S ELEMENTAL TYPE WHEN YOU TARGET IT. FROM THAT, YOU CAN FIGURE OUT THEIR WEAKNESS: EARTH-TYPE FOES ARE WEAK TO WIND, WIND-TYPE FOES ARE WEAK TO FIRE, FIRE-TYPE FOES ARE WEAK TO WATER, AND WATER-TYPE FOES ARE WEAK TO EARTH. HAVING JANSEN CAST WIND SPELLS AGAINST EARTH-TYPE DIACORNS IS A GOOD WAY TO QUICKLY ELIMINATE THE STRONGEST FOE IN MOST ENEMY PARTIES.

BOSS PREP

THE COMBINATION OF GUARD HEAL AND STAND READY WILL ALLOW SETH AND KAIM TO RECOVER SMALL AMOUNTS OF BOTH THEIR OWN HEALTH AND THE PARTY'S GUARD CONDITION, WHICH IS ESSENTIAL IN THIS FIGHT. WHEN YOUR IMMORTALS ARE FREE TO ATTACK, THEY CAN GET IN A LITTLE BIT OF EXTRA DAMAGE BY WEARING FLAME RINGS—YOU SHOULD HAVE MORE THAN ENOUGH MAGMA FRAGMENTS TO MAKE TWO OF THEM. IF YOU'VE FOUND ANY POWER DRINKS ON THE WAY HERE, CONSIDER CRACKING ONE OPEN TO SIGNIFICANTLY BOOST KAIM'S ATTACK STRENGTH FOR THIS FIGHT.

BOSS TACTICS

GRILGAN IS ONE OF THE TOUGHEST FIRST BOSSES YOU'LL EVER MEET, BUT YOU'LL BE REWARDED FOR YOUR TRIAL WITH A DROPPED SLOT SEED, SO IT'S WORTH TAKING A BEATING. THERE'S AN AUTOSAVE CHECKPOINT RIGHT BEFORE THE BOSS, SO DON'T WORRY IF YOU CAN'T GET THE JOB DONE ON YOUR FIRST TRY.

IT'LL BE MOSTLY UP TO JANSEN TO DO THE BRUNT OF THE WORK BY REPEATEDLY CASTING FLARE (KAIM CAN PROVIDE VALUABLE ASSISTANCE IF HE HAS BEEN FORTIFIED WITH A POWER DRINK). IT'S EVERYONE ELSE'S JOB TO KEEP JANSEN ALIVE, WHICH MEANS MAINTAINING A GUARD CONDITION OF LEVEL 3 OR 4 AT ALL COSTS. IT'S TOUGH TO RECOVER FROM A LOSING FIGHT; IF YOU LET JANSEN DIE, THE BOSS WILL LIKELY JUST KEEP KILLING HIM WHILE YOU BURN THROUGH YOUR STOCK OF ANGEL'S PLUMES. TO AVOID THAT SITUATION, IF SETH'S AND/OR KAIM'S GUARD CONDITION TAKES A SERIOUS HIT, RESTORE IT BY DEFENDING TO TRIGGER THE GUARD HEAL AND STAND READY SKILLS.

GRILGAN'S DEADLIEST ATTACK IS DOWNBURST, WHICH DAMAGES EVERYONE HEAVILY, AND IF THE BOSS USES IT MULTIPLE TIMES IN A ROW, THERE'S ALMOST NO WAY YOU CAN WIN. YOUR HEALING ITEMS AND SPELLS ARE SIMPLY TOO WEAK TO TURN A LOSING BATTLE AROUND AT THIS POINT, SO DON'T BOTHER WITH HEALING JANSEN. IF YOU CAN'T GET YOUR GUARD CONDITION HIGH ENOUGH TO PROTECT HIM FROM A SECOND DOWNBURST, HAVE EVERYONE SWITCH TO SUICIDE-ATTACK MODE AND TRY TO FINISH THE BOSS BEFORE GRILGAN CAN FINISH YOU.

Grilgan's Poison Claw can be devastating, but if your immortals have Anti-Poison equipped, it's no more powerful than a regular hit.

If you're weary after beating the boss, save at the save spot, then quit, return to the title screen, and load your game. You'll then have full HP and MP for the journey down to Grand Staff.

The bridge is out in the southern slope, so Kaim will need to hop across the gaps. Continue past the bridge on the other side, and you'll find a small cave blocked by cubic rocks. Knock them aside to reveal a chest that holds a pair of Novice Earrings, which can teach your immortals a handy skill that allows them to use both Lv1 Black Magic and White Magic with a single skill slot.

MINE-CART MAYHEM

On the Cart Track map, a wooden mine cart is blocking your path. Use the A button to have Kaim latch on, and push it ahead of him with the left control stick to get by. That's pretty routine stuff—the fun part comes with the other two carts, which you can push right off the cliff edges to reveal hidden items.

After taking the first ladder down on the Mining Site map, bash away the rocks that block the mineshaft entrance. You won't be able to see the tunnel, but if you head inside and turn left, you can get around the gap on the catwalk and emerge at the treasure box in the distance. It contains the third invaluable Slot Seed.

No less important is the treasure in box C, the Black Magic Aqua spell. It's the strongest spell against the next boss, and it will also allow you to fell Mad Sarbellas in one shot.

SNEAKING INTO THE STORAGE ROOM

To get into the base's storage room, you'll need to sneak past the guards in the western part of the map. Speak to both guards to get them moving, then slip behind the first one, latch onto one of the ladder-blocking crates, and pull it to the north. Slip out before the guard catches you, then slip behind the second guard and, from the south, push the second crate into the space left by the first crate. (Time it so the first guard is on his walking route too, or he'll spot you and kick you out.)

Shimmy down the ladder into the storage room, where you'll find two valuable items in the pots, and a guard who is selling a wide variety of supplies. You should have all the spells and accessories already, but he also deals in rare ring components and upgraded swords and staves.

Don't leave the way you came—exit south to the Engineer's Resting Room and push the crates out of the way to make an easy route between the two rooms. You can pick up a few more items in that room, and rest for free on the center cot.

FEED THE PIPOT IN THE POT

On the base's upper level you'll find the first Pipot, a friendly creature that will happily take all of your accumulated Seeds off your hands. If you've been following this book diligently, you should have 20 by now, just enough to get an Adamantis sword and an Adamantis Ring in return. (If not, give it as many as you have—all the Pipots in the world are networked, and you can get the treasures from the next one.)

You can also use Pipots to condense and upgrade obsolete recovery items. You can get one Healing Herb for every four Healing Medicines you give the Pipot, or one Mana Capsule for every two Mana Herbs. Healing Herbs restore 500 HP instead of the 100 HP you get from medicine, so we recommend you exchange as many as you can—you can't afford to waste time with weak healing items in combat.

With three different enhancements, you can't beat the Adamantis Ring at this point in the game.

STRIKE WHEN THE LIGHTS FLICKER OUT

On the west beach of the Rocks Near Sunken Ship map you'll notice a strange contraption with a light that flashes at regular intervals. If Kaim approaches it while the light is off, he can destroy it and collect an item from the rubble. But if you time it incorrectly and the light flashes while Kaim is nearby, he'll be knocked into a random enemy encounter.

SMASH THROUGH THE SHIPWRECK

When the beaches are clear, return to the shipwreck, grab the invaluable All-Shield spell from a chest, and smash the rotten wood planks that block your progress to the north. You'll emerge at the Reef Shallows, where you absolutely must not miss the Yellow Band in the giant clam to the west. Equip it to an immortal immediately; you'll want at least one immortal (ideally both) to know Anti-Paralysis by the time you reach the boss.

Continue north to the Beach of the Wastes, which is littered with those flashing contraptions. Many have variable intervals between the flashes, making it tough to approach them safely. But it's worth the trouble to smash them all—there's a Slot Seed, two normal Seeds, and a pair of Apprentice Earrings among the loot. Which ever immortal isn't learning Anti-Paralysis should put on the earrings and get started learning Lv2 Black-White Magic.

THE STAIRS TO GRAND STAFF

The Grand Staff is situated in the heart of Crater Island, which is easily accessible thanks to a network of stairs. The stairs will take you straight to a save spot and on to the boss that awaits you at the Grand Staff site, but don't rush into battle before searching the area. You'll notice that there's a spot where the stairs have no railing, allowing you to head east down a barely perceptible path. At the end you'll find the All-Barricade spell, which you'll be able to put to good use in the upcoming battle.

BOSS PREP

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING THAT YOU CAN BRING TO THIS FIGHT IS THE ANTI-PARALYSIS SKILL LEARNED FROM THE YELLOW BAND. GRIND UNTIL AT LEAST ONE IMMORTAL CAN LEARN IT, THEN HAND IT OFF TO JANSEN SO THE BOSS CAN'T INTERFERE WITH HIS SPELL-CASTING. THERE ARE SEVERAL LV2 SPELLS THAT ARE USEFUL IN THIS FIGHT, SO IT WOULD BE GREAT IF YOU HAD AN IMMORTAL WITH LV2 BLACK-WHITE MAGIC TO CAST THEM. SETH IS SLIGHTLY BETTER WITH OFFENSIVE MAGIC THAN KAIM IS, SO IF YOU HAVE TO SPLIT UP THE MAGIC TYPES, GIVE HER BLACK AND KAIM WHITE.

THE BOSS IS A FIRE-ELEMENT TYPE, MAKING IT VULNERABLE TO THE WATER ATTACK ENHANCEMENT OF THE AQUA AND ADAMANTIS RINGS. HIS ENTIRE ARMY OF MAGIC INSECTS IS OF THE WIND-ELEMENT TYPE, MAKING THE BEASTS WEAK TO FIRE. REMEMBER THAT YOU CAN PRESS LEFT AND SWITCH RINGS AS A FREE ACTION BEFORE YOU CHOOSE YOUR TARGET.

The Yellow Band will allow you to shrug off the Bogimoray's paralyzing Para-Flare.

BOSS TACTICS

THE MAGIC INSECTS BUILD UP MAGIC ENERGY, WHICH THE BOGIMORAY SUCKS UP AT THE END OF EACH TURN. WHEN THE BOGIMORAY'S DRAWN MP METER IS FULL, IT WILL UNLEASH ITS PARA-FLARE ATTACK, DAMAGING THE ENTIRE PARTY AND PARALYZING ANYONE WHO ISN'T EQUIPPED WITH THE ANTI-PARALYSIS SKILL. DURING YOUR FIRST TURN, HAVE ONE OF YOUR IMMORTALS CAST ALL-BARRICADE TO REDUCE THE DAMAGE OF PARA-FLARE, AND HAVE JANSEN BEGIN CASTING THE PRISM SPELL. YOUR IMMORTALS PROBABLY AREN'T STRONG ENOUGH TO KILL A MAGIC INSECT IN ONE SWING, BUT HAVE THEM EACH ATTACK DIFFERENT TARGETS ANYWAY; WHEN PRISM GOES OFF ON TURN TWO, IT WILL WIPE OUT ALL THE WOUNDED AND PUT ANY REMAINING INSECTS INTO KILLING RANGE. FINISH THEM OFF, THEN HAVE EVERYONE SWITCH TO AQUA RINGS AND AQUA SPELLS TO FINISH OFF THE BOGIMORAY.

PRETTY EASY, RIGHT? SURE—THE FIRST ONE IS. BOGIMORAY #2 COMES OUT FULLY CHARGED, SO THERE'S NO WAY TO HEAD OFF THAT PARA-FLARE. ONCE AGAIN, HAVE JANSEN BEGIN CASTING PRISM, BECAUSE THE BUGS WILL ALL COME BACK ON TURN TWO.

The Magic Insects don't do much physical damage, so the anti-magic All-Barricade is all the defense you need.

2

EXPLORE THE SITE WHILE YOU CAN

When the battle ends, your party will split up to explore the area. This gives Kaim roughly a minute to search for treasure before a series of events will occur that take him out of the area forever. Run to the treasure box that holds the Sage's Protection accessory, then heal up at the glowing blue recovery point between Jansen and Seth. Finally, slip behind the grating on the right side of the staff and grab a Healing Potion. That's all the treasure on this map, so you're free to explore while you wait for the Numara army to arrive.

MEET THE PRIDE OF NUMARA

When the Numara forces attack, you'll be in for another tough fight. The five soldiers form a defensive wall, protecting the White Magician that can cast Shield and Heal on them. Since all of the soldiers' attacks are physical, a turn-one All-Shield will be a big help. Everyone else should start casting Prism—it may take two or even three turns to go off, but the effect will be devastating. Before you finish off the White Magician, try to swipe his Circlet so your immortals can get an early start at learning the MP-recovery Relax skill.

TRAPPED IN A CAGE

Kaim and his party will awaken in cages, with no apparent way to escape. First things first: head to the southwest corner of your cage and press the A button to unlock another dream, "They Live in Shells." After that, Kakanas will come in to interrogate you, and then leave you alone to attempt an escape. Try ramming the door, and you'll be given the option to switch characters. Jansen and Seth can try bashing their own doors and kicking wandering rats, but there really is no way to escape from these cages; you'll just have to wait for the guards to come for you.

It won't be long before Jansen comes up with a clever way to escape from the White Boa's brig. When you regain control of him, approach the guard and press the A button to throw the Black Pearl through the bars. The disoriented guard will let you out, but he can't return your equipment, so you'll need to sneak around until you find it. Whenever you get caught by the security systems to the north, you'll be returned to the same cage, where the same amnesiac guard will happily release you any number of times.

At point 1, wait for the wandering eye to turn around and head north, then zip past it (hold the X button to run). Keep running until you're on the other side of the big crate, or the eye will see you when it turns.

At point 2, have Kaim kick the can forward, then run around the corner after the security eye follows it. Watch for a glowing green switch that will open the door to the west, where you'll find a chest that contains the Paralyze spell.

At point 3, wait until the moment that the eye turns to the west (away from you), and then run at the switch and hit it to shut the door on the eye. Hit the switch beyond it to open the final door to the next area.

At point 4, climb to the upper level and turn the blue lever to lower a ladder back to the brig. Now if you get captured again, you can take the ladder instead of having to replay the security-eye part.

The guard at point 5 is fast asleep, so you can walk right by him if you hold down the B button to tiptoe over the alarm-equipped floor. Hang a right at the big door and flip the next switch you pass, which will open a door to a chest that holds a Slot Seed.

At point 6, climb onto the catwalk and tiptoe over its alarm panels to circle around the room. Hit a lever to lower another ladder, then climb to the ground floor and move north toward the red-light switch. Press it to unlock the big door.

Climb the ladder at point 7 (the eye won't be able to see you) to a small chunk of catwalk. Flip the switch to lower a ladder back to the big door, and press the glowing switch by the side of that door to open it.

A BRIEF TASTE OF FREEDOM

2

Ride the elevator up to the Guest Area, where you'll find your stuff, and just in the nick of time. A group of Numara guards have found you, and these ones won't be so easily deceived. Once you've beaten them, travel north through the garden, hitting the two chests along the way. The door at the northern tip of the map is the only one that's unlocked; there, Jansen will abandon Kaim and Seth to pursue his own devious objectives.

Security Eyes summon Numara Soldiers when they're alone, and Guard Beasts when they have a soldier to protect them. Even though Security Eyes get a big defense boost from being in the back row, it's a good idea to have everyone gang up and take them out before they can summon reinforcements.

JANSEN'S DANGEROUS TASTE IN WOMEN

After Jansen abducts Queen Ming he'll need to beat a hasty escape. First try to leave the way you came; you'll trigger an event in which guards speak of an open emergency hatch. You'll find that hatch at the north end of the room, where a new staircase opens into a steam-filled engine room. Jansen may have to battle some Numara guards down there, so heal up before you take the stairs and again after every fight. There are no items to find in the engine room, so head straight to the circular area to the north, where Ming will finally put a stop to Jansen's folly.

SEARCHING THE PALACE FAÇADE

There are tons of hidden items in Numara, and they're a little trickier to find than they were in Uhra. In addition to the pots, you can search plants wherever you see a red fruit; pluck 'em to find valuable Seeds. There's a fifth pot hidden in the south-east corner of the Façade area, and you'll need to follow along the east wall to reveal it.

Thelran's Inn is packed with loot. Search every pot, plant, and dresser—you'll find 16 items in all.

FIND RONA'S MISSING MOO

Talk to Rona at point 1, and she'll ask you to find her missing dog, Moo. You'll find Moo in an alley off of Main Street, at point 2, and after you speak to him he'll find his own way back to Rona. The next time you speak to Rona, she'll reward you with three doses of Kelo-Oil, a rare ring component that should allow you to immediately create a Kelo-Ring, which deals significant amounts of extra damage to Kelolon foes.

3

PLAY GAMES WITH LONELY CHUCHU

You'll find Lonely Chuchu waiting at point 3. Agree to play a game with her, and she'll run off, challenging you to catch her. Charge after her by running with the X button, and press the A button when you get close. Tag—you win a Slot Seed!

You'll next meet Lonely Chuchu at point 4, where she'll challenge you to a game of hide-and-seek. To find her, head to point 5 in the back of Nalia's Item Shop. To get there, you'll need to enter the back room through the now-unlocked door in the alley to the side. Chuchu will reward you with a pair of Mana Earrings that can increase a character's max MP, so make sure to hand them off to Jansen when the immortals are done with them.

DREAMING IN NUMARA

THERE ARE TWO DREAMS THAT KAIM CAN UNLOCK IN THIS REGION OF NUMARA, AND BOTH ARE QUITE EASY TO FIND. THE FIRST, "THE TALKATIVE MERCENARY," TRIGGERS AT POINT 6, ON THE FOOTBRIDGE THAT CONNECTS THE TWO ENTRANCES TO MAIN STREET. THE NEXT, "LETTERS FROM A WEAKLING," TRIGGERS AT POINT 7, AT THE MAP'S CENTER GONDOLA LAUNCH.

PLAYING CUPID FOR THE GONDOLIERS

Now that Lonely Chuchu has gotten you access to the back room of Nalia's Item Shop, you can loot it thoroughly. But the greatest treasures are in the yard—don't let it escape your notice that the shop has three doors, one of which leads to a gondola launch (point 8). If you've spoken to the gondolier at the southernmost gondola launch (point 9), you know she's waiting for her date to arrive. Explain the misunderstanding to the gondolier at point 8, and he'll repay you by grabbing the chest from across the canal. It contains the level-3 Shine spell, a rare White Magic attack spell.

The best treasure is yet to come. Head back to point 9, where the gondolier will perform the same service, netting you a chest with a Mimint Ear. Its rare enhancement provides a small chance of completely negating the damage from any magical attack. And more importantly, the little ears make your characters look adorable. Awwwww.

GREAT DEALS IN NINN'S BACK ROOM

The public area of Ninn's Boutique doesn't have anything of interest to hardened adventurers. To get to the good stuff, pay a visit to the Artists' Salon, where one of the artists will tell you the secret password. Use that to get past the guard, and you'll find the real shop in back. There, Ninn will sell you upgraded weapons, components, and several new accessories. You'll also find a ringmaker who will combine your old rings into powerful new ones—for free. If you don't have the rings necessary to make the one you want, you should be able to make the prerequisite rings by buying components right there in the shop.

INSPIRE THE CRYSTAL SCULPTOR

The sculptor's husband at point 10 has artist's block, and needs no less than 19 Crystal Fragments to inspire him. You'll find all 19 by kicking purple, crystalline fungus growths in the Crimson Forest, an area that you'll be able to visit when you complete the events in Numara. Bring them back here, and the sculptor's husband will reward you with a Life Brooch, which contains a skill that can boost your characters' Max HP by 10%.

As long as you're not actively engaged in the Kid's Club quest, you'll trigger the "Don't Forget Me Now, You Hear?" dream when you proceed north through the Canal Street market.

JOINING THE KIDS' CLUB

Kaim may be 1,000 years old, but the members of Canal Street's secret kid's club will still let him join if he can complete the initiation. The process involves finding three items, all of which are only a few screens away. When you bring all three to the kids, they'll give you a pair of Kelolon Earrings as proof of membership.

The balloon is on the ground near the tree with red fruits at the entrance to the market.

The gondola model is near the tent beneath the bridge (the stairs to reach it are directly across from where you found the balloon).

SAVE COOKE AND MACK'S FLOWER PATCH

As you round the bend in the southern part of the map, you'll run into young Cooke and Mack, who are trying to protect a patch of rare flowers from Numara Soldiers. Step in to save the day, but don't expect an easy fight. The soldiers are much tougher than any you've fought before, and the cavaliers in the back row can easily do 300–400 points of damage with their rush attacks. While it's tempting to try to kill five birds with one Prism spell, most of your party could be wiped out before the spell even goes off. Instead, have Jansen cast All-Shield on the first turn, then switch to casting Zephyr and using Healing Herbs while Kaim and Seth pick off the soldiers by double-teaming them one by one. Make sure to equip your immortals with Crisis Attack Boost and Crisis Defense Boost; they may make the difference. Don't be stingy with the Healing Herbs; if a character is near death, they probably won't survive until a spell goes off, but items work right away.

MEANWHILE, BACK IN UHRA . . .

After Kaim and his company arrive at Cooke and Mack's house, a series of events will end with an unexpected change of heroes. You'll find yourself in Tolten's shoes, surrounded by mud creatures—have some fun with Tolten's impressive combat abilities by sweeping the board with his Cut Down move. SENDING OFF THE DEAD, NUMARA STYLE

Back in Numara, there's a funeral underway, and everyone has a part to play. First Cooke must gather ten white flowers; she'll find four in Funeral Beach and six in the City of Ruins. The one tricky one is past the small City of Ruins arch that Kaim couldn't fit through, but that Cooke can. When you have all 10, bring them back to the funeral director. Kaim's task is similar; he must find ten sticks that can be used as torches. You'll find five in Funeral Beach and the other five in the City of Ruins. All of the flowers and sticks are marked on the maps in this section.

Mack's task occurs during the funeral itself. He has to light the funeral guests' torches with his own torch; you can do this by pressing the four colored Xbox 360 buttons to match the directions from which they offer their torches. Use the left stick to adjust your torch so the tips touch, and hold it there until the torch lights.

AN OFFERING FOR THE NUMARA PIPO

After the funeral, your next objective will be clear, but there are still a few errands to run in Numara. First, finish looting Funeral Beach and Cooke and Mack's house. The treasures include a Slot Seed as well as the 40th normal Seed (assuming you haven't missed any before this point). Take your Seeds to the Pipot in the pot by the well, and he'll give you an Earth Charm for reaching the 40-Seed milestone.

5

TWO MORE DREAMS FOR THE ROAD

On your way out of the City of Ruins, a bell will toll, reminding Kaim of "Evening Bell," another in the "A Thousand Years of Dreams" series. There's another dream you can unlock, but it's a bit trickier to find. Return to Canal Street and head toward Main Street. At point 11, on the big fishing bridge, look to the north; Kaim will see a flock of seagulls taking flight, reminding him of "The Portraitist of the Dead."

USING COOKE AS A COMBAT MAGE

COOKE HAS A NUMBER OF INTERESTING ABILITIES TO CONTRIBUTE TO YOUR PARTY. HER ANGEL HEART SKILL INCREASES THE EFFICACY OF HER HEALING SPELLS (BUT ONLY IN COMBAT), MAKING HER YOUR PARTY'S BEST ZEPHYR CASTER. WHEN SHE HAS NOTHING ELSE TO DO, SHE CAN CAST PRAYER TO RESTORE AROUND 100 HP FOR ONE OF YOUR CHARACTERS—IT'S WEAKER THAN A HEAL SPELL, BUT FREE TO USE. SHE CAN ALSO USE CASTING SUPPORT TO HALVE THE AMOUNT OF TIME IT TAKES ANOTHER CHARACTER TO CAST SPELLS, ALLOWING HER TO TEAM UP WITH JANSEN AND CAST PRISM IN A SINGLE TURN.

WHITE MAGIC IS GREAT, BUT IN THE CRIMSON FOREST THE BEST DEFENSE IS USUALLY A GOOD OFFENSE. FORTUNATELY, MORTALS CAN USE ACCESSORIES TOO: EQUIP COOKE WITH THE APPRENTICE EARRINGS TO GIVE HER THE ABILITY TO CAST BLACK MAGIC, AND SHE'LL PROVE TO BE AN EVEN MORE POWERFUL BLACK MAGIC USER THAN JANSEN!

DON'T RAM THE WRONG OBELISKS

In the Maze of Gloom area you can find dozens of Crystal Fragments by smashing crystal fungus formations, and you'll earn a variety of other items by ramming rock obelisks. But not every obelisk holds treasure; toppling the one at point E on the first map or point H on the second map will trigger a tough enemy encounter.

Those encounters consist of five Spituras in the front and a Soul Eater Bug in the back. While the Spituras blast you with mostly Flare spells, the Soul Eater Bug will use its Prey move each turn to consume one of the Spituras, which will boost its stats and completely refill its health. When it's out of Spituras to snack on, it will begin casting Prism spells, which can devastate your party in a hurry. Have Cooke use her Casting Support so Jansen can fire off his own Prism spell on the first turn, allowing Seth and Kaim to quickly finish off the wounded survivors. Then blast the Soul Eater Bug with everything you got—you can't afford to be stingy with the MP. (Ground spells are especially useful.)

There is a total of 19 Crystal Fragments in the Crimson Forest and Sorcerer's Shrine. Bring them to the artist living in Numara's Canal Street for a reward.

SLIPPERY SILVER KELOLONS & OTHER NOTABLE FOES

TRENTS ARE THE TOUGHEST FOES THAT YOU'LL ENCOUNTER HERE, SINCE THEY CAN SWING FOR 300–500 POINTS OF DAMAGE WITH THEIR POWER CRUSH ATTACK, AND HIT A WHOLE ROW WITH THEIR DEADLY (BUT FAR LESS ACCURATE) POWER SWINGS. SWITCH TO WIND-TYPE RINGS AT THE START OF THE FIGHT AND HAVE JANSEN POISON THE TRENT THAT KAIM AND SETH AREN'T ATTACKING, THEN SWITCH TO USING WIND SPELLS AGAINST THEIR TARGET.

THE RARE SILVER KELOLONS HERE CAN DODGE ANY PHYSICAL ATTACK AND USUALLY ATTEMPT TO FLEE AT THE BEGINNING OF EVERY TURN. TO BRING THEM DOWN, HAVE EVERYONE TARGET THEM WITH GROUND SPELLS AND HOPE FOR GOOD LUCK!

The only way you'll see a Keloline here is by killing all but a single Kelolon and waiting for it to use the Reinforcement Request move.

RUNNING THE BRIDGE OF TREES

Head east when you enter the Near Swamp map, and look for a slope that leads toward point B. From there you can cross two fallen trees to reach the items at points B and C, which include one of the Crystal Fragments.

TAKE THE HIGH ROAD HOME

On your first trip here, you won't be able to reach a lot of the treasures or make sense of the strange stone circles scattered throughout the map. But after rescuing Mack in the Sorcerer's Shrine, you'll be able to use the circular stone elevators (marked E1 through E4 on the map) to reach otherwise-inaccessible parts of the forest. These elevators lead to obelisks that contain both monster encounters and valuable items, including the spirit-magic Refresh spell and the Demon Warrior's Blade and Ring.

BRACE YOURSELF FOR TOUGH BATTLES

THERE ARE ONLY THREE NEW FOES IN THIS AREA, BUT THEY'RE TOUGH ONES, AND EVEN FAMILIAR FOES LIKE SPITURA, SOUL-EATER BUGS, AND BALLOONS ARE HIGHER-LEVEL THAN THEY WERE IN THE CRIMSON FOREST. WHEN IN A MIXED BATTLE, ALWAYS TAKE OUT THE FLAME SPHERES FIRST, SINCE THEIR FLARE SPELLS ARE PARTICULARLY DEADLY. SHADOW-CASTING PLANT DRAGONS ARE ALSO DANGEROUS FOES, BUT SAVE THEM FOR LAST—WHEN THEY'RE LOW ON HP, THEY'LL CAST A SLEEP SPELL ON THE ENTIRE PARTY THAT COULD PROVE DEADLY IF OTHER ENEMIES ARE ALIVE TO CAPITALIZE ON IT.

ROLLING BOULDERS IN THE DUNGEON SHRINE

Save your game in the Chamber of Stone Tablets, and then consider quitting and reloading to get some free healing—you may need it. Take the glowing elevator down to the lower floor, and head west to the entrance to the Dungeon Shrine.

As you climb the Dungeon Shrine stairs, you'll trip a wide panel on the floor that sends a boulder rolling down the staircase. Step back down the stairs and let the first one pass, then run up the stairs to one of the ledges on either side of the staircase and wait there for the next boulder to pass. When you get to the top, go all the way to the other side and down the stairs, where you'll find a Lucky Clover accessory and the path to the other side of the lower floor of the Chamber of Stone Tablets, where you'll find two Crystal Fragments.

SMASHING DOWN THE ALTAR DOOR

In the middle of the center staircase, you'll find a pillar that can be pushed aside. Push it until the light on its side turns red, then head upstairs and intentionally trigger another boulder fall. Without the pillar in its way, it'll smash through the sealed door that leads to the Altar of the Abyss.

3

SURVIVING THE EARTH COLOSSI

To the right of the broken door you'll find a save point and a blue healing point that can be used any number of times. Take advantage of both, then dash past the colossus statues to reach the valuable treasures at the end of the lower ledges. However, if you're close to gaining a level or learning a valuable skill, it's a good idea to pick fights with the Earth Colossi to put you over the top, since this area's boss is right through the shattered door. In Colossus fights, you'll have to rely primarily on Wind spells—like all foes with the Hardened type, Colossi have very high resistance to physical attacks.

BOSS PREP

THE APPRENTICE EARRINGS ARE KEY FOR COOKE, SINCE THEY WILL ALLOW HER TO USE DAMAGE-DEALING BLACK MAGIC SPELLS. EVERYTHING ELSE IS FOR THE IMMORTALS; ONCE AGAIN, MAINTAINING A LEVEL-3 OR -4 GUARD CONDITION IS THE KEY TO VICTORY, AND AS LONG AS YOU'LL BE DEFENDING TO TRIGGER THE STAND READY SKILL, YOU MIGHT AS WELL GET SOME MP AND HP OUT OF IT BY EQUIPPING GUARD HEAL AND RELAX AS WELL. LUCKY 0 MAGIC DEFENSE IS A GENERALLY GREAT SKILL AGAINST MAGIC-USING FOES, AND WILL COME IN HANDY IN NEARLY ANY BOSS FIGHT.

BOSS TACTICS

YOUR TOP PRIORITY IS TO FREE COOKE, SO IMMEDIATELY BEGIN TEARING INTO OBSIDIAN TENTACLE C WITH RING-BOOSTED PHYSICAL ATTACKS AND QUICK SPELLS LIKE FLARE. AS SOON AS COOKE IS FREE, TURN UP THE DEFENSE: HAVE COOKE CAST ZEPHYR TO RECOUP YOUR LOST HEALTH, HAVE JANSEN FIRE UP AN ALL-BARRICADE SPELL, AND HAVE SETH AND KAIM DEFEND TO INCREASE YOUR GUARD CONDITION. SETH AND KAIM SHOULD DO THIS EVERY TURN IF YOUR GUARD CONDITION IS LESS THAN LEVEL 3—YOU CAN'T RISK AN AREA-EFFECT SPELL WIPING OUT YOUR BACK LINE. COOKE AND JANSEN CAN DO MUCH MORE DAMAGE WITH SIMPLE FLARE SPELLS THAN SETH AND KAIM COULD WITH THEIR PHYSICAL ATTACKS ANYWAY.

WHEN THE TENTACLES ARE WIPED OUT, MACK WILL APPEAR ON THE BATTLEFIELD. DON'T ATTACK HIM; INSTEAD HIT HIM WITH A SLEEP SPELL (WHICH WILL ALWAYS SUCCEED) TO LURE OUT THE OBSIDIAN MIASMA. CONTINUE TO HAVE SETH AND KAIM BOOST YOUR GUARD CONDITION WHILE JANSEN AND COOKE FINISH OFF THE BOSS.

RETURNING TO NUMARA

AFTER YOU SAVE MACK, AN ELEVATOR APPEARS THAT CAN TAKE YOU STRAIGHT TO THE CRIMSON FOREST'S MAZE OF GLOOM. THERE YOU CAN COLLECT THE LAST FEW CRIMSON FOREST ITEMS BY USING THE STONE ELEVATORS, OR HEAD STRAIGHT FOR THE EXIT TO THE WORLD MAP. ON YOUR WAY OUT OF THE FOREST, KAIM WILL RECALL ANOTHER DREAM, TITLED "ELEGY ISLAND."

AN ICY RECEPTION AWAITS IN WHITE SQUARE

If you have business in the city of Numara, do not approach the fountain in White Square until it is complete. As soon as you near the fountain, an unexpected development will restrict your ability to move freely in Numara, and prevent you from visiting most areas of the town. Among the side quests you may wish to pursue before approaching the fountain are these:

- If you bring all 19 Crystal Fragments to the sculptor's husband on Canal Street, he'll give you a Life Brooch accessory, which contains the HP Max Up skill.

- If you visit cubic musician Lato on the east side of White Square, he'll give you Cubic Music Score 1 and invite you to play it in a special cubic music battle. To do so, memorize the note sequence and, in the same order, attack the blocks that match the notes. You'll earn the Force spell for completing Cubic Music Score 1 and the Dodger spell for completing Cubic Music Score 2. If you miss this, don't worry—you'll get another opportunity to meet Lato later.

When you're ready to advance the plot, approach the White Square fountain and watch the news report. After that, when you attempt to leave White Square toward Main Street, Kakanas's guards will force Kaim to surrender.

When Kakanas orders his soldiers to attack, Kaim, Seth, and Jansen will have to battle them without the help of the twins. Focus your attacks on eliminating the Heavy Corps soldiers one at a time, and you should be able to finish them off before their attacks take too heavy a toll. Cooke and Mack will then rejoin the party and lead you on a mad chase through the palace's Corridor Garden area.

In the Corridor Garden you'll be able to see pursuing foes on the map, and if you're quick you can dash right past them. Many of the paths are blocked and all of the doors are locked, so you'll need to follow a very specific route to get through the area—use the map shown here and take the elevators in 1-2-3 order. However, you will need to stray slightly from the path to seek out all 20 vases and treasure chests in the area. The loot includes a Slot Seed, some sheet music, the Adept Earrings, and several normal Seeds, so it's well worth the risk of running into a few enemies. If you miss any of the treasures now, you won't be able to go back for them until much later in the game.

SETH AND KAIM'S NEW BEST FRIEND

MACK DEFAULTS TO A POSITION IN THE FRONT ROW OF COMBAT, WHICH IS NOT WHERE HE BELONGS—USE THE FORMATION MENU TO SEND HIM TO THE BACK. BUT EVEN AS A BACK-ROW CHARACTER, HE'S CAPABLE OF DISHING OUT DECENT DAMAGE, BOTH WITH REGULAR ATTACKS AND WITH HIS SPECIAL POWER HIT AND COMBO ATTACKS. HE CAN ALSO USE SPIRIT MAGIC, WHICH CONSISTS PRIMARILY OF STAT-BOOSTING AND RECOVERY SPELLS (INCLUDING ONE THAT CAN RAISE YOUR GUARD CONDITION).

MACK IS A GOOD-ALL-AROUND CHARACTER, BUT THE BEST THING ABOUT HIM IS WHAT HE HAS TO OFFER SETH AND KAIM. THEY SHOULD IMMEDIATELY TURN THEIR SKILL LINKS TOWARD COPYING COUNTER, COMBO, AND POWER HIT, WHICH THEY'LL BE ABLE TO PUT TO FAR BETTER USE THAN MACK EVER COULD.

BOSS PREP

TWEAK YOUR EQUIPMENT AFTER YOU HEAL AND SAVE IN THE PALACE, SINCE YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO GO FAR BEFORE KAKANAS ROLLS UP ON A MIGHTY WAR MACHINE. FOCUS ON OFFENSIVE ABILITIES FOR SETH AND KAIM IN THIS FIGHT; THEY'LL BE DOING MOST OF THE ATTACKING, SO SKILLS THAT TRIGGER OFF OF THE DEFEND COMMAND WON'T BE MUCH USE. ALL FOUR PARTS OF THE TANK ARE OF THE MECHANICAL TYPE, SO ANY RING WITH THE MACHINE KILLER ENHANCEMENT (LIKE THE DEMON WARRIOR RING FOUND IN THE CRIMSON FOREST) WILL BE INVALUABLE.

BOSS TACTICS

THE MAGIC HEAVY TANK CONSISTS OF FOUR COMPONENTS. DESTROYING THE CANNON AND MAGIC HEAVY TANK ITSELF WILL END THE FIGHT, BUT DESTROYING THE TANK UNIT AND CANNON UNIT WILL EFFECTIVELY NEUTER IT, MAKING FOR AN EASIER BUT LONGER BATTLE. THESE TANK AND CANNON UNITS SPEND THEIR TURNS ABSORBING MP FROM YOUR PARTY MEMBERS, WHICH THEY USE TO BOOST THE POWER OF THE TANK'S TANK HIT AND VOLCANNON ATTACKS, RESPECTIVELY. THEY CAN ALSO ABSORB ENERGY FROM THE SPELLS YOU CAST AGAINST THEM, SO YOU'LL WANT TO FOCUS ON PHYSICAL ATTACKS UNTIL THE UNITS ARE NEAR DEATH.

HAVE SETH AND KAIM TARGET THE SAME UNIT, AND HAVE MACK CAST POWERA TO BOOST THE STRENGTH OF ONE ATTACKER WHILE ANOTHER BACK-ROW CHARACTER USES A POWER DRINK TO BOOST THE STRENGTH OF THE OTHER. THE THIRD SHOULD CAST ALL-SHIELD FOR A DEFENSIVE BOOST. WITH ENHANCED ATTACKS, SETH AND KAIM CAN DEAL HEAVY DAMAGE TO THE CHOSEN UNIT, SO IT SHOULD BE SAFE TO TARGET THAT UNIT WITH SPELLS FOR THE KILL ON THE NEXT TURN. THEN DESTROY THE OTHER UNIT BEFORE FOCUSING ALL OF YOUR PHYSICAL AND MAGICAL ATTACKS ON THE REMAINING COMPONENTS OF THE NOW-CRIPPLED TANK.

Tank Hit destroys your GC so quickly that there's little point trying to maintain it. Instead, protect your back row by destroying the tank's units.

3

SWIPE THE SLANTNOSE FROM THE PORT OF NUMARA

If Kakanas is going to be that much of a jerk, our heroes have every right to respond in kind. Leave Numara and reenter through the port area. You'll find the doors open wide, allowing you to slip into a hangar in the eastern part of the map, through a side door. There you'll find Kakanas's new experimental ship, the Slantnose. Hop onboard and take it for a spin!

There are two directions you can go from the landing point at Numara Port (which is just behind your starting position). To the northwest is the Numara Atoll, an extremely high-level area where most of the monsters can wipe out your party with a single attack. To the northeast is the Southern Coast of Tosca, your entry point to the kingdom of Gohtza, which Ming yearns to visit.

Just because you can't kill the enemies in the Numara Atoll doesn't mean you shouldn't come for a quick looting trip. You'll find a Bronze Spirit Band in the northwest corner, and the Regenerate spell in the northeast corner. The Turn-Tail skill will let you escape from battles before the sluggish enemies can attack.

When you arrive on the Gohtza continent, you'll trigger another one of the "A Thousand Years of Dreams" episodes. This time it isn't a lost memory of Kaim's, but of Seth's—"Seth's Dream Part 1."

HUNTING FOR BURIED TREASURE

1

When Kaim crosses the bridge to the northern part of town, a villager will hand over the Magic-Powered Locator Lv1, and give Kaim a clue to the first treasure. Now that you have a clue, you'll see a glowing spot in the southwest corner of your automap. The clue suggests the treasure is in a high place, so climb the watchtower and press the A button to search at the top; you'll turn up a Dark Crystal Staff (which only Jansen can equip) and a Dark Crystal Ring that holds a variety of interesting enhancements.

CATCH UP WITH OLD FRIENDS AT THE INN

Kaim is a legend in this town, and you can piece together the reasons why by talking to the townsfolk. When you stay the night at Tolt's Inn, Tolt himself will comp Kaim's drinks and tell him the quickest path to Gohtza—through a deadly cave sealed off by a powerful evil sorceress, naturally. When you loot the inn the next morning, don't miss the Slot Seed in the corner, and all the items hidden behind the framed pictures. You'll also find that a merchant has set up shop in the room across from Kaim's. Additionally, the ringmaker is hanging out in the upper floor, but he isn't offering any new combinations.

HIDDEN TREASURES IN KAIM'S DREAMS

Kaim can unlock two more dreams in Tosca. The first, titled “The Bread of Grandma Coto,” will trigger when you talk to the couple just north of the entrance (but only if you’ve already stayed in the inn). The next, “The Hero,” is only a few steps away, past the bridge and just to the right. The interesting thing about “The Hero” is that it contains a treasure-hunting hint, which will point you to a hidden cave right here in Tosca. Hop across the river to reach the small pier, then dig up a Medusa’s Head in the small cavern behind the waterfall.

PAY YOUR RESPECTS TO THE KELOLON

As you may have noticed, the people of Tosca Village are just crazy for Kelolons. There is a total of 16 Kelolon statues in town, and if you can lay a wreath on each one within five minutes, you’ll win a number of valuable prizes. The statues aren’t terribly hard to find; there’s one in each building, one in the cave behind the waterfall, and at least one at the top of each of the three ladders in town. The catch is that the townsfolk are blocking three of them for most of the five minutes. Start by paying your respects to the 13 that are easily accessible, then run to the watchtower, where the man blocking the ladder will move aside with around two minutes on the clock. Then the girls blocking the Deeno family house will move, allowing you to reach the statue on the Deeno family’s bookcase. The man blocking the ladder at the north end of the town won’t move until there are only around 20 seconds left—that’s just enough time to shimmy up the ladder and reach it—but you must make this your final statue.

The prizes are pretty fantastic; depending on your performance, you’ll earn 3 Kelolon Hearts, a Slot Seed, a Seal Blocker accessory and, if you get a perfect 16, the Spirit-Magic Gamble spell.

THE MANSION'S DEADLY DENIZENS

YOU'LL FACE AN EXTREMELY DIFFICULT BATCH OF FOES IN THIS AREA, AS MANY HAVE POWERFUL IMMUNITIES THAT WILL FORCE YOU TO PLAN EACH BATTLE CAREFULLY. FOR EXAMPLE, THE UNIDENTIFIED LIFE FORMS ARE IMMUNE TO ELEMENTAL DAMAGE, SO IF YOU ATTACK WITH AN ELEMENTAL SPELL OR A RING WITH ANY SORT OF ELEMENTAL ENHANCEMENT, THEY'LL SHRUG OFF 100% OF THE DAMAGE. FORTUNATELY, YOU DO HAVE ACCESS TO NONELEMENTAL SPELLS: THE BLACK-MAGIC FORCE SPELL AND THE SPIRIT-MAGIC GAMBLE SPELL. YOU CAN ALSO DEAL NONELEMENTAL RING DAMAGE WITH RINGS THAT HAVE THE MAGIC KILLER ENHANCEMENT, SUCH AS THE DEMON WARRIOR RING AND STANDARD MAGIC RINGS (BUT NOT THE DARK CRYSTAL RING, WHICH ALSO CONTAINS AN ELEMENTAL ENHANCEMENT). IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO KEEP YOUR IMMORTALS EQUIPPED WITH SPELL-CASTING ABILITIES, SINCE THE SOUL ARMOR FOES IN THE COURTYARD HAVE THE OPPOSITE IMMUNITY—THEY'RE IMMUNE TO PHYSICAL DAMAGE.

Unidentified Life Forms are masters of status ailments, causing Terror, Petrification, and blinding the whole party with Shine spells. Equip the relevant Anti- skills if you have them, and eliminate the Unidentified Life Forms first whenever possible.

Composite Magic allows you to combine the effects of low-level spells and extend the range of spells to target all foes. Composite spells like All-Flare are quite a bit stronger than good ol' Prism.

1

THE SHADOWS BEHIND THE DOORS

In the west hallway you'll find a mirror with a gem-shaped indentation, and a row of three doors that trigger enemy encounters when opened. The one in the middle is no less haunted than the other two, but after the monsters are cleared you'll find a Large Mirror Jewel sparkling on the floor. Take that to the big mirror in the room to the south, and you'll activate a magical portal to the past.

2

THE WORLD BEYOND THE MIRROR

The mansion of the past is in much better shape than the mansion of the present. The statue that will eventually collapse and block the treasure chest is still intact in this time, so grab it and shove it off to the side, opening a path to that chest in the present.

Next visit this time period's entranceway, where the stairs to the second floor are not yet blocked. Head upstairs, where you'll see a strange wheel with four symbols on it. Pay very close attention to the symbols and their order—you'll be seeing a lot of them in the future. Spin the wheel so the arrow is pointing to the pot (the one on the right). That should unlock the second-story doors and open a chest that reveals a Red-Copper Band accessory.

ASSEMBLE THE SYMBOL PLATES

In each of the second-story rooms, Kaim will trigger a lost memory and discover a single treasure. The room on the left contains the Wheat Plate, the first of the four symbols you saw in the wheel outside.

That's the only plate you can find in the past, so you need to return to the present. Go back to the room that contains the statue and the big mirror, and head down the long hallway. The mirror at the end of the hall will take you to the east side of the mansion, where you'll find a few searchable pots and another large mirror; the mirror will warp you to the crumbling mansion of your own time.

SET THE PLATES IN THE COURTYARD

The mansion's courtyard is accessible through the present-time entranceway. There you'll find some challenging new enemies, as well as the final two plates (one is in a chest, and the other is already set in the diagram near the locked gate). When you have all the plates, set them into the holes outside the gate so they're in the same order they were in the wheel in the Past. Note that everything will be offset by 90 degrees this time, since the arrow etched into the stone is now pointing straight ahead.

Place the Pot Plate to the north, the Wheat Plate to the east, the Celestial Plate to the south, and the Bow Plate to the west. The gate will then open, allowing you to collect the final Poem Fragment and enter the Sorceress' Hermitage.

NAVIGATE THE SORCERESS' HERMITAGE

The courtyard staircase leads to the sorceress' secret hermitage, where yet another puzzle awaits. After you read the obelisk, one of the plates in the diagram behind you will light up. You will then have to use the warping mirrors to find which of the diagrams in the four corners of the hermitage has the same plate lit.

When you find the correct one, step on it then return to the entrance, where a new plate will be lit. When you've stepped on all four plates in the designated order, the obelisk will shatter and the door to the sorceress's inner sanctum will open.

In the northeast section of the map, pull the lever along the western wall to raise a block along the eastern wall. That will allow you to take warps 5 and 6 to reach the chests that contain the Goddess Medicine and Lost spell.

BOSS PREP

THERE'S NO SAVE SPOT BEFORE THE BOSS, SO YOU MAY WANT TO BACKTRACK INTO THE MANSION TO SAVE BEFORE YOU APPROACH THE OLD SORCERESS. THERE'S NO HEALING SPOT, EITHER, BUT YOU WON'T NEED ONE—THIS BOSS WILL MAKE VIRTUALLY NO EFFORT TO HURT YOU. SPELLCASTERS WILL BE MOST VALUABLE HERE, PARTICULARLY THOSE WHO CAN CAST LEVEL-3 BLACK MAGIC AND LEVEL-2 SPIRIT MAGIC. THE IDEAL SPIRIT MAGIC SPELL HERE IS GAMBLE, WHICH IS THE PRIZE FOR FINDING ALL 16 KELOLON STATUES IN TOSCA.

BOSS TACTICS

THE BODIES OF THOUGHT FOCUS THEIR ATTACKS NOT ON YOU, BUT ON THE OLD SORCERESS. THERE'S NO WAY TO HEAL HER, AND IF SHE DIES THE BATTLE IS LOST. EACH BODY OF THOUGHT HAS ITS OWN ELEMENT, AND IT'S TEMPTING TO STRIKE EACH ONE WITH THE ELEMENT THAT TRUMPS IT. BUT YOU NEVER KNOW WHEN THE OLD SORCERESS WILL SCREAM, WHICH SHUFFLES THE ELEMENT TYPES OF ALL OF THE BODIES OF THOUGHT, POTENTIALLY CAUSING THE SPELLS YOU'VE BEEN PREPARING TO HEAL THEIR TARGETS INSTEAD OF HARMING THEM. MAKE THINGS EASY ON YOURSELF BY USING ONLY ATTACKS THAT HAVE NO ELEMENTAL TYPE, SUCH AS POWERA-ENHANCED PHYSICAL ATTACKS (IDEALLY WITH THE COMBO SKILL) AND THE FORCE AND GAMBLE SPELLS.

TREASURE-HUNTING ROUNDUP

DON'T RUSH OFF TO THE BLACK CAVE QUITE YET—NOW THAT YOU'VE COMPLETED THE OLD SORCERESS' MANSION, YOU'LL FIND SEVERAL THINGS HAVE CHANGED BACK IN TOSCA. FIRST HEAD TO THE INN, WHERE INNKEEPER TOLTY WILL GIVE YOU A TREASURE-HUNTING TIP THAT WILL POINT YOU RIGHT BACK TO THE FRONT YARD OF THE OLD SORCERESS' MANSION, WHERE THE VIRUS SPELL IS HIDDEN. ON THE UPPER FLOOR OF THE INN, KAIM WILL CHANCE TO OVERHEAR A CONVERSATION THAT TRIGGERS BOTH THE DREAM "SO LONG, FRIEND" AND A TIP THAT WILL TAKE YOU BACK TO THE NORTHERN CAPE, WHERE THE AILMENT VOID SPELL HAS BEEN HIDDEN. FINALLY, SPEAK TO DEENO IN HIS TOSCA HOME, AND HE'LL GIVE YOU A TIP ABOUT A TREASURE IN THE BLACK CAVE ITSELF.

THE BLACK CAVE

IN THE OLDEN DAYS, THE BLACK CAVE WAS A QUICK AND SAFE PATH BETWEEN THE VILLAGE OF TOSCA AND THE GOHTZAN CITY OF SAMAN. BUT WITH GOHTZA THREATENING WAR, SARAH HAD THE BLACK CAVE SEALED, INADVERTENTLY TRANSFORMING IT INTO A SANCTUARY FOR DANGEROUS BEASTS.

NAVIGATING THE MAZE OF DARKNESS

Feeling your way through the Maze of Darkness isn't as difficult as it seems.

First make your way to point 1, where the body of a fallen soldier will trigger a dream titled "The Tragedy of the Butcher General." From there you can head south or east to collect minor treasures, or proceed to the ledge marked J1, where you can jump across a gap to land atop one of the natural cave walls. You'll find two more treasures on this upper level (to reach the Seed, you'll have to jump again at point J2), as well as the entrance to the Foul Swamp area.

The Dark Sorcerers can counter any magical spell, so don't attack them with spells. Even if they aren't the only targets, they're able to bounce any spell back at you, so hold off on Prism and composite spells whenever Dark Sorcerers are on the field.

MAKING FRIENDS IN THE FOUL SWAMP

Fireflies make their home in the Foul Swamp, and if you reach your hand into their glowing purple nests, one will be happy to accompany you on your journey. The firefly is a sturdy little bug, but it can't cross the violent wind tunnels that appear at certain points in the cave. If you lose a firefly to the wind, you can always find a firefly nest and recruit another one.

If you spend too long in the foul green water of the swamp, your entire party will begin to take damage. Fortunately, there isn't too much of a reason to wade in—the only item you'd need to get wet to reach is the chest at point C, which you can reach only by dropping onto it from above.

CLEAVE NIGHTFLIERS, TOLTEN-STYLE

The northwest exit from the swamp is blocked, so you can leave only via the northern path, to the upper floor of an area known as the Great Hall of Foul Creatures. Circle around its upper level, making sure to grab the Scroll of Dissection before heading east into a section of the cave lovingly known as the Helltrap. The scroll contains the Cut Down skill, the Guard Condition-reducing row attack that Toltan used against the mud creatures.

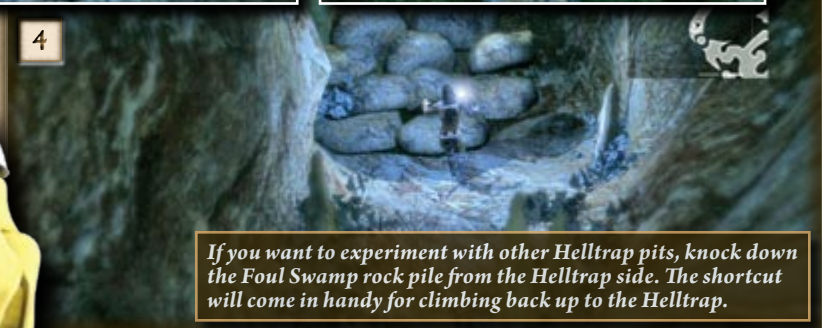

4

TREAD CAREFULLY THROUGH THE HELLTRAP

The Helltrap is full of dark pits that will drop you back down to the Foul Swamp, so you'll want to use the light of your firefly to maneuver carefully around them. At point 2, however, you may have to part ways with your bug—the Refresha spell is hidden in a chest past a wind tunnel.

There are three pits at point 3, and if you jump into the upper-left one (as shown here) you'll land on the otherwise-unreachable island in the Foul Swamp. The chest contains a Soul Medicine; this is an awful lot of work for just a recovery item, but you'll need it if you're gunning for the Treasure Trove achievement.

5 THE GREAT HALL OF FOUL CREATURES

They don't call it the Great Hall of Foul Creatures for nothing—when you kick the canister that blocks access to the central part of the map, hordes of powerful Rough Eaters will begin rampaging around the map. You'll need to find and slay three parties of them before their queen will appear—she's the one with glowing red eyes, and is represented by a red triangle on your Navigation Map. All of the Rough creatures are weak to Wind, so build a party focused around Wind-type rings and spells before you commence hunting the horde.

BOSS PREP

THE PREPARATION FOR THIS ONE IS PRETTY BASIC. YOUR TARGETS WILL BE EARTH-TYPE, SO YOU WANT WIND-TYPE RINGS. YOU ALSO WANT A LOT OF WIND-TYPE MAGIC POWER, SO A GOOD TEAM MIGHT INCLUDE KAIM AND SETH ON THE FRONT LINE, JANSEN CASTING WINDA, AND COOKE USING CASTING SUPPORT ON MING SO SHE CAN CAST ALL-WIND EVERY TURN.

ROUGH EATERS AND ROUGH SERVANTS CAUSE THE CURSE AILMENT WITH THEIR PHYSICAL ATTACKS, WHILE THE ROUGH QUEEN CAN INSTANTLY PETRIFY ANYONE SHE BITES, SO EQUIP YOUR IMMORTALS WITH THE RELEVANT ANTI- SKILLS. FINALLY, COUNTER IS A GOOD WAY TO GET IN SOME EXTRA DAMAGE AGAINST THE CREATURES (WHO USE ONLY PHYSICAL ATTACKS), AND STEAL IS AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY SINCE THE QUEEN IS CARRYING A SLOT SEED.

BOSS TACTICS

THE ROUGH QUEEN IS QUITE SKILLED AT MANIPULATING HER SERVANTS. WHEN SHE TARGETS ONE OF THEM WITH HER PHEROMONES, IT WILL GAIN THE ABILITY TO USE A RUSH ATTACK THAT COULD DEAL OVER 1,000 POINTS OF DAMAGE. HOWEVER, WHEN THE QUEEN DOES THIS, ALL THE OTHER SERVANTS BECOME JEALOUS AND FOCUS THEIR ATTACKS ON THEIR FORMER COMRADE. STILL, THE BENEFITS OF THE DISTRACTION DON'T OUTWEIGH THE RISKS OF THE PHEROMONE STRENGTH BOOST, SO YOU'LL WANT TO KILL THE QUEEN'S CHAMPION AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. THE QUEEN CAN USE THE CRY MOVE TO REPLACE FALLEN SERVANTS, BUT THAT'S ALL THE MORE REASON TO KILL THEM—IT WILL KEEP HER USING CRY INSTEAD OF HER INSTANT-PETRIFICATION STONE HIT ATTACK.

IF YOU TAKE THE QUEEN TO THE BRINK OF DEATH WITHOUT FINISHING HER OFF, SHE'LL FLEE ON HER NEXT TURN, AND YOU'LL NEED TO CHASE HER DOWN. (SHE WON'T REGAIN HER LOST HP FOR THE SECOND FIGHT, BUT SHE WILL HAVE A NEW CROP OF SERVANTS.) YOU CAN PREVENT THIS UNTIMELY ESCAPE BY FINISHING HER WITH A WINDA SPELL INSTEAD OF SLOWLY WHITTILING DOWN HER HEALTH WITH PHYSICAL ATTACKS, BUT YOU MAY NOT WANT TO—IF YOU FIGHT HER TWICE, YOU CAN STEAL HER SLOT SEED TWICE!

A DOOZY OF A DEAL FROM DANDY THE CROW

Dandy the Crow has a street-corner stand where he sells random items for 50G a pop. Dandy's stock is mostly Mana Herbs and Healing Medicines, with a handful of Soul Medicines and Cure-Alls thrown in, but Dandy does have one great find—the Awakening Bracelet, an accessory with a skill that can give a character three extra skill slots. It's a don't-miss item, but it pops up so rarely that you may have to drop 50G at Dandy's stand a hundred times to get it. (Note that this is a limited-time offer, and if you don't take advantage of it during this trip to Saman, you'll never get another chance.) You can use one of your new slots for Magic Defense Boost 1, the excellent skill that you'll learn from the Pixie Flower accessory hidden in the pot by Dandy's cart.

YOUR PARTY WILL BE ATTACKED AS SOON AS THE VOYAGE BEGINS, SO COMPLETE YOUR BATTLE PREP BEFORE YOU SET FOOT ON THE SAMANESE MERCHANT SHIP. YOUR FOES CAN PARALYZE WITH THEIR ATTACKS, SO EVERYONE WHO HAS THE ANTI-PARALYSIS SKILL SHOULD EQUIP IT. THE KEY TO A GOOD OFFENSE IS LV2 COMPOSITE MAGIC (AND OF COURSE, HIGH-LEVEL BLACK, WHITE, AND SPIRIT MAGIC TO MATCH). THAT SKILL CAN BE LEARNED ONLY FROM THE MAGIC TRIAL RECORD SOLD IN SAMAN, SO MAKE SURE WHOEVER EQUIPS THAT IS WELL-PROTECTED AND WELL-SUPPORTED BY SKILLS LIKE MENTAL STABILITY AND CONCENTRATION OR CASTING SUPPORT. THE LV2 COMPOSITE MAGIC SPELLS INCLUDE THE MASSIVELY POWERFUL ALL-GROUNDA AND MASS-PARALYSIS RECOVERY SPELLS PARA-CURE AND NO PARALYSIS.

BOSS TACTICS

WHENEVER MANTALAS IS DAMAGED BY A SPELL OR ATTACK (EXCEPT FOR COUNTERATTACKS), IT WILL SUMMON A FRESH SUPPLY OF MANTAS AND THEN FLEE THE BATTLEFIELD, TO RETURN ONLY WHEN THE NEW CROP OF MANTAS IS SLAIN. NEVER TARGET MANTALAS UNTIL ITS PARTY IS AT A LOW GUARD CONDITION, AND TARGET IT ONLY WITH YOUR STRONGEST ATTACK—THREE WELL-TIMED CASTINGS OF GROUNDA OR ALL-GROUNDA SHOULD DO THE TRICK.

Victory here will unlock a new entry in your "A Thousand Years of Dreams" collection: "Seth's Dream Part 2."

SWIPING GATE PASSES FROM THE GUARDS

Pay special attention to the Uhran Guardsman you'll encounter in Experimental Staff, as each holds a Gate Pass that you can swipe with the Steal command. Gate Passes provide the only means to unlock the energy barriers that block your path in the Operation Division and the Upper Division, and stealing from guards is the only way to get them. But that doesn't necessarily mean using the Steal command—the guardsmen drop Bent Needles when defeated, and you need only two of those to make a Pickpocket Ring, which will give your fighters a chance to swipe an item when you score a Good or Perfect attack. With a few Pickpocket Rings, you'll have no trouble amassing the necessary supply of Gate Passes.

Guard Armors are both highly resistant to magic and extremely skilled at defending. Target them with skills like Combo instead of normal attacks—they can't block those.

THE MAGICAL CONTRAPTIONS OF EXPERIMENTAL STAFF

There are three magical devices in this area, and you'll need to use all three of them to reach the top of Experimental Staff.

- Glowing switches can raise or lower cranes, which may pull an obstacle out of your way, lift a platform that you can use to cross a gap, or—quite often—accomplish nothing at all. Don't assume every switch, such as the one at the entrance to the Operation Division, has a purpose. Switches are marked on the map with an S.
- Horizontal platforms run along tracks that cannot be traversed otherwise. Ride the platform marked L1 to reach the center of the Operation Division map, where you can lower a crane to reach the Aqua Mine spell.

- You need a Gate Pass to get through an electric barrier. After a Gate Pass is inserted, it will not be returned, so you'll need five Gate Passes to lower all five electric barriers. Most barriers are optional, and lead to shortcuts or treasure, such as the Knight Earrings in the Operation Division and the incredible White Lotus discus and Lotus Ring combo in the Upper Division. Barriers are marked on the map with glowing red lines.

REACHING THE TOP OF THE STAFF

From the entrance to Experimental Staff, proceed west, pausing to collect the Aqua Mine spell and Pendulums along the way (you will not be able to return to Experimental Staff later in the game, so treasure-hunters should collect all the loot now). Try to pick up at least two Gate Passes in combat so you can unlock both elevator 1 and the chest that holds the Knight Earrings. Our next destination is the Upper Division, which you can reach by taking elevator 1. If you can't find enough Gate Passes, you can also reach it by exiting through the door in the southwest and hiking up through the Outer Division, but if you take that route you won't be able to reach chests A and B on the Upper Division.

In the Upper Division, clear out the chests on the west side of the map, then head to the central part of the map, where a large crate is suspended over a horizontal platform track. If your goal is to get all the items, ride the platform (H3) all the way to the right, then lower the crate onto the track and ride the platform to the left so it hits the crate. You can then proceed down the right of the two paths and take platform H6 to treasure chest C.

After collecting the treasure, go back the way you came, ride platform H3 to the right, lift the crate, ride the platform to the left, lower the crate, and ride the platform into the crate again. This will put you on the left path, which ultimately leads to a switch that will drop a crate into the tracks of platform H6. Once again, go back the way you came, get on the right path again, and ride platform H6 into the newly dropped crate. From there you can walk south to a barrier-blocked exit to the upper part of the Outer Division. The door to the left in the Outer Division leads back to a small part of the Upper Division, where you'll find the area's final treasure chest. If you follow the stairs upward, you'll find a save spot just outside of the Glass Chamber, the final area of Experimental Staff. Phew.

ERRAND BOY FOR THE STAFF TECHNICIANS

If you'd like to give your former Uhran comrades a hand, you can support their cause by taking a job as the Staff (get it?) messenger. Start by taking elevator 2 down to the Operation Division, and head through the door opposite the elevator to reach a new region of the Outer Division. Proceed down the ladder to the left to reach Technician #1, who will ask you to deliver a message to Technician #2, who is working beneath him.

To reach Technician #2, you'll need to shove a crate off of the balcony, lower the platform, drag another crate to the side with the switch, raise the platform, and then shove that crate off of the balcony too. You can then lower the platform and cross to the technician's position.

The second technician will ask you to deliver a message to Technician #3, who is a lot easier to reach. Ride the elevator back up to the Upper Division, and then climb the Outer Division stairs past the save point. You'll find a ladder that will take you straight to the technician, who will reward your hard work with 11 Beat Stones—the exact number you need to craft a Guard Condition-damaging Hammer Ring.

6 THE MAN IN THE GLASS CHAMBER

You can't win in your battle with Gongora, but you can lose if you die in the first five turns. Attack him if you want, but focus most of your energy on survival, using magic like All-Barricade and All-Generate to keep your HP up, and the Wall skill to keep your Guard Condition high.

7 TWELVE MINUTES TO FLEE THE STAFF

When you awaken, you'll have 12 minutes to flee the area before it self-destructs. That's far more time than you need, so you can afford to fight a few battles with Magic Insects and new Explosive Bugs if you like. But if you want to play it safe, use Turn-Tail to flee from battle.

All of the elevators are blocked, so you'll have to flee via the Outer Division stairs. When you return to the Power Division, go right instead of going left, leaping over the gap in the floor and crossing what used to be a fast-moving train. You'll pass new treasure chests as you escape this way; the first contains a Power Drink, while the second holds a far more interesting pair of prizes: the Red Snake sword and the Snake Ring.

MERCHANTS TOWN SAMAN

THE CITY OF SAMAN IS BACK TO NORMAL, OR AT LEAST WHAT WE CAN ASSUME IS NORMAL. THERE ARE NO MORE HOSTILE CHILDREN, NO MORE SWINGING DOLLS, NO MORE TALKING CROWS—JUST GRATEFUL VILLAGERS WITH PLENTY OF RARE ITEMS AND TREASURE-HUNTING TIPS FOR KAIM.

THE AUCTION HOUSE IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The merchant Oreego has set up shop in a dank warehouse in the port. His stock is the same as it was before, but there's something new and exciting in the back of the building—an auction house that sells items you've missed in the game. Those attempting the Treasure Trove achievement will want to check in regularly, since it's the only way to get items from areas that you can no longer return to, such as Experimental Staff.

Bidding is a simple process of jacking up the price with the left stick and issuing a bid with the A button. Don't be too loose with your cash—the items you fail to win will cycle back around, so you'll keep getting chances to bid on them until you finally win.

RAT OUT RIORDAN THE SMUGGLER

Give the Secret Ledger to the man skulking outside of Riordan's house, and he'll have solid proof that the merchant Riordan didn't make his pile of gold through legitimate business. The next time you enter Riordan's house, you'll find the investigator waiting. He'll thank you for your cooperation with a Solid Spartan sword and Spartan Ring.

3

DREAMS AND CLUES IN THE NEW SAMAN

As you approach the city exit, a weary Cooke and Mack will convince the party to take a day off. While they sleep, the grown-ups will discuss strategy—to rest at the inn, simply leave the room. The next morning, many of the townspeople will have new dialogue that leads to dreams and treasure-hunting tips.

First head north to the stall that used to be Dandy the Crow's shop. The shopkeeper will offer Kaim some fruit, unlocking "Bright Rain" of the "A Thousand Years of Dreams" series. Then visit the tavern, where Sighing Zamilo will give you a treasure-hunting clue for the Ice Canyon ahead. Then return to Audun's Item Shop, where Easygoing Valle will give you a tip for a future area known as the Great Ancient Ruins.

THE THIEF AND HIS STASH

Outside of the item shop, you'll find two villagers accusing Talio of stealing from a local store. Tell Talio that you believe in his innocence, and he'll tell you his theory about who really did it—Dandy the Crow. Search Dandy's old stall; you'll see a shiny white sparkle just to the side. When you return the stolen property and exonerate Talio, the villagers will reward you with a General's Pen accessory.

When you leave the area and come back, Talio will return to his original position on the west side of town. Speak to him again, and he'll offer a treasure-hunting tip that will point you to the tip of the pier in the Port of Saman, where you'll find the Splitter spell.

PROTECT YOUR BACK ROW FROM OPPORTUNISTS

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP IS NOT A PRIORITY IN THE ICE CANYON—FOES LIKE RAPTORS AND DANDOMEN TARGET BACK-ROW CHARACTERS OR THE LOWEST-HP PARTY MEMBER EXCLUSIVELY. THAT'LL MAKE POOR COOKE THE PARTY PUNCHING BAG, WHICH CAN BE A VERY TRAGIC THING IF YOU LET YOUR GC DROP. HOWEVER, IF YOU CAN KEEP YOUR GC AT LEVEL 4 BY DILIGENTLY HEALING BETWEEN BATTLES AND USING BATTLE SKILLS LIKE WALL, YOUR FOES WILL BE STUCK WASTING THEIR ATTACKS ON WELL-PROTECTED BACK-ROW CHARACTERS.

1 BATTLE THE ELMON KING FOR YOUR LOST ITEMS

The cute, monkeylike Elmon are master thieves who can steal your items—even valuable ones like accessories—and flee the battle with them. Fortunately, there is a way to get your lost items back. If you follow the upper roads on the Ice Gorge map, you'll find the Elmon homeland at point 1. There you can challenge the Elmon Leader and win back all of your stuff. But the fact that you can win everything back shouldn't make you complacent about letting lesser Elmon steal from you; the leader can use stolen items like bombs against you, and his Item Blast attack deals 50 points of damage for every item his subjects have stolen.

2 SLIDE INTO THE TREASURE CAVE

If you aren't careful, you can easily slide down the icy walls of the Ice Gorge and Blizzard Peak areas. Slipping can be annoying when it's an accident, but if you do it intentionally, it can be incredibly lucrative. After crossing the three wind tunnels in Blizzard Peak, slide down the wall at point 2 to reach a chest with a Seed inside, then follow the path east into the Ice Gorge, where you'll find Cubic Music Score 5. A similar maneuver at point 3 will take you to a box full of Tornado Leaves.

SWIPE THE PENGUIN'S ACCESSORIES

When you see the penguin, continue west down the path to find the entrance to its small cave at point 4. After the penguin slides away, open its treasure chest (which contains a Warm Vest), then run out of the cave, head east past the point where you first spotted it, and slide down the first icy slope you see. The penguin should be waiting below, where you can grab it and help yourself to its Amulet. Clearly the Elmon aren't the only shameless thieves in the Ice Canyon! The Amulet's Absorb Attack is incredibly useful, and you should get your immortals learning it right away.

BLOCKING THE WIND TUNNEL

At the crossroads south of point 4, stop at the series of ledges marked J1, wait for the winds to abate, and then leap across. The timing is a little tricky, but the reward—Earrings of Wisdom, which teach Lv5 Black-White Magic—is more than worth the trouble.

Next jump east across the ledges marked J2. There's no treasure here, but if you give the big white pile at point 5 a shove, it will cause a small avalanche that blocks the wind tunnel below. With that wind tunnel jammed, you can proceed to the save point and the boss beyond.

BOSS PREP

MAKE A PARTY OUT OF YOUR TOUGHEST CHARACTERS—PROBABLY KAIM, SETH, MACK, SARAH, AND MING—SINCE THE BOSS WILL USE A COMBO THAT GIVES YOU ALL FORMATION PARALYSIS AND THEN PULLS EVERYONE INTO THE FRONT ROW. (NOTE THAT THE FREEFORM SKILL WON'T HELP UNLESS EVERY SINGLE CHARACTER HAS IT.) PUTTING EVERYONE IN THE FRONT ROW MAKES GUARD CONDITION IRRELEVANT AND FORCES YOU TO CONCENTRATE HEAVILY ON SKILLS THAT BOOST PHYSICAL DEFENSE. ABILITIES THAT CAN NEGATE AN ATTACK, LIKE ABSORB ATTACK AND WEAPON GUARD, ARE FANTASTIC.

ON OFFENSE, FIGHTERS WILL WANT TO USE POWER HIT, WHICH DEALS A BIT OF EXTRA DAMAGE. (COMBO IS A NO-NO; THE BOSS'S DEADLIEST ATTACK IS ITS COUNTERATTACK, AND COMBO GIVES HIM DOUBLE THE CHANCES OF PULLING OFF A COUNTER.) SPELLCASTERS WILL HAVE TO SURVIVE IN THE FRONT ROW, AND SKILLS LIKE CONCENTRATE, MENTAL STABILITY, AND REDUCE CASTING TIME WILL HELP THEM GET THEIR SPELLS OFF BEFORE THEY'RE CRUSHED BENEATH DINOZAORO'S HEEL.

Absorb Attack can turn 694 points of damage into 694 points of HP recovery.

SPEND YOUR FIRST FEW TURNS HAVING MING AND SARAH CAST ALL-GENERATE AND ALL-SHIELD ON THE PARTY, AND COVER ON THEMSELVES. MACK SHOULD HIT SETH AND KAIM WITH POWERUS SPELLS, THEN CAST SPEEDA AND MINDUS ON THE SPELLCASTERS. WHEN YOUR DEFENSES ARE SET, HAVE AT LEAST ONE SPELLCASTER CASTING ZEPHYRA AT ALL TIMES WHILE YOUR FIGHTERS USE POWER HIT AND EVERYONE ELSE USES OFFENSIVE MAGIC. IT'LL BE A BLOODY FIGHT, BUT YOU'LL COME OUT ON TOP.

The Cover spell is good for only about one free hit from the Dinozaoro—but that turn is all a Zephyra-casting spellcaster may need to turn around a losing battle.

RETURN THE CROWN TO THE ELMON KING

After defeating the boss, don't overlook the faint path that leads to a ledge where there's a treasure chest and a royal seal. The chest contains the Elmon Crown that the Elmon Leader was so convinced you had stolen. You can't return it to him directly, but the next time you battle an Elmon, leave it alive for a turn or two and it will swipe the crown without fail. Visit the Elmon Leader after its theft, and you'll find it sitting atop his head. The Crown has added a few new attacks to his repertoire (including All-Seal, so prepare accordingly by equipping your mages with Anti-Seal), and a Mind Bangle to his inventory. A chance to swipe the Mind Bangle (which teaches MP Max Up 2) is your only tangible reward for this fight, but if you win their respect, no Elmon will ever steal from you again.

LOOT WHILE THE LOOTING IS GOOD

You won't be able to hang out in Gohtza long, and after you leave it you may not be able to return to some of its areas. So if you hope to complete Gohtza's subquests and collect all of its items, explore the town thoroughly before you take the elevator to Gohtza Station.

Most of the interesting stuff is in Low Town, but the Middle Town Store is well worth a visit. Not only can you buy several weapon upgrades and ring-assembly components, but the ringmaker is finally offering a series of rings with level-2 enhancements. If you take a look at his recipes and decide you can't make any of them yet, think again—you can make all the rings necessary for the Flare, Stream, Cyclone, and Planet combinations simply by buying components at the Sigrum's Weapon Emporium counter. It's worth the trouble to make a full set—when your fighters are triggering three level-2 enhancements with each strike, you'll be dealing nearly double damage when you score Perfection!

DELIVER A MESSAGE TO THE GATES OF KHENT

Speak to the trio of Khent soldiers near the Abandoned Apartment in Gohtza's Low Town. They'll ask you to deliver a message to a guard stationed at the Gates of Khent, which is a city you unlocked when you completed the Ice Canyon. Leave Gohtza, select the City of Khent, and deliver your message to the Khent soldier Gilghef. He'll reward you with an Obsidian Spirit Band accessory. CHASE A BAD BET UNTIL IT PAYS OFF

The Abandoned Apartment is full of surprises. Enter through the rear staircase to grab a few hidden items (including two Seeds), then return to Low Town and take the elevator down to the 10th floor. There you'll find a general store (which contains plenty of hidden items, but nothing to buy) and a secret casino. Give the casino a thorough search to turn up an Innocence Ring and Jansen's Innocence Baton, then talk to the gambler at the table. He'll ask for a loan to feed his gambling habit; you can offer the loan in 100G, 500G, or 1,000G amounts. In exchange, he'll hand over Signed Loan Papers.

Every time you leave the casino and re-enter, the gambler will ask for more money, and you can either give it to him or demand that he give back what you've already loaned him (with a tiny amount of interest). If you loan him money 10 times, he'll finally hit the big jackpot and repay the debt fivefold. (So if you loan him 1,000G every time, you'll ultimately get 50,000G back.) Most importantly, you'll have learned a valuable lesson about how to quintuple your money by giving it to degenerate gamblers.

When you're done exploring, take the elevator from Middle Town to Gohtza Station, where you'll be turned away for not having the appropriate ID. Then head north toward the elevator to High Town, where Kaim will run into someone he knows. Kaim and Sarah will quickly separate from the party to pursue the man while Cooke and Mack run off to get a closer look at Gohtza's amazing trains. The series of events that follows will have you switching between the three parties.

SETH'S PARTY (PART 1)

Take the elevator to High Town, where Ming can get you past the guards. There are no hidden items or interesting people to talk to, so head straight to the palace, where the king will set up a series of barriers to test Ming. Clear them with the A button, and don't worry when the third barrier pushes you back—each set of barriers can be cleared only on the second try.

KAIM'S PARTY (PART 1)

Follow the hooded man to the Apartment Building, and take the elevator to the 7th floor. You'll find the hooded man waiting in an abandoned room there.

COOKE'S PARTY (PART 1)

After Cooke and Mack sneak past the ticket-taker, they'll be able to loot the three remaining treasures in Gohtza Station. You'll also find a save spot and a shop with the same stock as the one in Middle Town. If you haven't bought the Barricadus and Shieldus spells, do so now—you may never get another chance.

Take the escalator to platform 1, where you'll find Mack's Circular Dance Discus and a Circular Dance Ring, then to platform 3, where an elderly woman will tell the kids about the Aurora. Return to platform 1 and hop onboard the train. Oh, Cooke . . . this is not going to end well.

In the first battle, Kaim can swat foes with physical attacks and a Lotus Ring while Sarah blasts them with spells. If your characters aren't equipped with skills they need, remember that you can change your equipment at any time—say, by giving Sarah the Earrings of Wisdom she needs to use both White Magic and Black Magic.

Your foes will be too far away to physically strike in the second battle, so have Kaim use bombs or equip a spellcasting accessory. Save the External Engine Unit for last, as it will discharge MP-recovery energy every turn until it is destroyed.

The final battle is against the mighty Armored Train, which can cast a protection spell on itself that makes it immune to physical attacks. Equip Kaim with an accessory that will let him cast spells—Spirit Magic spell Gamble is a nice choice since its power will not be affected by Kaim's poor Magic Attack stat.

SETH'S PARTY (PART 3)

After a series of event scenes, control will switch from Seth to a surprise guest star. Lead that character to the podium (you can't go anywhere else), deliver your speech, and then hop into the portal that will take you to Grand Staff. There, test the acolytes in battle by cycling through every spell you can cast. Take note of which spell kills which color of acolyte—that's the whole point of this exercise.

KAIM'S PARTY (PART 3)

Now on the Aurora-Bound Train, you'll be able to heal and save your game. Do both—things could get hairy.

In the first car, you'll battle a Glacier Fragment and a Glacier Beast. Your gamer instincts tell you to fight ice with fire, but they're wrong; as Water-types, both enemies are vulnerable to Ground. Have Kaim equip a Planet Ring while Sarah casts Grounda, and target the Glacier Beast first—its Ice Fang attack can be brutal.

In the next car you'll need to move quickly to avoid the spreading ice. But don't move so quickly that you miss the Slot Seed glittering on the ground! Grab it, then push the crates away to make a path through the car. Only the metallic crates with the diamond pattern on top can be pushed, so don't waste time trying to grab the wood crates.

In later cars, the pushing puzzles get a little trickier. Remember that you can pause to figure out when to push and when to pull. Don't miss the hidden chest near the end of the second crate-pushing car; it'll take some work to get to it, but its Goddess Medicine is a nice find.

In the penultimate car, take the time to read the shining note; you'll learn that the door to the caboose is password-locked. Each of the four notes on the wall will tell you one digit; pause the game to write them down. Or don't. The password is 9240.

Make sure you're at full health before you enter the password, because you'll face three Glacier Beasts in the caboose. After blasting one with a Grounda spell, Sarah may need to switch to healing duties to survive the onslaught of Ice Fang attacks.

THE NEW KINGDOM OF UHRA

KING TOLTEN HAS MADE IT SAFELY BACK TO HIS KINGDOM, BUT HE ISN'T BEING WELCOMED WITH OPEN ARMS. WORSE YET, SETH HAS JOINED HIM AS AN UNINVITED COMPANION, AND SHE CARES ABOUT NOTHING BUT RESCUING SED, THE NOTORIOUS PIRATE WHOSE CAPTURE WAS ONE OF TOLTEN'S FEW ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS KING.

1

THE KING OF UHRA AND THE PIRATE QUEEN

The teleportation spell that snared Seth and Tolten has warped them straight to Uhra's Central Station Square. You'd think that would be good news for the King of Uhra, but his subjects have bought into Gongora's lies, and Uhra soldiers will attack him on sight. Fortunately, they should be no match for Seth and Tolten. Furnish Tolten with a good ring and a useful accessory like the Power Bangle, and get Seth linking Tolten's skills right away. Persistence is a good place to start.

TRAVERSING UHRA'S SECRET PATHWAYS

The main streets of Uhra are too dangerous, so Seth will lead Tolten into a new Back Alley area. There you'll find a save spot, a heal spot, and a dozen hidden items. The encounter rate here is quite low, so explore to your heart's content. When you're ready to move on, climb the ladder at point 1 to reach a ledge that leads into Uhra's Main Street. The first door on the ledge leads to the upper story of Tolsan's Inn, where one of his majesty's former attendants will teach Tolten how to open the royal seals that you've encountered throughout your adventure. He'll also hand over the Talisman accessory, which contains the excellent Absorb Magic skill. The second door leads to the rear of Barkus' item shop, where you can buy basic supplies, cut deals with the ringmaker, and loot a few hidden items.

TAKE A SHORTCUT THROUGH THE SEWERS

Slip out through the back door of Tolsan's Inn, and you'll find an entrance into the sewers. Barred gates are blocking your progress to the north, so you'll need to find a way around it. Close the sluice gate at point 1, and then open the sluice gate at point 2. That will drain the water out of this section of the map, revealing a set of stairs that will take you right past the barred gates. Before you head west, check out the small passage to the east, which leads to a balcony over an area known as the Secret Cave. Grab the three Kelo-Helmets from the chest and return to the sewers—there's no way down from here.

You can hop across these metal platforms to reach the treasure chest at the end. To get the one on the left, press the switch at point 3 to lower the high platforms.

FISHING TREASURE OUT OF THE POOLS

Are those the sparkles of items you see in the water pools west of point 4? Indeed they are, and you'll need to carefully manipulate the three sluice gates here to get them. The water flows from the north, so shutting the farthest-north gate and opening the other two will drain all the water, allowing you to climb into the upper pool and grab a Goddess Medicine. However, you can only climb halfway down in the lower pool, so you'll need to manipulate the water so that pool's item floats up to the halfway mark. To do so, close all the gates (if both pools aren't empty, open and close the lower gates to empty them). Next, open just the northernmost gate, which will fill the upper pool with water, and then close the gate again. Now open the middle gate, which will cause half the water to flow from the upper pool to the lower pool, floating the All-Curse spell to the same level as the lower-pool ledge.

CASTLE STATION SQUARE

1

A ROYAL CACHE FOR KING TOLTEN

You'll exit the sewers in a new area near the castle, where once again you'll find many hidden items and only a few Uhran guards to stop you. After collecting all of the treasures at the street level, climb the ladder at point 1 and proceed along the rooftops. Descend at the first ladder you pass (point 2) and turn into a darkened alleyway to find the first Royal Seal. It will dissipate at Tolten's touch, revealing a powerful sword upgrade for Tolten, and an accompanying ring. Then head back up to the rooftops and descend near point 3. Continue along the path to exit into a public square, where you'll find a save spot and a chest that reveals a Slot Seed.

BLAZE A TRAIL THROUGH THE BATTLEFIELD

A battle will break out in the Amphitheater of the Sky, pitting unusually tough Uhran Infantry soldiers against equally strong Gohtzan Infantry. All you want to do is cross the screen to the grey pit area where all of the prisoners are waiting, but in the chaos of battle, that won't be easy. Every fight you trigger here will consist of equal numbers of Uhran and Gohtzan troops, and they're just as happy to attack each other as they are to attack you. Dish out your pain equally, because if one side dies early, the other side will have no choice but to turn their blades on you. Heal up in the few steps between battles, because the final challenge is a tough one with three soldiers on each side.

A TOUR THROUGH THE RUINS OF GOHTZA

Jansen's scrap dungeon ain't pretty, but it's well equipped. There's a save spot, a bed you can sleep in, and if you ram the rubble on the left side of the cave, a hidden chest with a bottle of Ambrosia inside. When you head outside, you'll find Ming waiting, and she'll be Jansen's constant companion for this part of the game. Let Jansen impress his lady love by standing out front (he is the heartier of the two), and give him a shot at survival by equipping him with the Amulet and Sword Teachings accessories—between Absorb Attack and Weapon Guard, he should be able to survive several rounds of attacks from the Clipper foes that roam Gohtza's ruined Eastern District.

A HELPFUL TIP IN LOW TOWN

Low Town looks a whole lot chillier, but otherwise hasn't changed much. You can pick up any items you missed in the city, although the door to Rosa's Restaurant is frozen over. You can visit all the rooms in the Abandoned Apartment, and even loan money to your favorite compulsive gambler. But the best reason to visit that chilly apartment building is right outside the casino—talk to the guy behind the elevator to get a treasure-hunting tip that will point you to a Scroll of Balance hidden right here in Low Town.

- A. Cure-All
- B. Warrior's Armband

2

The Abandoned Apartment elevator has a new stop: the Backyard. It's closed at the moment, but you can fight for prizes in Backyard arena battles later in the game. In the meantime, kick the barrels to uncover a hidden Slot Seed.

ONWARD THROUGH THE EAST DISTRICT

Leave Low Town via the new bridge to the east, which connects to the crumbling Eastern District. You'll have to take a circuitous route by climbing ladders and leaping over gaps in the floor, but you can make things easier for future trips by ramming the rigging at point 1 to create a bridge that connects the two sides of the map.

After you bash open the rusty security gate and climb onto the train tracks, don't miss the chest that's barely visible in the rubble behind you. It contains yet another handy Slot Seed for Ming.

4

FOLLOW THE TRACKS TO COOKE AND MACK

When you start hiking the tracks, you'll have to face the same tough assortment of foes that plagued Cooke and Mack. When facing large parties of enemies, have Jansen cover Ming with defensive spells while she casts combination magic like All-Flara that can wipe the board.

When control reverts to Cooke and Mack, just keep walking into the wind. Eventually the two parties will meet—just in time to fight a boss together.

WITH ONLY ONE IMMORTAL IN YOUR PARTY, THERE ISN'T MUCH THAT YOU CAN DO TO PREPARE FOR THIS FIGHT. MING SHOULD HAVE A FULL COMPLEMENT OF SPELLCASTING SKILLS AND ALL THE DEFENSIVE SKILLS YOU CAN MUSTER. ALL OF YOUR MORTALS SHOULD DEVOTE THEIR EQUIPMENT SLOTS TO DEFENSIVE ITEMS LIKE THE WATER CHARM AND THE WARRIOR'S ARMBAND. IF MING DOESN'T KNOW STATUS ANALYSIS, SOMEONE SHOULD PUT ON THE SEARCH GLASSES—YOU'LL NEED TO KEEP TRACK OF YOUR TARGET'S HP.

BOSS TACTICS

THE BOSS WON'T PUT UP MUCH RESISTANCE AT FIRST, SO YOU CAN AFFORD TO SPEND A FEW TURNS CASTING PROTECTIVE SPELLS. WHITE MAGIC USERS SHOULD CAST ALL-BARRICADE, ALL-SHIELD, AND COVER ON BOTH OF YOUR FRONT-ROW CHARACTERS. MACK SHOULD CAST MINDUS ON JANSEN AND MING, AND POWERUS ON HIMSELF.

BLAST THE LIVING ICE WITH GROUND A SPELLS, BUT KEEP AN EYE ON ITS HP—STOP ALL OFFENSIVE SPELLCASTING WHEN THE BOSS DROPS TO 25% OF ITS MAX HP (UNDER 1,600 HP); AT THAT POINT IT WILL CAST REFLECT, AND YOUR QUEUE FULL OF GROUNDUS SPELLS WOULD END UP WIPING OUT YOUR OWN PARTY. THAT'S WHEN MACK SHOULD START SWINGING WITH POWERUS-ENHANCED COMBO ATTACKS, WHILE EVERYONE ELSE HEALS OR TOSSES GROUND A BOMBS. (REFLECT CAN'T BOUNCE ITEMS.)

If you cast Cover on both Jansen and Mack, it will absorb enough damage from the Living Ice's devastating All-Aquara spell to keep your GC at level 4. You'll have to recast it after each All-Aquara spell, but it's worth it.

SHUT DOWN THE MAGIC TOWERS

You'll probably find the magic engine at point 1 before you even fight your first battle, so it may not be clear what it does. Once Sed repairs a magic engine, all Magic Tower enemies in the area will lose all of their combat abilities, but only in the area where the magic engine was found. In later parts of the sewer, it will take a bit more work to find the magic engines, and in the meantime the Magic Towers will be able to target your party with Flarus spells and use Casting Support to hasten other enemy spells.

Sed has a ton of great skills to teach his momma, particularly Double Item, Auto Shield, Auto Barrier, and Magic Seal. And thanks to his Double SP skill, she'll learn them twice as fast as normal (even if Seth herself doesn't have Double SP equipped). Sed is a crack shot with that gun, too.

SCRAPING THE GIANT DRAIN

You can zip through the seemingly straightforward Giant Drain and the two small areas that follow, but treasure seekers will want to stop and smell the sewage in the second Conduit. Before heading through the Treatment Plant door, look for the ladder just off camera at point 2. That ladder ultimately leads you into a new area of the Giant Drain, where a second ladder connects to a series of platforms just below the water's surface. Use these platforms to grab the two treasures in the Giant Drain map, and then exit through a northeast door that connects to the lowest level of the Conduit.

DRAIN THE TREATMENT PLANT TANK

Don't worry—this tank is a lot easier to drain than the last ones were. Just close the northern sluice gate by pressing the button at point 4, then open the side gate by pressing the button at point 5. That'll drain the water, but you'll need to press the button again so you can use the side gate as a bridge to the ladder near point 4. Descend into the tank, take the stairs back up, and head north to the Magic Tank room.

SHIFT THE MAGIC TANK BRIDGES

In the Magic Tank area, a series of gates that are locked on the other side will force you to drop down a ladder to the lower floor, and then make your way to the northeast tank. There you'll find a bridge that leads southwest to a central control terminal. Fix the magic engine at point 1, then press the button at point 2 to rotate the bridge you just crossed so it points to the southeast. (The other switch rotates the northwest bridge, but there's no real point in doing that.) Take the bridge to the southeast tank, climb the ladder, and head east to a third Conduit area.

From the Conduit, treasure seekers can head out the door to the southwest, which leads to a small area of the Treatment Plant that has a box full of Demon Sculpture ring components. To proceed through the sewers, head out the door to the northwest, and climb the ladder to the top of the Magic Tank area. From there you'll be on the button side of all the gates, and you can both grab the remaining treasures on your way to the northeast.

DON'T FORGET, HOWEVER, THAT ZEPHYRA TAKES TWO TURNS TO CAST—WHEN YOUR HEALTH BECOMES TOO DIRE, HAVE SED FIRE OFF A COUPLE OF HEALING TANKS WITH THE DOUBLE ITEM SKILL.

BOSS TACTICS

THERE ARE TWO WAYS TO GO ABOUT BATTLING THIS BOSS. THE FIRST IS THE OLD-FASHIONED WAY: PUMP YOUR HEROES WITH POWER DRINKS, POWERUS SPELLS, AND TOLTEN'S AWARD MEDAL SKILL, AND HIT THE BOSS UNTIL IT DIES. THE OTHER IS TO IGNORE THE BOSS AND FOCUS ON TARGETING THE DOCK CRANE WITH RANGED ATTACKS SUCH AS SPELLS, BOMBS, AND SED'S GUN. IF YOU CAN HIT THE DOCK CRANE AROUND EIGHT TIMES, YOU'LL DROP POWERFUL EXPLOSIVES ON THE MAGIC BEAST, ENDING THE BATTLE INSTANTLY. NOTE THAT IF YOU WIN THIS WAY YOU'LL SKIP THE USUAL END-OF-BATTLE SCREEN, AND WON'T EVER BE ABLE TO GET THE MAGIC BEAST'S DROPPED ITEM. SO IF YOU WANT THAT CRYSTAL FRAGMENT, YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE TO SWIPE IT WITH A MUG-ENHANCEMENT RING OR THE STEAL SKILL.

FEEDING THE WOUNDED AND THE POT-BOUND

The man at point 1 has a wounded leg and isn't quick enough to collect his daily Meal Ration. Agree to do it for him, then zip toward Sonya at point 2 as quickly as humanly possible—she'll run out of rations after only a second or two (if you fail, enter a tent and exit it again to reset this quest). Deliver the Meal Ration to the wounded man, and he'll thank you with a Spiky Seed.

When you visit the Pipot in the Medical Tent, it will beg you for that Spiky Seed. Hand it over, and you'll get a Prickly Seed in return, which is highly coveted by the Pipot in Saman. Thus begins the Pipot trading quest, which you'll be able to pursue more fully in disc 4.

If you haven't missed any Seeds up to this point, you should find the 80th one here in the Refugee Camp. That's the magic number that will get you a Gigantes Brooch with the HP Max Boost 3 skill.

DELIVER A MESSAGE FOR A REFUGEE

The man at point 3 just wants to let his mom in Low Town know that he's okay. You can't yet select Gohtza from the world map, but you can start at the Frozen Tracks and hoof it back to Low Town if you want (or you can wait until disc 4, when it will be easier to reach). You'll find Mom waiting outside of the shop counter in the northeast corner of Low Town. Give her the Letter to Mom, and she'll hand over a Black Belt, which has a skill that will boost your counterattack rate.

THE CONTRACT OUT ON DON LAPLOSS

For being in a refugee camp, the Storage Tent is surprisingly well stocked. But it's still not enough for the shopkeeper—he wants to put a hit out on Don Laploss, who is interfering with his shipments. Don is the leader of the Gyaplos monsters that wander the Frozen Tracks area, and if you want to meet him, you'll have to explore the tracks until you're attacked by a quartet of Gyaplos. Kill all the Gyaplos but one, and it will use the Cry ability to summon reinforcements. Continue to kill the new arrivals while leaving one Gyaplos alive, and eventually Don Laploss will answer the Cry personally. He looks the same as the other Gyaplos, but is a bit tougher, although he's nothing your current Jansen-lead party can't handle. Bring the Don Laploss Claws back to the Storage Tent, and the shopkeeper will thank you with a Sacred Torch (a staff for Cooke) and a Sacred Ring.

4 A CLUE ABOUT THE MISSING TRAIN...?
When you leave the refugee camp through the north exit, you'll run into a drunk who claims to have spotted the wreckage of Kaim and Sarah's train. His information is spotty, but it's enough to unlock the Crashed Magic Train Site location on your world map. Get to it!

THE PIT BENEATH THE TRAIN

You've found Kaim and Sarah's train, but no bodies. Did you really think it would be that easy? Search the area for the white sparkle of items in the snow, and don't miss the chest with the All-Barricadus spell near the cave mouth. Then save and head toward the Burning Cave. The enemies inside are going to be a lot tougher than anything you've faced recently, so you may want to do a few fights to level up, then return to the Refugee Camp for healing and supplies.

1

Nothing wipes out Burning Cave foes quite like a deadly shower from a Composite All-Aquara or All-Flara spell. Be sure to teach Ming Auto MP Recovery from the Crystal Fragment Seth's party stole, and then pass the fragment on to Jansen or Cooke.

VOLCANIC TRAPS IN THE BURNING CAVE

It's pretty easy to time your movements to run over the geysers when they aren't erupting, but it's a little trickier to stick your hand in and fish out the items that some of them contain. Note that the scalding water can't harm you as long as the [Name of Item] Obtained window is open, so you can always wait out a geyser blast before pressing a button to clear the window.

3

A LITTLE POISON NEVER HURT ANYONE

You'll encounter a patch of toxic gas near point 1, and a chest with the Forcea spell right in the middle of it. There's nothing you can do to clear the gas, so heal up, charge in, grab the loot, and get out before you die. Don't bother running through it to point C—that's a Royal Seal, and Tolten is nowhere to be found.

But don't be so eager to wade into the green when you next encounter the gas on the Path of Poison Mist map. On that map, you'll find a boulder at point 2 that you can knock off of a ledge, blocking the source of the mist. The poison gas will dissipate immediately.

TAKE THE STRANGE ROCK FOR A RIDE

When you're hopping across the rock at point 3, it'll buckle and toss you into the shallow pool of water. Walk around the pillar at point C until you find the direction from which you can ram it, and then give it a shove to knock the treasure chest off its top.

BOSS PREP

THIS BATTLE IS ALL ABOUT MACK; YOUR OTHER CHARACTERS NEED ONLY SUPPORT HIM WITH BUFF SPELLS. GIVE MACK THE POWER BANGLE TO BOOST HIS ATTACK STRENGTH, AND HAVE MING TAKE OVER HIS SPIRIT MAGIC DUTIES WHILE ALSO HELPING COOKE CAST HIGH-LEVEL WHITE MAGIC. THIS BOSS WILL ATTACK WITH THE FREEZE AILMENT AND ALL-AQUARA SPELLS, SO ANTI-FREEZE AND WATER RESISTANCE UP ARE INVALUABLE.

BOSS TACTICS

THE ICE MAGIC BEAST IS PROTECTED BY A PERMANENT REFLECT SPELL, SO ANY ATTEMPT TO CAST SPELLS AT IT WILL BACKFIRE HORRIBLY. THAT LEAVES YOUR PARTY WITH ONLY ONE VIABLE PATH TO VICTORY: PUMPING MACK WITH POWERUS SPELLS AND HAVING HIM USE COMBO REPEATEDLY. IF YOU CAN KEEP MACK PROTECTED, THIS SHOULD TAKE ONLY 10 TURNS OR SO, AND YOU CAN ALWAYS SPEED IT UP BY CHUCKING A FEW BOMBS THE BOSS'S WAY.

SINCE YOUR SPELLCASTERS ARE USELESS ON OFFENSE, BUSY THEM WITH BUILDING AN IMPREGNABLE DEFENSE OF ALL-SHIELDUS, ALL-BARRICADUS, AND COVERA SPELLS, AND IMMEDIATELY HEALING ANY WOUNDS THE PARTY SUFFERS. IN PARTICULAR, WATCH OUT FOR THE BOSS'S ONE-TWO PUNCH OF CHILLING A ROW OF CHARACTERS AND THEN FREEZING THEM SOLID ON THE NEXT TURN. (PUTTING MACK ALONE IN THE FRONT SHOULD ENSURE THAT HE IS NEVER TARGETED.) YOU CAN DEFROST THE FROZEN WITH BLAZING RUBIES AND CURE-ALL SPELLS, OR JUST WAIT IT OUT—FROZEN CHARACTERS USUALLY THAW WITHIN TWO TURNS.

THE WINDSWEPT SEA

SED'S NAUTILUS CAN REACH BOTH COASTAL AREAS YOU'VE VISITED IN THE PAST AND UNEXPLORED REGIONS LOCATED ON THE ISLANDS OF THE WINDSWEPT SEA. BEFORE YOU ATTEMPT THE CHALLENGING DUNGEONS AHEAD, IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO REVISIT OLD CITIES LIKE UHRA AND GOHTZA, WHERE MANY LUCRATIVE SIDE QUESTS AWAIT.

1

TREASURE HUNTING WITH THE NAUTILUS

When you dive underwater with the Nautilus, you'll discover places where bubbles rise from the ocean floor. Get close to the bubbles and examine them with the A button to dredge up a piece of sunken treasure. All of these treasures are right along the coast, so if you circle the map underwater you'll find all of the ones that you can reach without crossing any currents. The best treasure of all is the easiest one to find; warp to the Western Shore of Uhra, hit the B button to submerge, and you'll be looking right at a Slot Seed.

SEARCHING FOR UNDERWATER CAVERNS

Treasure isn't the only thing you'll find beneath the surface of the sea. You can also find underwater paths that lead to new areas, typically where you see unusually long inlets on your map. To reach the island lake that Ming asked about, head southeast from the Burning Cave, dive beneath the waves, and look for a suspicious hole in the inlet of the southeast island. Resurface in that island's lake, and park the Nautilus to unlock the Great Ancient Ruins area. This area will be covered in Chapter 4-2.

RAIDING THE TERRACE CAVE

Another new area is on the large island southwest of the main continent. Submerge the Nautilus and search for another hole along its southern coast. That leads straight to the Terrace Cave, an area where you'll face foes that are challenging, but beatable at your current party level. The loot here includes Cubic Music Score 7 and a bunch of ring components. See the "Optional Areas and Missions" section of this book for more details.

1

KING GONGORA'S SECRET

Tolten is no longer a wanted man, so there's no need to avoid the Uhran guards. In fact, the guards at the Great Gate are nothing but helpful—one has a treasure-hunting tip that points to the Demon King Staff and the Demon King Ring hidden in the Experimental Lab beneath Gongora's Mansion.

DELIVER THE SOLDIER'S LETTER

Another Great Gate soldier will ask you to deliver a letter to Uhra's new Castle Station. You can reach it via the monorail or by hopping a cab, and you'll find the letter's recipient at point 1. Your reward for this simple errand is the stunning Freedom Armband, which will teach your immortals the fantastic Slot +5 skill.

GONGORA'S SECRET CAVE

WITH GONGORA OUT OF TOWN, YOU'RE FREE TO RAID HIS OFFICE FOR A HANDFUL OF MINOR TREASURES. YOU CAN ALSO PAY A VISIT TO GONGORA'S SECRET CAVE, AN OPTIONAL AREA THAT YOU CAN REACH BY OPENING THE ROYAL SEAL IN THE MANSION'S YARD. THE ENEMIES DOWN THERE AREN'T TOO DIFFICULT, WITH ONE BIG CAVEAT: VIRTUALLY EVERYONE IN YOUR PARTY WILL NEED THE ANTI-PETRIFY SKILL TO SURVIVE. IN ADDITION TO WHAT YOU FIND ON THE TREASURE HUNT, YOU'LL FIND THE MAGICAL LOCK KEY AND THE BACKYARD WEEKLY, WHICH OPEN SEVERAL NEW BATTLES IN THE BACKYARD, AND A MAGIC CAPSULE NEEDED FOR A QUEST IN THE GRAND STAFF CONSTRUCTION BASE (SO VISIT THERE FIRST). YOU'LL ALSO BE ABLE TO WITNESS A MAJOR STORYLINE EVENT. SEE THE "OPTIONAL AREAS AND MISSIONS" SECTION OF THIS BOOK FOR FULL DETAILS.

FIND THE MISSING MAN

Head east from Castle Station Square to the castle ruins, where you'll find a man at point 2 of the Outside of the Front Gate map. Accept his Missing Persons Poster, and show it to the man at point 3 in Castle Station. He knows the missing man, and can tell you exactly where to find him. Bring that information to the man who gave you the poster, and he'll give you nine Nightmare Seals.

4

HIDDEN TREASURE IN CENTRAL STATION SQUARE

Take the monorail or a cab to good ol' Central Station, where one of the locals will give you a treasure-hunting tip. Following up on it is a snap: just head out to Central Station Square and search near the statue to turn up the Gaia Breaker sword and the Gaia Ring.

5

CATCH UP WITH CUBIC MUSICIAN LITO

Lito has set up shop in Central Station Square, allowing you to play all of the Cubic Music Scores you've collected since you last met. Check the "Optional Areas and Missions" section of this book for a list of their locations and rewards.

6

A DREAM AND A GIFT

Walk down Uhra's Main Street, and you'll see something that will trigger the "Beyond the Wall" dream. The dream contains the "Sarah's Gift" treasure-hunting tip, but your Magic-Powered Locator isn't high-level enough to pursue it yet.

7

SEWER JUNK AND TRASH CAN TREASURES

Just south of the boy who triggered the dream, a man will give you the "Sewer Junk" treasure-hunting clue. Before you set off to the sewers, head into Virno's Tavern and get the "Trash Can Treasure" tip from Virno. You'll find the latter treasure behind the inn (four Byproduct X components, which will allow you to make a Contagion Ring) and you can pick up the Sewer Junk treasure (a Scroll of Secret Skills accessory) by dropping into the nearby manhole and searching in the nearest of the now-drained sewer pools.

Speak to Virno a second time for the "Sunken in the Sea of Baus" treasure tip, which you won't be able to pursue until your Magic-Powered Locator is upgraded to level 3 at the optional Pirate Fortress area.

8

A CAMEO FROM COUNCILMAN OHZEN

Gongora disbanded the council, but Councilman Ohzen is still hanging around. You'll find him near his fancy carriage in the Residential District, where he'll provide four Necrosis Molds to aid you in your quest.

SIDE QUESTS: GRAND STAFF CONSTRUCTION BASE

1

MORE MAGIC ENGINES TO FIX

The crew of the Grand Staff Construction Base is suffering some serious mechanical failures, but it's nothing that Sed can't fix with ease. The grateful engineers will reward you with six Living Brass components that you can use to make a Fury Ring.

2

SWIPE GONGORA'S MAGIC CAPSULES

One of the unscrupulous researchers in the Building Material Warehouse wants you to swipe a set of Magic Capsules from Gongora's Mansion in Uhra. If you sign on for this quest, you'll find one in the Hallway, one in the Research Lab, and one in the Experimental Lab in the secret cave under the mansion. When you find all three, give them to the researcher in exchange for six Ceremonial Crystals.

3

HELP THE MAGIC ENERGY RESEARCHER

A researcher in the Temporary Laboratory needs your help with his magic-energy research. He'll give you four Magic Gauges and ask you to set them up in four specific locations. When you've set all four and you return to him, he'll reward you with eight Magic Staff Fragments.

SIDE QUESTS: CITY OF GOHTZA

1

THE NEW ENTRANCE TO LOW TOWN

Middle Town and High Town are long gone, but Low Town remains a lively place. To reach it from the Elevated Entrance, climb down the ladder to the side. Talk to a man at the bottom to learn the “Cave Treasure” tip, which will lead you to 12 Master Thief Tools in the optional Terrace Cave area.

2

GET KAIM DREAMING AGAIN

You can unlock “The Ranking of Lives” dream—Kaim’s first dream in a very long time—by walking along the western wall in Low Town.

3

A MEMENTO OF KHENT

The Khent citizen in the southeast corner of Low Town wants a memento from the tragedy at the Highlands of Wohl, but the path to the Highlands is closed for good. Fortunately, one of the guards at Uhra’s Great Gate can point you in the right direction—all the junk from the battlefield has been sold to Barkus. Pick up the broken Khent sword at the weapon shop’s counter, and Barkus will let you have it for free. Bring it to the Khent soldier, who will thank you with a Happy Flower accessory.

THE SHOPS ARE OPEN— EVEN FOR YOU!

The merchants of Gohtza can't afford to be selective any longer, and will now happily sell you their wares. There isn't much new to buy, but if you pick through the lengthy lists you'll find the new White Flame Candle accessory and the missing Black Magic Ground Mine spell. There are also several new ring components for sale, but not quite enough to fill any of the ringmaker's new recipes for Level-3 (!) rings.

FIGHT FOR PRIZES IN THE BACKYARD

If you're up for a serious challenge (with some excellent rewards), you can now enroll in the Backyard battling league, set in the lowest floor of Low Town's Abandoned Apartment. To get a feel for what the Backyard is all about, beat the trio of Kelolon in the first easy battle, and you'll win the book Backyard for Beginners. That's the two-star prize, but there's also a three-star prize awarded in each battle when a secret condition is satisfied. Take Backyard for Beginners to one of the nearby spectators, and he'll give you hints about what those conditions are.

Challenge the Kelolon trio again, and this time defend until they've had a chance to use their Combination Attack at least three times. If you can survive that and still win the battle, you'll earn the three-star prize, a Slot Seed. See the "Optional Areas and Missions" section of this book for strategies on every battle available at the Backyard.

SIDE QUESTS: REFUGEE CAMP

1

SIX MORE MAGIC ENGINES TO FIX

Sed's engineering skills will come in handy yet again, when he's asked to fix the six magic engines that are lighting the camp. You'll find one just to the north of the man who hired you, partially hidden behind a tent. Two others are in the hot-springs area, and the remaining three are along the west wall. Report back when you're finished, and you'll receive five Death Powders, which can combine to form a Slayer Ring.

2

THREE NEW THOUSAND-YEAR DREAMS

Now that Kaim is in your party, you can unlock no fewer than three dreams in the Refugee Camp. They need to be unlocked in order, and if you can't get the second or third dreams, exit to the world map then return and try again.

The first dream event, "The Village Closest to Heaven," will trigger when you approach the medical tent.

Kaim will recall the second dream, "Stones of Heaven," when he sits down at the fire pit.

Finally, enter the Medical Tent and speak to the child on the bed to unlock "Signpost." You'll also receive the treasure-hunting tip "The General's Memento."

SIDE QUESTS: OTHER LANDS

1

CLAIMING TOLTEN'S ROYAL LEGACY—PART ONE

You can now return to most of the areas where you've seen Royal Seals and have Tolten unlock them, revealing some of the finest equipment in the game. Note, however, that until your immortals learn Tolten's Royal Equipment skill, they won't be able to equip any of the accessories acquired from Royal Seals.

You'll have to wade through the poison gas in the Burning Cave's Path of Dankness map to find this Royal Seal, which holds a Royal Emblem.

The Quad-Element Charm at Ice Canyon is easy to get. Just take the north entrance to Snowy Plateau and climb up the icy path.

Enter the Black Cave from the north entrance, and head south to the Helltrap map. The Master Sword and Master Ring you'll find behind this seal are both amazing.

ONE MORE DREAM FOR THE ROAD

Enter the Ipsilon Mountains from the north to trigger the "A Chorus of Cicadas" dream only a short distance into the map.

FIXING WRECKS IN THE CITY OF SAMAN

Sed can finally fix that broken jukebox in Saman's tavern, earning your party an Ice Water Amulet and the ability to hear that Sheena Easton song whenever you like. Sed can also fix a broken vehicle on the town's main street, and earn five Adamantine Ores for his efforts.

DISC 4 | CHAPTER 4-2

THE GREAT ANCIENT RUINS

THE GREAT ANCIENT RUINS IS THE FIRST OF A PAIR OF SPECTACULAR STRUCTURES BUILT BY THE MYSTERIOUS AND LONG-VANISHED EASTERN TRIBES. THE RUINS ARE SAID TO STILL CONTAIN SOME OF THE MAGIC ENERGY STONES THAT ONCE POWERED THE TRIBES' MANY TECHNOLOGICAL MARVELS.

ASTRAL SQUARE

1

THE LEGACY OF THE EASTERN TRIBES

At the temple's entrance you'll find magical platforms that can ferry your party over a seemingly bottomless moat. Once you get across, double back using different platforms to reach the chest with the Tablet Fragment in the center of the moat. Then enter the ruins' Astral Square, the first of the two large towers that dominate the structure.

DIVIDE TO CONQUER THE ASTRAL SQUARE

From the entrance, walk past the first magic platform and you'll discover one of Tolten's Royal Seals at the dead end beyond. It contains a Golden Gauntlet accessory that can be equipped only by immortals with the Royal Equipment skill.

2

Return to the platform, which seems to require a switch to operate. That's no problem, but when you get to the next platform, the switch will be too far away to activate. Your party will have no choice but to split up, with Kaim's party of Mack, Cooke, and Sarah taking the platform while Seth's party of Tolten, Sed, Ming, and Jansen stays behind to throw the switch.

2

The Flame and Water Beasts are very resilient to both physical and magical damage. Search your inventory for rings that combine both Lv2 Element- and Type-related damage boosts so your attackers can start doing respectable damage.

THE PATH OF KAIM'S PARTY

The first thing Kaim's party will discover is an offline platform that Kaim can kick down to Seth. Don't switch back yet—that platform's going down, not up. Grab the Magical Lock Key (which unlocks new areas of the Backyard) before heading off in search of the next platform. That one will take you to a new area of the middle level, and there you'll find a platform that takes you all the way to the bottom. Go to the end of the lowest floor and search in the corner behind the ruined column for a hard-to-see chest that contains the Magic Analysis Book and its long-awaited Lv3 Composite Magic skill. There are no further platforms here, so switch over to Seth—she can help you out.

THE PATH OF SETH'S PARTY

Seth's path will take her to a lower level, and then back up again. Make sure to search all the dead ends for treasure, or you'll miss a rare Spirit Magic spell along the wall. Eventually you'll come to a ledge where there's a red seal on the ground. Continue past that to the east, where you'll find a platform that you can kick down to Kaim. Return to the red seal, then switch to Kaim and have him ride the platform up to join you. Your re-formed party will then activate a platform to the Hanging Corridor.

HANGING OUT IN THE HANGING CORRIDOR

You'll find a healing spot and a save spot at the Hanging Corridor, as well as one of the places to set a Magic Gauge (for those who have been pursuing that side quest, discussed in Chapter 4-1's "Grand Staff Construction Base" section). The chest here contains a magic stone that isn't big enough to enhance the Nautilus, but is just the right size to upgrade your Magic-Powered Locator to Level 2.

LUNAR SQUARE

1

SPLIT UP AGAIN AT LUNAR SQUARE

Your party enters the Lunar Square tower on its seventh floor, and must find a way down to the ground level. When your party splits into two again, send both groups to the right, where you'll find a platform that is separated from its activation switch. You can send whomever you like on the platform, but for the purposes of this walkthrough, we'll assume you sent Kaim while Seth pulled the switch.

After grabbing the Dragon Scales from the nearby room, have Kaim climb up the stairs to the west (if you ride any platforms at this point, you'll be in for a long dead end). At the top floor of Lunar Square, you'll find a platform you can kick down to Seth.

THE PATH OF SETH'S PARTY

Have Seth go to the opposite end of the seventh floor, where she'll find the platform Kaim kicked down for her. Take it to the sixth floor, where you'll find a glowing obelisk. Drag it onto the platform with you, and its weight will sink you to the fifth floor. Cross the bridge to the east, where you'll find a chest that contains a Trooky Talisman, which functions similarly to the Elmon Crown in the Ice Canyon. In other words, you'll want to let a Trooky swipe it the next chance you get.

Drag another obelisk onto a platform to the south to sink Seth's party to the fourth floor. When you arrive, drag that same obelisk to the south to sink a platform to the third floor. Move north, where you'll see a platform with two obelisks already on it. Pull one off, and the remaining obelisk will rise to the fourth floor, where Kaim's party can put it to good use.

KAIM'S PARTY

Kaim will need to proceed downward from the eighth floor to the fourth using a series of descending platforms and stairways. At the fourth floor he'll find the obelisk sent by Seth, which he can drag to a platform on the other side of the ledge, lowering himself to the third floor. Head to the southwest corner, here you'll find a Tablet Fragment in a chest, and an obelisk you can't drag anywhere. Switch back to Seth.

TREASURES=LUNAR SQUARE

- A. DRAGON SCALES X4 (CHEST IN 7F ROOM—KAIM'S PARTY)
- B. TROOKY TALISMAN (CHEST IN 5F ROOM—SETH'S PARTY)
- C. TABLET FRAGMENT (CHEST IN SOUTHWEST CORNER OF 3F—KAIM'S PARTY)
- D. TWIN CROSS (CHEST IN SOUTHEAST CORNER OF 1F—SETH'S PARTY)

MEETING UP AT THE SEAL

Have Seth take the central stairs down to the first floor, where she'll pass Kaim, silently pondering that obelisk in the distance. Head toward the southeast corner, where you'll find the Twin Cross accessory in a chest. Then circle around to the west, where you'll find the traditional meet-up seal. Drag the obelisk off of the platform to send it up to Kaim; Kaim can then push his own obelisk onto the platform to sink down to Seth. Share a hearty high-five, and throw open the doors to the Throne of Sun.

BOSS PREP

LIKE THE ICE CANYON BOSS, THE ANCIENT FIEND WILL SCREW WITH YOUR FORMATION, SO BUILD A PARTY OUT OF LHEARTY CHARACTERS (SORRY, COOKE) AND BEEF UP YOUR MAGES WITH ABILITIES THAT BOOST THEIR DEFENSES AND MAX HP. DON'T TRY TO ANTICIPATE THE FORMATION SHUFFLES OR ATTEMPT TO FIX THEM—THE BOSS MIGHT SHUFFLE YOU RIGHT BACK TO WHERE YOU WANTED TO BE ON ITS NEXT TURN. ONCE A CHARACTER IS STRUCK BY THE ANCIENT FIEND'S BIND HIT ATTACK, THE VICTIM WILL CATCH FORMATION PARALYSIS AND WILL BE IMMUNE TO THE SHUFFLE EFFECTS. YOU COULD TRY TO PREVENT THIS WITH THE FREEFORM SKILL, BUT THERE REALLY ISN'T ANY POINT TO IT.

THE BOSS AND ITS KEYSTONES ARE BOTH FAIRLY UNUSUAL TYPES. IF YOU CAN WHIP UP A GORING RING WITH HARDENED KILLER LV3, YOUR PERFECT HITS WILL BE DEVASTATING TO THE KEYSTONES. WHEN THEY'RE GONE, SWITCH TO RINGS WITH SPIRIT KILLER ENHANCEMENTS FOR THE BOSS.

THE ANCIENT FIEND CAN COUNTER PHYSICAL STRIKES AND REFLECT SPELLS BACK AT THEIR CASTERS, MAKING ANY ATTACK AGAINST IT PERILOUS. FORTUNATELY, BOTH THOSE ABILITIES ARE FUELED BY ITS COMPANION KEYSTONES, AND WILL BE DEACTIVATED WHEN YOU DESTROY THEM. UNTIL THEN, KEEP YOUR ATTACKS FOCUSED ON ONLY THE KEYSTONES—USE STANDARD ATTACKS FUELED BY HARDENED KILLER-ENHANCED RINGS, COMBO ATTACKS, OR FORCEA SPELLS TO BLAST THEM ONE BY ONE. THE BOSS WILL ATTEMPT TO LOWER EVERYONE'S STATS WITH THE FALL SPELL, BUT IF YOU START THE FIGHT BY CASTING ALL-SHIELDUS, ALL-BARRICADUS, AND POWERUS SPELLS ON YOUR FIGHTERS, YOU CAN MORE THAN COUNTERACT FALL'S EFFECTS.

THE WRATH OF THE TROOKY QUEEN

AFTER BEATING THE ANCIENT FIEND, YOUR PARTY WILL BE SENT STRAIGHT BACK TO THE NAUTILUS. THAT'S A SHAME, BECAUSE THERE'S STILL MORE TO DO IN THE RUINS—AND NOW YOU'LL NEED TO WALK ALL THE WAY BACK THROUGH THEM. AT LEAST YOU WON'T HAVE TO SPLIT UP YOUR PARTY THIS TIME.

LET A TROOKY SWIPE THE TROOKY TALISMAN, THEN HEAD TO THE GROUND FLOOR OF LUNAR SQUARE TO CONFRONT THEIR QUEEN. DEFEAT HER IN COMBAT TO RECLAIM ALL THAT THE TROOKY HAS STOLEN, AS WELL AS THE TROOKY QUEEN'S OWN SORCERER'S BRACELET (WHICH CONTAINS MP MAX UP 3). THE QUEEN IS FAIRLY EASY TO BEAT, SO LONG AS YOU HAVE ENOUGH HEALTH TO WEATHER HER ENHANCED ITEM BLAST ATTACKS AND HER MANY STATUS-AILMENT-INFLECTING SPELLS.

NUMARA AND THE WHITE BOA

THE NEWLY UPGRADED NAUTILUS CAN SURVIVE THE HYPERCURRENTS, ALLOWING KAIM'S PARTY TO PUNCH THROUGH TO NUMARA'S BAY. YOU CAN SCOUR THE OCEAN FLOOR BETWEEN THE HYPERCURRENTS FOR MORE SUNKEN TREASURE, BUT BE CAREFUL—YOU'LL BE IN FOR A NASTY SURPRISE WHEN YOU APPROACH THE BAY.

NUMARA BAY

1 THE BATTLE OF NUMARA'S BAY
Ming hasn't kept up her end of the bargain, so Gongora isn't honoring his—the Arthrosaurus that he sicced on Numara is alive again, as are four of his brothers. Save your game in the open sea before you approach the bay, because you won't be able to save during your attempt to fight off the beasts.

The first Arthrosaurus is a normal boss fight, but after that it becomes a sort of minigame where you have to stop four oncoming Arthrosaurus enemies before they reach Numara. They won't stop moving while you're in battle, so each fight will be a frantic one. Fortunately, the Arthrosauruses are very susceptible to Sleep spells, so you can put the first pair to sleep while you finish off the second pair. They're also very easy to flee from, so you can always end a battle when you need to rush off to fight another Arthrosaurus or when you desperately need some healing.

5 Dragon Scale(s) obtained.

Adding to the challenge are the five schools of fish that appear in Numara's bay. Each carries an item you can grab by examining them with the A button, including a Slot Seed, the 10 Kilo Weight accessory, and various ring components. After you kill three Arthrosauruses, put the fourth to sleep so you can search for the fish at your leisure.

BOSS PREP

WITH THE CLOCK TICKING DURING BATTLE, YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO FIGHT CONSERVATIVELY. SCREW DEFENSIVE SPELLS AND HEALING—EACH TURN SHOULD BE A FLURRY OF COMBOS AND WINDA SPELLS. FOR BEST RESULTS, MAKE A PARTY OF TOLTEN AND THE FOUR IMMORTALS; THAT WAY EVERYONE CAN HAVE THE PERSISTENCE SKILL AND ANTI-FIRE PROTECTION. YOUR FIGHTERS SHOULD USE COMBO AS THEIR MAIN ATTACK, BUT YOU'LL WANT A GOOD ANTI-WIND OR ANTI-BEAST RING FOR THE TURNS WHEN YOU'RE CASTING SLEEP SPELLS. (COMBO WILL TYPICALLY GO OFF AFTER THE SLEEP SPELL, AWAKENING THE ARTHROSAURUS IMMEDIATELY. REGULAR ATTACKS LET YOU GET IN A FEW HITS BEFORE THE BEAST NODS OFF.) EVEN IF YOU DON'T PLAN TO FLEE, RINGS WITH THE SLEEP ENHANCEMENT ARE USEFUL, AS THEY MAY COST THE ARTHROSAURUS ITS TURN.

BOSS TACTICS

ARTHROSAURUSES ARE SIMPLE CREATURES, USING ONLY STANDARD ATTACKS AND HEAT BREATH, WHICH CAN HIT EVERY CHARACTER IN A ROW FOR OVER 2,000 POINTS OF DAMAGE. THAT'LL MAKE FOR A VIOLENT BATTLE, BUT NOT AN UNWINNABLE ONE—WITH HEAT PROTECTION AND THE PERSISTENCE SKILL, YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO SURVIVE THREE HEAT BREATHS IN A ROW. IF THINGS GO HORRIBLY WRONG ON ANY ARTHROSAURUS BATTLE (EXCEPT FOR THE FIRST), SIMPLY FLEE AND HAVE ONE OF YOUR BENCHED CHARACTERS HEAL THE PARTY. WHATEVER DAMAGE YOU'VE DEALT TO THE ARTHROSAURUS WILL REMAIN.

THE CITY OF NUMARA

1

ALL IS FORGIVEN IN THE CITY OF NUMARA

Kaim's party will be welcomed back to Numara with open arms, and the grateful citizens have plenty of gifts to give. You'll receive a particularly warm reception in the inn, where the simple act of tuning the harp will net you 19 Capes of Illusion—the exact number you need to upgrade your Baron Thief Ring to a King Thief Ring.

THREE NUMARA TREASURE HUNT S

You'll find the first treasure-hunting clue in the lobby of the inn, and following up on it couldn't be easier—the loot (a Refreshus spell) is right by the central fountain. The next treasure-hunting tip is in the Katyla Family House, but you won't be able to investigate "What the Cursed Mask Guards" until you reach the optional Temple of Enlightenment. Fortunately, the tip in the Sanuman Family House (which is accessible only from the Port of Numara entrance) is easier to act upon—it points you to a Reversa spell buried in the City of Ruins.

ANOTHER SECRET-LEDGER STING

You'll notice that Ninn has stepped away from the bookcase on his Main Street weapon shop (in the back room). Grab the crate and pull it forward, then examine the item that's sparkling in the bookcase. Confront him about it, and he'll attempt to buy you off with three Purgatory Ores.

COMPLETE KAIM'S DREAM JOURNAL

If you've been following this book closely, you should be three dreams away from completing the "A Thousand Years of Dreams" collection and earning the Big Dreamer achievement. You'll unlock "Return of the Native" as you head up Main Street toward Canal Street, and "Lottery of Life," as you pass through the Canal Street Market. The final dream, "The Queen's Loneliness," will be given to you when you beat the boss who awaits you in Numara Palace.

WHEN YOU'RE FACING FOUR ATTACKS PER TURN, IT WON'T BE EASY TO SURVIVE UNTIL YOU CAN ELIMINATE A TARGET OR TWO AND TURN THE BATTLE AROUND. AN IDEAL PARTY WILL HAVE WHITE AND COMPOSITE MAGIC USERS WHO CAN CAST ALL-SHIELDUS AND ALL-GENERATA WHILE THREE HEARTY FIGHTERS CONCENTRATE ON DESTROYING KAKANAS'S CANNON. THE TANKS' TANK HITS ARE PHYSICAL ATTACKS, SO YOUR FIGHTERS SHOULD HAVE AS MANY WAYS OF NEGATING THAT DAMAGE AS POSSIBLE—ABSORB ATTACK, WEAPON GUARD, AND CRISIS DEFENSE ARE GREAT CHOICES, AND THE LATTER COMBOS VERY WELL WITH TOLTEN'S PERSISTENCE SKILL.

CONTINUED

THIS IS BASICALLY A REPEAT OF THE MAGIC TANK BATTLE YOU FOUGHT AT THE BEGINNING OF DISC 2. FOCUS YOUR EARLY ATTACKS ON KAKANAS'S CANNON, WHICH HAS THE MOST DAMAGE-DEALING POTENTIAL, THEN CONCENTRATE ON THE BASE OF HIS TANK—IT'S STILL MORE POWERFUL THAN THE OTHER TWO. YOU'LL BE EATING FOUR ATTACKS A TURN UNTIL YOU DESTROY THE CANNON, SO IT'S IMPORTANT THAT YOUR MAGES GET ALL-SHIELDUS AND ALL-GENERATA IN PLACE BEFORE YOUR GC IS REDUCED TO 0 AND THEIR OWN LIVES ARE ON THE LINE.

THIS TIME KAKANAS'S TANK IS POWERED SOLELY BY MP STOLEN FROM YOUR CHARACTERS, AND WITH 100-PLUS MP BEING STOLEN AT A TIME, YOU CAN'T COUNT ON YOUR FRONT LINE HAVING ANY MP AT ALL. IT'S DANGEROUS TO EVEN USE SKILLS LIKE COMBO, BECAUSE THE ATTACK WILL FAIL IF THE FIGHTER'S MP IS SUCKED AWAY BEFORE THE ATTACK RESOLVES. UNLESS YOUR FIGHTERS CAN PROTECT THEMSELVES FROM MP LOSS WITH ABSORB GUARD, HAVE THEM STICK WITH STANDARD ATTACKS.

Kaim's party (minus Ming) now has free run of Numara Palace. That means you can collect any treasures you missed during Disc 2, and open the previously locked doors to grab a few new treasures. RONA'S NEWEST PET

If you walk through Main Street on your way to the Port of Numara, you'll notice Rona and Moo have reappeared. Speak to Rona, and she'll ask you to save a bird that's trapped under the Palace Façade rubble. It's actually on top of the rubble, making it a snap to earn the reward of six Ancient Statues.

Exit to the world map, then return to the Palace Façade. You'll find Rona has moved back to that area, and has taken on a new project. Head into the City of Ruins for her and grab a Flower Seed from the flower patch Cooke and Mack used to protect. When you bring it back to her, she'll reward you with six Sealing Stones.

3 THE ULTRA SHOP OPENS ITS DOORS
The other big development in Numara is a new shop that has opened up at the end of the path beneath the Canal Street bridge. Its stock is limited, but much of it is new. SET SAIL ON THE WHITE BOA

The last time you were in the Port of Numara, you swiped the Slant-nose. Now you'll be stealing the White Boa... except that it already belongs to a member of your party and no one will try to stop you. Hmph. Well, it's still cool.

Have the guards open the gate at the west end of the port, then run up and hang a right at the blue crates to reach the Numara Terminal. Grab a Seed from the locker to the right of the entrance before you hop aboard. Before you can set sail, you'll need to hunt down Ming—you'll find her standing Titanic-style at the tip of the main deck.

SEARCHING THE BOA FOR LOOT AND GOSSIP

After you take the tutorial and set sail, hit the right bumper to take control of Kaim and meet your crew. The ship's staff includes a Pipot, a ringmaker, and an item merchant in the Pilothouse, as well as a cubic musician in the garden at point 1.

Two sailors have treasure-hunting tips for you, one in the garden at point 2 and one in the engine room at point 3. The former sailor's tip will lead you to a treasure on the White Boa's main deck, where you'll find the three Star Absorbers that can upgrade your Absorber Ring into an Ingestion Ring.

MANY NEW LANDS LIE BEYOND THE ICE

THE MIGHTY WHITE BOA CAN SMASH RIGHT THROUGH THE THIN ICE FIELDS THAT BLOCK MANY OF THE WORLD'S AQUATIC LANDINGS, ALLOWING YOU TO ACCESS SEVERAL NEW AREAS. THE LEVEL OF CHALLENGE IN THESE AREAS IS JUST ABOUT RIGHT FOR A PARTY IN THE LOW 40S, MAKING THIS A GREAT TIME TO PURSUE THE QUESTS IN THOSE AREAS. YOU'LL FIND FULL DESCRIPTIONS OF THE GAME'S HIDDEN AREAS AND THE QUESTS YOU CAN PURSUE THERE IN THE "BONUS FEATS" SECTION OF THIS BOOK.

THE NEW SKILLS AND WEAPONS YOU'LL EARN IN THE OPTIONAL AREAS WILL COME IN EXTREMELY HANDY WHEN YOU CHALLENGE GRAND STAFF. ADDITIONALLY, VISITING THE OPTIONAL AREAS ALLOWS YOU TO UNLOCK NEW SIDE QUESTS IN OLD AREAS. FOR EXAMPLE, ONCE YOU CLEAR TOLTEN'S FINAL ROYAL SEALS IN THE CRIMSON FOREST AND KELOLON VILLAGE, YOU'LL BE ABLE TO RETURN TO UHRA CASTLE TO CHALLENGE THE GOLDEN KNIGHT OF UHRA FOR TOLTEN'S ULTIMATE WEAPON, RING, AND SKILL. AND ONCE YOU PLAY CUBIC MUSIC SCORE 9, FOUND IN THE PIRATE FORTRESS AREA, YOU'LL EARN THE SUNDERCH GLASSES. THOSE WILL ALLOW YOU TO SEE THE INVISIBLE TREASURE CHESTS SCATTERED THROUGHOUT AREAS YOU'VE VISITED PREVIOUSLY. (YOU'LL FIND THE LOCATIONS OF ALL INVISIBLE CHESTS AND ROYAL SEALS IN THE "BONUS FEATS" SECTION AS WELL.)

IF YOU'RE EAGER TO CHARGE ON TO THE GAME'S FINALE, STEER THE WHITE BOA TOWARD THE ORIGINAL GRAND STAFF LOCATION IN THE SEA OF BAUS AND SMASH THROUGH THE ICE. OTHERWISE, WE SUGGEST YOU PURSUE ALL THE BONUS FEATS EXCEPT FOR THE TEMPLE OF ENLIGHTENMENT FIRST.

GRAND STAFF

GRAND STAFF HAS RETURNED TO ITS ORIGINAL POSITION ON CRATER ISLAND IN THE SEA OF BAAS. THIS MYSTERIOUS STRUCTURE IS WHERE YOUR TRUE QUEST BEGAN, AND WHERE ITS FINAL CHAPTER SHALL END.

LOWER SECTION

YOUR FINAL MISSION BEGINS AT GRAND STAFF

When you've completed all the side quests that you care to, punch through the ice around Crater Island with the White Boa to infiltrate Grand Staff. The game will warn you that you won't be able to leave, so it's a good idea to save on the White Boa before you enter. But don't worry—you will have more chances to pursue side quests and visit optional areas before the game concludes.

2

SHUT DOWN THE FANS SO YOU CAN CROSS THE PIPES

To ascend Grand Staff, you'll need to walk across a series of pipes set below fans that blast hot steam over their surface. If you try to cross while the fans are blowing, you'll be knocked down a level or two and have to climb back up, so you'll want to turn off the fans by seeking out the computer terminals on each floor.

You'll disembark from the Nautilus in the Engine Section, near a save spot and several ladders. The first ladder (to your left), leads to a dose of Goddess Medicine, and the ladder on your right (after crossing the small bridge) leads to the first steam-shutdown terminal. Examine it with the A button to activate it. As you proceed through the section, you'll notice another ladder on your right—climb that to a catwalk where you'll find the Black Magic Aquas spell. The elevator past the pipe will take you up to the Second Boiler area, where you can grab an easy Slot Seed by climbing the first ladder you see.

FIGHT GONGORA'S EXPERIMENTS FOR WHITE CHARMS

The Second Boiler elevator will take you to an area known as the Armory, where you'll see the first of several mysterious tanks that hold Gongora's strange experiments. Whenever you investigate them, you'll end up in a battle with Experiment No. 1, a very powerful enemy with over 10,000 hit points, a high level of magic resistance, and the ability to regenerate some of its lost health each turn. Your best hope for victory is to have a Spirit Magic user cast Powerus on a front line of three fighters while a support mage uses All-Generata to recoup the health lost to your foe's Shadowus spells. Once the Powerus takes, your fighters should use Break Hit instead of regular attacks for as long as they can afford the MP.

EXPERIMENT
NO. 1

HP:	11,700
TYPE:	ORGANIC
ELEMENT:	NONE
STEALS:	ADAMANTINE ORE DEATH POWDER
DROPS:	DRAINING STONE IRON BALL OF RUIN WHITE CHARM

The only real point to fighting these creatures is the pursuit of White Charms, accessories that contain the Auto HP Recovery skill. The White Charm is one of three items they may drop at the end of battle, and the odds of getting it are fairly low. (You can also win one in a Backyard battle.) You do not need to battle the Experiment No. 1s or investigate their tanks to find hidden treasures to proceed in the game.

COOL THE STEAM JETS IN THE SECOND BOILER

The lower section of the Armory ends in a shaft through which you can fall to a new area of the Second Boiler. You'll land near the next terminal, which will shut down the second fan. Then jump onto the circular platforms to the left of the terminal and hop across to the pipe. Even with the fans off, the camera angles make crossing the slippery pipe tricky, so you may want to hold the B button to slow-walk across it. On the other side, an elevator will take you to the northern region of the Armory, which is packed with Experiment No. 1 tanks. Take a horizontal platform south to the central part of the Armory, where you'll find the Shinus spell in a chest. Take the platform back, and drop through the shaft to the north end of the Second Boiler's second map, near a chest with Mack's Sorcerer's Discus. A horizontal platform will take you back toward the elevator to the Armory. This time skip the shaft and take the other Armory elevator up to the First Boiler.

THE GROUNDUS SPELL DETOUR

Climb down a ladder across from the elevators, and run along the lower level to an upward-leading ladder that will put you near this area's first terminal. That will shut down the vent over the lower pipe, but don't cross it yet—instead descend the ladder to the right of the pipe, where you'll find a pair of trash cans containing the Groundus spell and Godly Dragon Tears. Then climb back up and continue north to the next pipe. To shut off its fan, you'll need to climb down the ladder to the left of the pipe and push a block into the gap in front of the terminal. Use it to shut down the fan, and return to the pair of elevators at the north end of the map. Take the one on the right to reach the First Boiler.

LOOT YOUR WAY THROUGH TO THE FIRST BOILER

Run to the end of the U-shaped map, where you'll find three trash cans full of items. Then head back toward the elevator and climb up the long ladder to your left. Hang a right up top, where you'll find more Experiment No. 1 pods, an empty elevator shaft, and a ladder that leads to a series of catwalks that ends at a shaft and another ladder. The shaft will dump you back in the Engine Section, so instead climb up the ladder to reach a platform with three more trash cans and the elevator to the boss room.

BOSS PREP

BOSS TACTICS

YOU'LL REMEMBER THE SAINTS FROM THE BRIEF INTERLUDE IN WHICH YOU PLAYED AS GONGORA. ONCE AGAIN, EACH IS IMMUNE TO EVERYTHING BUT A CERTAIN TYPE OF ATTACK, AND THEY HAVE FEW ENOUGH HIT POINTS THAT ONE GOOD BLAST OF THAT ATTACK TYPE SHOULD PUT THEM BACK IN THE GROUND. TARGET THE ONES WITH AN ELEMENTAL WEAKNESS FIRST, SINCE THOSE ARE THE ONES FOR WHICH YOU HAVE THE STRONGEST SPELLS. THE RED SAINT FALLS TO FIRE, THE GREEN TO WIND, THE YELLOW TO GROUND, AND THE BLUE TO WATER. TARGET THEM WITH SINGLE SPELLS—COMPOSITE ALL- SPELLS ARE A WASTE HERE. THAT LEAVES THE GOLD SAINT, WHO IS WEAK TO PHYSICAL ATTACKS; THE WHITE SAINT, WHO IS WEAK TO SHADOW, SHINE AND DIVIDE SPELLS (USE SHADOWUS FOR THE QUICKEST KILL); AND THE BLACK SAINT, WHO IS WEAK TO STATUS AILMENTS (SUCH AS THE STONE SPELL, WHICH KILLS IN TWO TURNS). KEEP IN MIND THAT YOU'LL FACE ONLY SIX OF THE SEVEN SAINTS—WHOEVER GONGORA KILLED LAST IS STILL DEAD.

On their first turn, the saints will use the deadly Grade Six Magic Chant attack. Fortunately, it takes all six of them to use it, so you can head it off with a quick kill. Have your fighters attack the gold saint with normal attacks, which can potentially take him out before the first saint's turn. If you don't have a gold saint to target, focus multiple bombs on an elemental saint.

UPPER SECTION

CHASE GRAND STAFF ACROSS THE BAY

Grand Staff has moved into a lake on the northern continent, and you're free to either follow it or leave it be while you pursue side quests (note that this is still not your last opportunity to do so). When you're ready to resume your attack on the staff, steer the Nautilus toward the little notch in the map directly west of the pink icon that represents Grand Staff. There you'll be offered the option to "Pursue the Grand Staff."

1

RESHAPE THE UPPER CONNECTOR AREA

After stepping off the Nautilus in the Upper Connector part of Grand Staff, locate the switch to the south that will restore power to the Transportation Lift. Then take the elevator to an upper level, where you can shift all of the platforms in the room with a push of a control-panel button. After the big shift, head east to grab a chest, then climb the ladders to the Transportation Lift.

- A. GODDESS MEDICINE (SECOND LEVEL OF UPPER CONNECTOR)
- B. ENCHANTED NECKLACE (LOWEST LEVEL OF TRANSPORTATION LIFT)
- C. GODLY DRAGON TEARS (SECOND LEVEL OF TRANSPORTATION LIFT)
- D. INFERNO HORN (THIRD LEVEL OF TRANSPORTATION LIFT)
- E. LORD'S EARRINGS (FOURTH LEVEL OF TRANSPORTATION LIFT)

3

SPIN THE LIFT TO REACH EACH FLOOR'S TREASURE CHEST

The entire silver walkway in the next area is a lift that you can use to climb from floor to floor, or rotate to three different positions. You'll need to make adjustments to raise it safely from floor to floor, and also to get the treasure chests on each one. To grab the treasure on the first floor, head east without touching the central panel. Once you've pocketed the Enchanted Necklace, select Rise from the control panel to move to the next level, then rotate it in either direction until you've made a path to each level's treasure chest.

MANIPULATE THE MACHINERY TO REACH TWO RARE TREASURES

On the transportation lift's highest floor, grab the Lord Earrings from the chest at the end of the catwalk, then run back toward the lift and ascend the ladder on the southwest part of the catwalk, to the Magic Control area. Activate the computer terminal you find there, then descend a ladder to the south. Grab onto each of the big red buttons you see, and push them in to get a series of pistons turning. Grab the Ambrosia from a nearby chest, then descend back to the transportation lift, and make your way to the other ladder, which is in the northwest section of the map. That ladder will take you to a different region of the Magic Control area, where you'll notice that the turning pistons have started a derrick pumping. If you use the adjacent terminal to stop the derrick when it's at its lowest point, you can jump onto it and cross over to the chest that holds the Reflect spell. After grabbing the goods, make sure to hit the switch to get the derrick pumping again on your way out.

Climb the southwest ladder on the Transportation Lift area again, and climb up the ladder at the southeast end of the platform it leads to. There you'll find three terminals, each of which corresponds to a spinning wheel. Use the terminals to stop all three wheels so their cross bars end up in a horizontal position, which will create a path to the treasure chest that holds the Wyvern's Tail sword.

TREASURES—MAGIC CONTROL

- A. AMBROSIA (NEAR ELEVATOR ON WESTERN CATWALK)
- B. MANA PRIME (ON CATWALK OPPOSITE DERRICK SWITCH)
- C. REFLECT [SPELL] (AFTER ACTIVATING MACHINERY, STOP DERRICK AT LOWEST POINT AND JUMP ONTO IT)
- D. WYVERN'S TAIL (STOP EACH SPINNING WHEEL TO CREATE A PATH TO A TREASURE CHEST.)

5

SLAY A PAIR OF GENERALS TO CLEAR THE ENERGY BARRIER

The elevator on the northwest catwalk of the Magic Control area leads to the Glass Chamber, where you'll find the staircase to the top of Grand Staff blocked by a magical energy field. Instead of continuing up, use the ladder near the save spot to descend down into the Magic-Powered Unit, this area's power source. Approach the switch at the center, where Sed will lay down the game plan: You'll create two parties of two characters, each of which will have to battle an enemy known as a General. The trick is, you have to kill both Generals "simultaneously", which means in the same turn. Pair Kaim with Mack and Seth with Tolten to create two roughly equal teams (don't use spellcasters, since the Generals can use the Reflect spell).

Between turns, Sed will have the option to select "Adjust Output," which will prevent the next party's General from regaining any HP, but only once per turn—use this to give the weaker team a boost. Remember, both Generals have to be killed at the same time, meaning the party battling General α must get the first kill, and then the party battling General β must finish their battle in the same turn. Failure to do so will result in an immediate game over.

TREASURES—MAGIC-CONTROL UNIT

- A. GODLY DRAGON TEARS (WEST UNIT)
- B. GODDESS MEDICINE (EAST UNIT)

6

SEEK GRAND STAFF'S FINAL TREASURES WITH THE MECHANICAL LIFT

To return to the Glass Chamber, take the west elevator and select "upper floors." By hopping onto the rising piston you can reach the upper catwalk, where you'll find the ladder back to the save point. But if you'd like to do a little looting first, instead take the east elevator and select "lower floors" to reach the optional Mechanical Lift area. Like the Transportation Lift, the Mechanical Lift area consists of four floors, with one treasure chest on each floor. Note that to reach the Heaven's Branch on the third floor, you must first activate a switch on the fourth.

TREASURES—MAINTENANCE LIFT

- A. SAGE EARRINGS (LOWEST LEVEL OF MAINTENANCE LIFT)
- B. SLOT SEED (SECOND LEVEL OF MAINTENANCE LIFT)
- C. HEAVEN'S BRANCH (THIRD LEVEL OF MAINTENANCE LIFT)
- D. CRYSTAL FRAGMENT (FOURTH LEVEL OF MAINTENANCE LIFT)

7

THE GLASS CHAMBER AMBUSH

Whenever you do return to the Glass Chamber, you'll find a Magic Beast waiting. It has a lot of hit points, but should be pretty easy for your party to beat at this point in the game. An All-Powerus spell and a few Combo attacks should take it out within a few turns.

8

THE ESCAPE FROM GRAND STAFF

After battling the Magic Beast, ride the elevator to the Control Room, where Gongora awaits. When Gongora conscripts a member of your party to protect him, do not attack—simply defend each turn until the battle ends. You'll then have eight minutes in which to escape Grand Staff; take the elevator in the Glass Chamber back down to the Magic Control Station, and take the ladders down to the Transportation Lift. Use Turn-Tail to flee from battles, and you should make it with plenty of time to spare.

ON TO THE TOWER OF MIRRORS

After returning to the Nautilus, you'll find yourself back on the world map, just outside of the game's final area, the Tower of Mirrors. The Tower of Mirrors consists of nothing but the game's final series of bosses, so this is your very last chance to buy items and pursue side quests. The final bosses aren't particularly tough, but if you want to give yourself an edge, be sure to claim the Angel Guard accessory from the Forgotten Cave and teach its skill to your immortals. When you're ready to enter the tower, approach it with the Nautilus and hit the B button to dive towards the tower's underwater entrance.

BOSS PREP

IF YOU HAVE THE QUAD-ELEMENT AMULET, MAKE YOUR INITIAL PARTY OUT OF THE FOUR IMMORTALS AND TOLTEN, THE ONLY MORTAL WHO CAN EQUIP IT. IF YOU DON'T HAVE THE QUAD-ELEMENT AMULET, BRING SED ALONG AND HAVE HIM EQUIP AS MANY ELEMENTAL PROTECTION ACCESSORIES AS HE CAN WITH HIS 3 ACCESSORIES SKILL. THE AILMENT RESISTANCE SKILL IS A MUST HERE—IT WILL PROTECT AGAINST GONGORA'S MANIPULATE SKILL, WHICH IS SOMETHING NO OTHER ACCESSORY CAN DO. IF YOU DON'T HAVE IT, AT LEAST EQUIP ANTI-PETRIFY, SINCE THAT STATUS AILMENT IS ALSO A CONCERN. THE FIRST BOSS WILL STRIKE WITH A WIDE VARIETY OF ELEMENTAL ATTACKS, SO HE'LL BE A CINCH TO BEAT IF YOU HAVE THE APPROPRIATE ABSORB-SERIES SKILLS, OR AT LEAST NULLIFY ALL ELEMENTS TO NEGATE THE DAMAGE.

Rings don't matter if you have your attackers strike with moves like Combo.

THE LUMINOUS MAGIC BEAST IS INDEED A BEAST, SO THE DRAGON RING WILL DEAL A BIT OF EXTRA DAMAGE IN THAT BATTLE. BUT GONGORA SWITCHES BOTH HIS TYPE AND HIS ELEMENT EVERY TURN; YOU CAN EITHER SWITCH RINGS EACH TURN TO MATCH THEM, OR USE HP- AND MP-ABSORPTION RINGS THAT WILL ALWAYS BE USEFUL.

CONTINUED

BOSS TACTICS

IN THE FIRST BATTLE, HAVE MING AND SARAH USE ALL-POWERUS AND ALL-GENERATA TO BOOST YOUR FIGHTER-HEAVY PARTY, AS THE BEAST IS WEAKEST TO PHYSICAL ATTACKS. IT IS VULNERABLE TO SPELLS INITIALLY, BUT WHEN IT USES ITS RAY CHARGE ATTACK IT WILL GAIN THE ABILITY TO ABSORB ALL MAGICAL DAMAGE UNTIL IT LATER EXPENDS THAT EXTRA ENERGY WITH THE ULTIMATE RAY ATTACK (AND EVEN THEN, MAGICAL SPELLS WON'T DO MUCH DAMAGE). ONCE THE PARTY HAS EVERY BOOST THAT COULD CONCEIVABLY BE USEFUL, HAVE MING AND SARAH SWITCH TO HEALING THE WOUNDED AND RESTORING YOUR GUARD CONDITION WITH MACK'S WALLA SKILL.

WHEN GONGORA TAKES THE BATTLEFIELD, YOU'LL HAVE TO FACE HIM WITH ONLY YOUR FOUR IMMORTALS. THAT DOESN'T MEAN THE MORTALS WON'T HELP—THEY'LL EACH POP UP TO SAVE YOU WITH THEIR OWN SPECIAL ABILITIES. THIS IS A HIGHLY SCRIPTED BATTLE, SO DON'T WORRY IF GONGORA DISHES OUT SOME OBSCENELY POWERFUL MOVES—HE'S JUST SETTING UP ONE OF YOUR MORTAL FRIENDS TO SAVE THE DAY. HIT HIM HARD WITH YOUR BEST ATTACKS AND SPELLS, AND DON'T WORRY ABOUT CONSERVING MP—COOKE WILL REFILL IT ALL BEFORE THE NEXT PHASE OF THE BATTLE.

IN GONGORA'S SECOND PHASE, YOUR MORTALS WILL BE OTHERWISE OCCUPIED AND UNABLE TO HELP. IN THIS BATTLE GONGORA WILL STRIKE WITH THE MANIPULATE SKILL, WHICH CAN TURN ONE OF YOUR PARTY MEMBERS AGAINST YOU—BUT IT'LL MISS EVERY TIME IF HIS TARGET HAS AILMENT RESISTANCE EQUIPPED. THAT SAME ACCESSORY WILL COUNTER GONGORA'S PETRIFICATION-INDUCING SPELLS, SO IT'S HARD TO LOSE IF EVERYONE HAS IT. ULTIMATE ANALYSIS WILL ALSO COME IN HANDY, SINCE GONGORA CHANGES HIS ELEMENTAL TYPE EVERY TURN. TAKE NOTE OF THE NEW TYPE BEFORE YOU SELECT YOUR SPELLS, THEN SELECT THE APPROPRIATE ELEMENTAL SPELL FOR MAXIMUM DAMAGE.

Gongora's second form will use Reset All as a counter whenever any character casts a spell that would boost stats or apply a positive status condition. Skip the buffs and focus on attack spells and healing.

* SUNDERCH GLASSES REQUIRED

Deep under his mansion, Gongora created a secret lab to prepare his vile plans. Gongora has long since cleared out—his old residence was way too small for his ambitions and his ego. To get into his lair, head out to the courtyard through the left door of the mansion's left hallway. Tolten can break the Royal Seal, granting you access into the Secret Cave.

The Secret Cave is a narrow passage with deep chasms to jump over, but it's pretty much a straight route through the cave to the Magic Experimentation Laboratory. As you traverse the cave, look for ladders leading off the ledge to pick up a few items—a Flarus Bomb, six Magic Crystals, and 5,000G. Also be on the lookout for a treasure chest containing a Magical Lock Key—an item that will open up a new difficulty level in the Backyard arena area. About halfway through the passage, you'll come across a door blocked by an electric barrier. Once you defeat the boss in the Magic Experimentation Laboratory, you'll be able to open that lock and create a shortcut to the Magic Research Lab upstairs.

The Secret Cave is a good place to build up your characters—the monsters aren't particularly difficult and the abundance of them is good for accumulating SP. You'll face wave after wave of zombie creatures called Experiment No. 42—keep that number in mind, as characters below Level 42 or so will struggle against them. It's a simple place to gain around eight levels—enough to take on the next few side dungeons. Petrify is the only move the Experiment No. 42 enemies have that can put your party in peril; be sure to have the Anti-Petrify skill equipped all the way around, including equipping a mortal with Medusa's Head.

The nondescript door at the end of the Secret Cave leads to the laboratory; as soon as you enter you'll be thrown into a boss fight.

* TREASURE-HUNT INFORMATION REQUIRED

It's not glamorous work, but beating up the enemies in the Secret Cave pays off.

After jumping across the second chasm, break through the rock wall to reveal a treasure chest that contains a Seed.

Across from the entrance to the Experimentation Laboratory, go down the hidden passage to the left to find a treasure chest. Open it to get the Magical Lock Key.

BOSS PREP

FRANKLY, IF YOU MADE IT THROUGH HORDES OF EXPERIMENT NO. 42S ON THE WAY THROUGH THE SECRET CAVE, THE GENERATOR AND ITS ENDLESS SUPPLY OF DOLL MINIONS SHOULDN'T BE MUCH TROUBLE. LOAD UP ON HEAVY HITTERS, AS MAGIC WON'T WORK AGAINST THE GENERATOR. THE GENERATOR IS IN THE BACK ROW, AND THE FASTER YOU CAN GET TO IT, THE SHORTER THE BATTLE WILL BE; EQUIP RINGS THAT LOWER GC.

BOSS TACTICS

YOU WANT TO GET TO THE GENERATOR AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, FOR TWO REASONS. FIRST, FOR AS LONG AS IT'S ALIVE IT WILL CONTINUE TO CREATE NEW DOLLS TO DRAG OUT THE BATTLE. FORTUNATELY, WHEN THE GENERATOR CREATES MORE DOLLS, ITS GC DOES NOT COME BACK, LEAVING THE GENERATOR OPEN TO PHYSICAL ATTACKS. SECOND, THE GENERATOR CHANGES TACTICS DEPENDING ON ITS HP—THE HIGHER ITS HP, THE MORE THE GENERATOR IS ON THE OFFENSIVE. IT'LL CAST ALL-POISON AND ALL-SLEEP WHEN IT'S STRONG, BUT TRANSITION TO RESTORATIVE SPELLS SUCH AS ALL-HEAL WHEN THE GOING GETS TOUGH. JUST START KNOCKING AWAY AT THE GENERATOR WITH PHYSICAL ATTACKS AS SOON AS THE ENEMY GC LEVEL GETS DOWN TO 2 OR SO. DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE DOLLS' ATTACKS—NEITHER THE SOLO-TARGET COMBO STRIKES NOR THE PARTY-WIDE SHOCKWAVE DO ANY SERIOUS DAMAGE.

The Generator's most potent attack is All-Poison, but it'll stop casting the spell once it's been roughed up a little.

POST-MORTEM

The Backyard Weekly that the Generator drops will give you insight into some of the Backyard's more difficult battles. Take it to the attendant in the Backyard to get the scoop. Once you've disposed of the Generator, you can take a look around Gongora's hidden laboratory. There isn't a lot to see, but his diary provides some interesting insight into the immortals' past. Note that you can now ride the previously locked elevator back up to the Magic Research Lab.

TERRACE CAVE

GETTING THERE

To reach the Terrace Cave, you'll need to dive under the waves in the Nautilus. Coast up to the mouth of the submerged tunnel south of Numara.

Once you're inside, you'll find the Terrace Cave to be a foreboding network of narrow passages that wind around ancient rock formations. There are a lot of steep mudslides that create one-way paths, but if you pursue the treasures in letter order you can get them all in a single trip.

If you stumble upon the Terrace Cave without having had a Money enemy steal gold from you in the Great Ancient Ruins, you might find it rather empty. But if you've been robbed by a Money, things are a little different. When you walk in, you'll notice a trail of coins that lead deep into the cave. Follow the coins past treasure chests that weren't there before. (You can pick up the coins as you go, but they're worth only 1G—they're almost not worth bending down to get.) Open each treasure chest as you pass—the first two will contain a measly 1G, but opening the third chest will trigger a rewarding boss battle.

BATTLING MONEY-MONEY

The Money-Money is a lot like the Moneys that you'd find in the Great Ancient Ruins, except he has much higher HP. He'll steal your gold and heal himself a little every time you attack, but he doesn't do any damage when he does so. Like normal Moneys, he is highly evasive, making him difficult to hit with physical attacks; wear him down with spells like Forcea and Flara. At the end of the battle, he'll drop all the gold that the Moneys stole, then he'll run off. If you happen back into the Great Ancient Ruins in the future and your gold meets a similar fate, you can return here to reclaim it. The prize for victory is Biography of Backyard, another Backyard hint book.

RETURN TO THE OLD SOCERESS' MANSION

GETTING THERE

To trigger a new quest at the Old Sorceress' Mansion, return to it at any time in Disc 4.

Despite Sarah's comforting words, monsters still linger in the spooky mansion. Fortunately, it's the same cadre of baddies that you confronted on your first visit, and your party is much stronger than it was then. This is Sarah's quest—she's bent on retrieving the notebook that contains the first poems Lirum ever sang. It becomes a family affair when Cooke and Mack offer to help out, and the rest of the crew follows obediently.

As you pass through the Courtyard and descend into the Old Sorceress' Hermitage, you'll hear ghostly boos coming from the back room. The sadness that Sarah felt after the loss of her daughter has manifested itself into a fearful monster.

Don't listen to her—there are plenty of monsters eager to give you a licking.

BOSS PREP

KAIM AND SARAH MUST BE IN THE PARTY, BUT THE REST OF THE LINEUP IS UP TO YOU. CHARACTERS THAT ARE VERSATILE IN BOTH PHYSICAL AND MAGIC ATTACKS ARE VALUABLE—MACK IS A GOOD CHOICE. SED IS ALSO PRETTY GOOD, LARGELY BECAUSE HE CAN STEAL A NEW RIFLE AND PUT IT TO USE RIGHT AWAY. EQUIP SETH AND KAIM WITH MAGIC-CASTING ABILITIES AND A WAY TO RESTORE THEIR MP. RINGS WITH FIRE ENHANCEMENTS ARE IDEAL FOR YOUR CHARACTERS.

BEFORE YOU HEAD INTO THE MANSION, STOCK UP ON CURE-ALLS AND STONE BEAST'S THORNS. BUY PLENTY OF MANA CAPSULES, AS WELL, AS PERSONA WILL DRAIN LOADS OF MP YOU COULD BE USING TO HEAL YOUR PARTY.

BOSS TACTICS

THE HOOK TO PERSONA IS THAT IT WILL ALTERNATE BETWEEN ABSORBING ALL SPELL DAMAGE AND ALL PHYSICAL DAMAGE WITH A MOVE CALLED REVERSE. WHEN IT ABSORBS SPELL DAMAGE, EVEN SPELLS THAT SUPPOSEDLY DO PHYSICAL DAMAGE (SUCH AS GAMBLE AND FORCE) WILL RESTORE PERSONA'S HEALTH. BOMBS ARE A NO-NO, TOO. THE PROBLEM IS, PERSONA WILL USE REVERSE AT UNPREDICTABLE TIMES, OFTEN AT THE BEGINNING OF A TURN, LAYING TO WASTE YOUR BEST-LAID PLANS FOR ATTACKING HIM. CHARACTERS OF A HIGH ENOUGH LEVEL CAN GET IN PHYSICAL ATTACKS BEFORE PERSONA SWITCHES, BUT NOT MAGIC ATTACKS—WHEN THE BOSS IS ABSORBING MAGICAL ATTACKS, IT'S BEST TO JUST DEFEND AND HEAL—IT'S HARD TO PREDICT IF PERSONA'S GOING TO REVERSE ITSELF AT THE BEGINNING OF THE FIGHT.

ONE OF PERSONA'S MOST DANGEROUS ATTACKS IS DEATH—A ONE-HIT KILL THAT IT'LL UNLEASH AT THE BEGINNING OF A TURN. THERE'S NOT MUCH YOU CAN DO ABOUT IT; JUST HOPE IT TARGETS AN IMMORTAL SO YOU DON'T HAVE TO BURN THROUGH ANGEL'S PLUMES TO KEEP YOUR PARTY ALIVE. PERSONA WILL ALSO HIT YOU WITH FORCEUS, WHICH DOES SO MUCH DAMAGE THAT IT'S ESSENTIALLY A ONE-HIT KILL, TOO.

A VARIETY OF PERSONA'S ATTACKS HIT YOUR WHOLE TEAM AT ONCE. SHINUS WON'T DO A TON OF DAMAGE TO ONE PERSON, BUT ITS COMBINED EFFECT WILL HURT YOUR GC. ALL-STONE CAN BE A NUISANCE, TOO—BE SURE TO HAVE ALL YOUR IMMORTALS EQUIPPED WITH THE ANTI-PETRIFY SKILL. BUT NOTHING REALLY COMPARES TO HIS DARKNESS ATTACK—NOT ONLY DOES IT SLAM YOUR ENTIRE PARTY FOR SERIOUS DAMAGE, BUT IT SUCKS AWAY A BUNCH OF MP AND APPLIES STATUS AILMENTS TO EVERYONE. A COMMON EFFECT WILL BE POISON—USE COMPOSITE MAGIC POISON-CURE TO HEAL AN ENTIRE ROW AT ONCE, THEN GET TO WORK ON HEALING EVERYONE.

CONTINUED

THE BEST STRATEGY FOR ATTACKING PERSONA IS TO EXERCISE PATIENCE. DON'T HAVE ALL YOUR CHARACTERS ATTACK EVERY TIME; YOU COULD END UP DOING YOURSELF MORE HARM THAN GOOD. INSTEAD, TAKE WHAT YOU CAN GET IN SMALL INCREMENTS BY HAVING ONLY A COUPLE OF PARTY MEMBERS ATTACK PER TURN. SPEND THE REST OF YOUR TIME HEALING AND CURING STATUS AILMENTS.

Stay healthy, or Persona's Darkness move will mean lights-out for your party.

When Persona faces you like this, it's vulnerable to physical attacks.

And when it turns to face you this way, you can hit it with magical attacks.

POST-MORTEM

At the end of the battle, you'll receive an achievement and recover Sarah's Notebook, an accessory that contains the skill Absorb Fire. You'll also receive an achievement for defeating Persona.

It's evident that Sed's been in captivity for a while, as his usual hideout, the Pirate Fortress, is in a little bit of disrepair. Fortunately, monsters haven't overrun the Pirate Fortress—you're free to wander around without fear of getting attacked. You'll enter the area via a high mountain trail; Sed will fix the Gondola so you can descend to the main area.

Inside Sed's studio, one of his fellow pirates will provide a valuable service for his captain's new crew. He'll give you the whereabouts of any treasures you've missed during your journey, as long as they're places you can return to. You'll get only one clue at a time; after you find the item he hinted at, return to hear another tip. The pirate will also let you know where you can find one of his shipmates; if you find all six they'll give you a couple of great items. Also while you're in the studio, check out Sed's workbench—he'll work his magic on your Magic-Powered Locator to upgrade it to the Magic-Powered Locator Lv3.

Head across the platforms and through the short cave to appear in another small section of the Pirate Fortress. There you'll find a Pipot, as well as a treasure chest that contains Cubic Music Score 9. Remember to do the Cubic Music Score 9 challenge as soon as you get back on the White Boa; the prize for the challenge is the Sunderch Glasses, which allows you to see invisible treasure hidden all around the world.

KELOLON VILLAGE

GETTING THERE

Punch through the ice into the lake north of Ipsilon. Then launch the Nautilus and dive underwater. Comb the south edge of the lake until you come across a submerged tunnel; when you resurface in the lake on the other side, you'll be at Kelolon Village.

The Kelolons are a skittish bunch who don't like to mingle with humans much. That's why they decided to tuck their village into such a hard-to-reach location. When you first arrive, the Kelolons will inform you of a little tournament they're conducting. Even the Kelolon King, who is supposedly fantastic with White Magic, is participating. But before you can investigate any deeper, you may stumble across a minor scuffle between another human and some Kelolons. If you've been to the Pirate Fortress, you know about Sed's shipmates who have gone missing. One of them found his way into a mountain village, and the Kelolons are ready to skewer him. Note that this event will trigger only if Sed is in your battle formation.

THE KELOLON SKIRMISH

The Kelolons will concentrate on Pirate Orly, who they have surrounded. You must take out the Kelolons before they take him down. The best strategy is to eliminate the Kelolons one at a time—if you try to spread out your attacks, you'll leave all the Kelolons alive, giving them more opportunities to beat up on poor Orly. Attack Kelolon D first—he casts Flare on Orly every turn, which does more damage than the rest of the Kelolons' melee attacks. You can also cast Shine on the Kelolons to spare Orly from taking too much damage; Shine will lower their accuracy (as well as deal them a little bit of damage). If Orly's HP gets too low, he'll make a break for it and you'll have to start from scratch. Once you've freed Orly, things return to normal around Kelolon Village, and you'll be able to enter the tournament, stay at the inn, or shop for really rare (and expensive) items.

KELOLON MASTERS TOURNAMENT

QUALIFYING ROUND

The tournament starts with a qualifier, where Cooke is the only participant. She can only attack, use items, and defend. In this battle royale, it's every Kelolon for itself. All five Kelolon competitors have the same stats. You'll face only two at a time—knock one out, and another will take its place. Just hit each one once to defeat it—with a high-level Kelo-Killer Ring, Cooke will do more than enough damage to beat one Kelolon per turn.

ELIMINATION ROUND

The next round is a string of four battles where Cooke once again fights on her own. She won't be able to heal between battles, so keep her health up as you progress through the competition. She will, however, shrug off any status ailments between rounds. Cooke can use all of her spells, but given the speed of her attack and the damage it does with a Kelo-Killer Ring equipped, she might not need to use them except to heal herself occasionally. If she needs to heal, it's best to use medicine such as a Healing Tank, because she'll use it before the Kelolons can attack.

FIRST ROUND

The corpulent Kelo-Kelolon will do significantly more damage than the Kelolons of your previous fight. Take him out with a couple of hard blows before he can do you serious harm. His hits will also inflict the Kelolon status ailment upon you if you're not prepared; wear the Kelolon Earrings to gain immunity.

The Self-Claimed Lv. 99 Kelolon is just a lot of talk. He'll do more damage than his predecessors, but not enough to be worried about; just attack continuously, heal when you need to, and victory will be yours. Self-Claimed Lv. 99's hits may cause the Darkness status ailment, but don't let that convince you to switch to attack spells—his automatic spell-countering will devastate you.

FOURTH ROUND

Without Cooke knowing it, her bratty brother Mack has been climbing up the other side of the tournament ladder. Now it's time for them to face off in the finals. Mack doesn't go easy on his sister, but the fight against him is pretty scripted; just keep beating up on him until he submits. When you regain the ability to cast spells, drop Forcea on him for an easy victory.

AFTER COOKE CLAIMS VICTORY IN THE KELOLON MASTERS TOURNAMENT, KING KELOLON WILL ATTEMPT TO TAKE HER AS HIS WIFE. THAT JUST WON'T DO, AND COOKE'S FRIENDS WILL JOIN HER IN FIGHTING HIM OFF. FOR HIS SIZE, KING KELOLON IS SORT OF A PUSHOVER; HE DOESN'T HAVE A WIDE ASSORTMENT OF ATTACKS THAT YOU HAVE TO PREPARE FOR. JUST STICK YOUR MOST POWERFUL ATTACKERS UP FRONT AND HACK AWAY. COOKE HAS TO BE IN THE FIGHT—GIVE HER THE WISDOM EARRINGS SO SHE CAN BLAST HIS MAJESTY WITH GROUNDA OR FORCEA. KING KELOLON'S DIVIDE SPELL IS POWERFUL, BUT YOU CAN TURN IT INTO YOUR GAIN WITH THE ABSORB MAGIC SKILL.

BOSS TACTICS

KING KELOLON HAS ONLY ONE EFFECTIVE ATTACK, BUT IT'S A WHOPPER. HE'LL UNLEASH THE WHITE MAGIC SPELL DIVIDE (PROBABLY THE COOLEST-LOOKING SPELL IN THE GAME) ON YOU EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE. IT'LL DO MUCH MORE DAMAGE TO THE FRONT LINE THAN IT WILL THE BACK; DO WHAT YOU CAN TO KEEP YOUR GC HIGH AND PROTECT YOUR BACK ROW. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF KING KELOLON BEING A WATER ELEMENTAL BY HAMMERING HIM WITH GROUNDA. HE LOVES TO CAST COVERUS TO BUY HIMSELF A FEW DAMAGE-FREE ROUNDS. POST-MORTEM

Once King Kelolon concedes victory, you'll earn an achievement and he'll reluctantly hand over Divide, which will be great for Cooke as soon as she gains the Level 8 White Magic skill. You'll also get the Kelonga Crown, which she'll benefit from right away—it bears the MP Max Up 4 skill.

After you defeat King Kelolon, you can play a little logic puzzle. Speak to the Kelolon in front of the ring of 10 torches, and he'll ask you for help in getting them all lit. The trick is, every time you light a torch, the torches on each side of it light up as well. If you light a torch adjacent to one that's already lit, it will extinguish, and vice versa. There are a lot of ways to solve this classic puzzle; the best strategy is to aim for having only one torch lit. Then light the remaining nine in groups of three. Once you've solved the puzzle, speak to the Kelolon again to receive your reward: 17 Iron Balls of Ruin.

* Treasure-hunting clue required

Seth recognizes the Forgotten Cave as the place she hid in the frequent times she was on the lam during her pirating days. The dank and hostile grotto is home to toxic swamps that slowly drain HP away from your entire party. The foul air in the cave prevents the use of any healing items—you'll have to rely on spells to recover health, and skills like Auto MP Recovery and Relax to recover MP during battle.

Several treasure chests in the Forgotten Cave contain rare ring components, but you can also steal a lot of valuable ring components from the monsters roaming the cave. Shortly after you set foot into the cave, you'll discover a treasure-hunting clue.

A new resident has moved in, and isn't all that excited about Seth's homecoming. Hug the right wall until you ascend a small incline at point 1, then walk forward to meet the Cave Worm at point 2—the monster will attack as you approach. After you beat him, you can jump across to chest D at point 3.

To get all the treasure chests, slogging through the poisonous swamp is unavoidable.

BOSS PREP

YOU HAVE TO USE SETH IN THIS BATTLE, BUT SINCE THE CAVE WORM HAS INCREDIBLY HIGH PHYSICAL DEFENSE, YOU'LL WANT MOST OF YOUR PARTY TO BE MAGIC-USERS. THE ONE GOOD PHYSICAL ATTACK IS TOLTEN'S BREAK HIT SKILL, WHICH CAN PENETRATE THE WORM'S DEFENSES. BUT TOLTEN WON'T BE AS USEFUL AS AN IMMORTAL WHO KNOWS THE SAME SKILL, SINCE THE IMMORTALS CAN REVIVE THEMSELVES AFTER THEY PERISH (AND WILL RETURN WITHOUT STATUS AILMENTS, AN IMPORTANT FACTOR WHEN FACING THE CAVE WORM WITH LOW-LEVEL CHARACTERS). YOU CAN'T USE ITEMS IN THIS BATTLE, SO YOU'LL HAVE TO RELY ON SKILLS AND SPELLS TO RECOVER YOUR HP AND MP.

BOSS TACTICS

THE CAVE WORM RELIES ON FOUR BASIC MOVES. IT CASTS STENCH, WHICH INFLECTS AN ARRAY OF STATUS AILMENTS AGAINST YOUR PARTY. SINCE EVERYONE GETS SOMETHING DIFFERENT, THE COMPOSITE MAGIC ALL-CURE SPELL IS THE BEST REMEDY—MAKE SURE MULTIPLE CHARACTERS CAN CAST IT IN CASE ONE IS INCAPACITATED. THE WORM CAN ALSO PERFORM COMPLETE DEFENSE, WHICH MAKES IT INVULNERABLE TO DAMAGE FOR A COUPLE OF TURNS—USE THOSE TWO ROUNDS TO HEAL AND BOOST YOUR CHARACTERS. THE CAVE WORM WILL OCCASIONALLY DO A MOVE CALLED TRIPLE ATTACK, STRIKING THREE TIMES IN A ROW AGAINST ANY COMBINATION OF ALLIES. THE MOVE YOU HAVE TO REALLY WATCH OUT FOR IS EARTH SHAKE, WHICH DAMAGES THE WHOLE PARTY SIGNIFICANTLY. IF YOUR GC IS UP, IT WON'T BE THAT HARSH ON THE BACK LINE, BUT IF YOU LET YOUR GC DROP, YOUR MAGIC USERS WILL DROP WITH IT.

POST-MORTEM

For defeating the Cave Worm, you'll get an achievement and three great items: the Gravity Rave (a sword for Seth), a Gravity Ring, and Aneira's Plume, which absorbs Wind Element damage. With the Gravity Rave, Seth is a monster. The Gravity Ring is a good choice for Tolten—the HP Absorb makes up for his defensive deficiencies, and the MP Absorb lets him continue to use his great skill attacks.

Be sure to get the treasure-hunting item Angel Guard before you leave; it grants immunity against all status ailments, making it one of the most valuable accessories in the game.

SNOWFIELDS OF THE NORTHERN LAND

GETTING THERE

The snowfields are at the northwestern tip of the northwestern continent. Ram through the ice with the White Boa to reach them.

Far up in the arctic regions of Uhra there is rumored to be a spell of epic capabilities. Jansen has heard the rumors of Leveler, and when the party arrives at the Snowfields of the Northern Land, everything clicks—the wind, the magic in the air; he knows they're in the right place.

The snowfield is an endless loop of drifting snow, with powerful gusts blowing from all directions. If you didn't know where you were going, you could wander around forever. The trick to navigating the snowfields is to watch the particles of magic floating on the wind—they'll lead you to the spell (and its guardian) if you run in the direction they're coming from. Unfortunately, the same particles that show you the way also drain your magic energy—your party's MP will drain gradually as you plod through the drifts. Hold down the X button to run, sparing precious time in the elements. The pattern is random, so if you get defeated by the Blue Dragon and have to start over, don't rely on memory.

Once you get to your destination, you won't have any time to prepare for the battle—heal frequently after random battles as you proceed to the Blue Dragon so you don't get left in the cold.

BOSS PREP

FIGHTING THE BLUE DRAGON IS MOSTLY PREP WORK—THINGS GO PRETTY SMOOTHLY IN BATTLE IF YOU'RE SET UP CORRECTLY. YOU'LL WANT TO EQUIP AS MANY MAGIC-PREVENTION SKILLS AND ACCESSORIES AS YOU CAN GET YOUR HANDS ON—THE BLUE DRAGON DOES ALL OF HIS NASTY WORK VIA THE DARK ARTS. THERE IS ONE EXCEPTION—THE BLUE DRAGON WILL ABSORB ALL ELEMENTAL ATTACKS, SO DEACTIVATE SPELL COUNTER SO YOU DON'T INADVERTENTLY RECOVER ENEMY HP. ALSO, REMOVE ANY RINGS THAT HAVE ELEMENTAL ENHANCEMENTS—STICK WITH BIO KILLER OR STRAIGHT DAMAGE-DEALERS.

JANSEN MUST BE IN THIS FIGHT, AND TOLTEN MAKES A GOOD FRONT-LINE FIGHTER BECAUSE OF HIS POWERFUL SKILL ATTACKS. THE ANTI-CURSE OR AILMENT RESISTANCE SKILL IS A MUST, AS THE BLUE DRAGON'S ALL-CURSE WILL DROP ALL KINDS OF STATUS AILMENTS ON YOU.

BOSS TACTICS

THE BLUE DRAGON HAS WHAT FEELS LIKE AN ENDLESS STRING OF DEVASTATING SPELLS. FORTUNATELY, LEVELER HITS ONLY ONE OF YOUR PARTY MEMBERS AT A TIME. IF YOU KNOW PERSISTENCE, YOU'LL BE ABLE TO AVOID GETTING K.O.'D. DEATH, WHICH KNOCKS OUT A PLAYER INSTANTLY, IS MUCH MORE DANGEROUS, AS IS PRISMUS, WHICH WILL SEVERELY DAMAGE THE WHOLE PARTY. THE WORST COMES WHEN THE BLUE DRAGON CASTS BACK-TO-BACK SPELLS. YOU'LL KNOW HE'S ABOUT TO DO IT WHEN THERE'S A 1 ON HIS ACTION-ORDER ICON; THAT MEANS HE'LL CAST CONSECUTIVE SPELLS DURING THE NEXT TURN—ANY CHARACTER WHO CAN MAKE HIMSELF IMMUNE WITH TOLTEN'S COMPLETE DEFENSE SKILL SHOULD DO SO. WITH SO MANY DEADLY SPELLS, YOU'LL NEVER REGRET USING SED'S MAGIC SEAL SKILL.

DON'T TRY TO USE ANY ELEMENTAL ATTACKS—THE BLUE DRAGON WILL ABSORB EVERY LAST ONE OF THEM. JANSEN AND ANY OTHER SPELLCASTERS SHOULD CAST FORCEA OR GAMBLE ONLY. ALSO, PAY ATTENTION TO THE DRAGON'S HP—IT HAS THE SKILL CRISIS ATTACK BOOST, MEANING IT'LL BECOME EVEN STRONGER WHEN ITS HP GETS LOW.

POST-MORTEM

After you defeat the Blue Dragon you'll earn an achievement, the Leveler spell, and the Blue Dragon Eye (with the Absorb Water skill). The wind will stop blowing and sapping your MP, but the snowfield doesn't hold any more secrets, so press down on the right stick to return to the world map. Leveler is an extraordinarily powerful spell, but it takes a good while to cast, and requires Lv8 Black Magic.

NUMARA ATOLL

GETTING THERE

If you haven't been here before, warp to the landing point at Numara Bay and sail to the northwest with the Nautilus.

Before heading to Numara Atoll, there's one place you need to go, and it's not far. Head downstairs in the White Boa to Ming's chamber on the Guest Area level (where Jansen abducted her a while back). You'll find Ming's Harp, a musical instrument that just so happens to lure the Holy Beast out into the open at Numara Atoll.

If you came upon Numara Atoll previously, you probably found an empty beach with a few items and a handful of pumped-up Silver Kelolons and Hell Shakers. But now that you have the harp, you can head straight to the rocky outcropping to meet the Holy Beast. Evidently Ming's memory has not returned fully, as her recollections of the Holy Beast being a gentle creature are a little off-base.

BOSS PREP

THE HOLY BEAST IS ESSENTIALLY IMMUNE TO REGULAR ATTACKS, AND CASTS AQUA MINE ON ITSELF TO DISCOURAGE THEM EVEN FURTHER (HOWEVER, AN ATTACKER WITH THE ABSORB WATER SKILL OR THE BLUE DRAGON EYE ACCESSORY CAN ABSORB THE AQUA MINE DAMAGE AS HEALING). YOUR ATTACKERS SHOULD USE TOLTEN'S BREAK HIT SKILL EXCLUSIVELY WHILE A BACK LINE OF JANSEN, SARAH, AND MING PELTS THE HOLY BEAST WITH POWERFUL SPELLS. MACK IS A GOOD CHOICE FOR A FRONT-LINE FIGHTER; HE CAN CAST BOOST SPELLS LIKE MINDUS AND USE WALLA TO PROTECT YOUR MAGES. THE HOLY BEAST USES ELEMENTAL SPELLS EXCLUSIVELY, BUT DOESN'T HAVE A FAVORITE ELEMENT, SO USE WHATEVER ELEMENTAL-ABSORPTION SKILLS YOU'VE GOT.

BOSS TACTICS

ALL-BARRICADE WILL TAKE A LITTLE OF THE STING AWAY FROM THE HOLY BEAST'S FLURRY OF ELEMENTAL ATTACKS, BUT THE BEST DEFENSE IS A FLURRY OF FORCEUS AND GROUNDPA SPELLS, WHICH CAN END THE BATTLE BEFORE IT CAN SPIRAL OUT OF CONTROL. WHEN THE HOLY BEAST'S HP STARTS GETTING LOW, BRACE YOURSELF—IT MAY CAST THE HOPELESSNESS SPELL, WHICH WILL DEAL 9,999 POINTS OF DAMAGE TO EVERYONE. THE ONLY WAY TO SURVIVE IT IS TO HAVE THE PERSISTENCE SKILL EQUIPPED, AND EVEN THEN YOU'RE NOT OUT OF THE WOODS. THE HOLY BEAST MIGHT FOLLOW UP WITH ANOTHER MOVE TO WIPE OUT THE PARTY ON THE NEXT TURN. WHEN ITS HEAD STARTS TO LOLL FROM SIDE TO SIDE, KILL IT AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE TO OUTRUN YOUR IMPENDING DEATH!

It's pretty easy to tell who learned Persistence and who didn't.

POST-MORTEM

In addition to a hard-earned achievement, you'll win the 1000 Year Memories accessory, which contains Slot +10, easily the best skill in the game. If you haven't already done so, you can also pick up the Bronze Spirit Band from the treasure chest in the far-left corner of the Atoll, and the Spirit Magic spell Regenerate in the far-right corner.

You can visit the Holy Beast whenever you like after the battle's over. He won't do anything for you, but at least he seems nice.

TEMPLE OF ENLIGHTENMENT

GETTING THERE

Like in Kelolon Village, you'll have to locate a submerged tunnel that leads to a mountain lake. Break through the ice along the southern coast of the southeastern continent (the home of the Great Ancient Ruins) then dive with the Nautilus to reach the passage to the Temple.

Deep within the jungles of the Eastern lands, the Temple of Enlightenment stands as a relic of a great civilization long departed. When your party stumbles upon it, it is young Mack, who carries the spirit of the Eastern Tribe in his soul, who feels the magic of the temple beckoning him.

Long left to ruin by the Eastern Tribes of old, the Temple of Enlightenment has become a haven for some of the nastiest monsters in the world. It's best to save this temple for last, not only because you'll need your party to be strong, but also because you'll want to have collected all the weapons and spells from earlier dungeons before tackling this one. Certain skills are particularly important—be sure to have your immortals learn Nullify All Elements and Ailment Resistance. Mack is a necessary character for the boss fight—keep him in your party so he can gain a few levels before you encounter the boss.

The temple not only features the most difficult battles; it's also the trickiest to navigate, with scores of shifting platforms and small pads that work as elevators. You might spend a good deal of time going in circles, so stock up on regenerative supplies.

Before heading into the temple, be sure to use the platforms to double back to the treasure chest in the middle of the area so you can pick up another valuable Slot Seed.

TREASURES

- A. SLOT SEED—RIDE THE PLATFORMS TO THE MIDDLE OF THE AREA
- B. JEWELS OF WISDOM X6—RIDE THE PLATFORMS TO THE FAR RIGHT

SQUARE OF ETERNITY

The Square of Eternity will introduce you to switches on red blocks that move large rows of blue blocks to allow you to reach new areas. Many times, these rows of blocks will have more than two set positions—you can't hit the switch once, then hit it again and expect it to go back to its original position.

In this first area, your goal is to make it to the northern rim of the upper level, which has doors on either side. The path there is quite simple, but if you choose to explore the area for treasure first, be careful about one thing: if you made your way toward the Forbidden Explosives treasure chest on the lower level by pressing the switch west of the entrance, hit the switch two more times afterward so that you leave the platforms in an upward (vertical) posture. They'll need to be in that position for later in the level. (Our instructions assume that you'll ignore the treasures for now; getting to the boss is hard enough, so you may want to save the treasure hunting for later.)

To reach your first destination, the Precipice of Hopelessness, you don't need to move any platforms. From the entrance to the Square of Eternity, head left and take the left elevator pad up, then follow the path left to a descending pad. (The descending pad on the path to the right will take you to a treasure chest containing six Spent Magic Engines. From there you can ride another pad to a treasure chest that holds a Gravestone of Fear.) Follow the walkway to a wide area and take another elevator pad upward, then head toward the huge green door on the left.

THE PRECIPICE OF HOPELESSNESS (LOWER AREA)

Once you're outside, ride the elevator pad up and step off to the left. Walk over to the gray tile and switch on the platform in the recessed part of the wall. You won't be able to do anything more with it now; it creates a walkway higher up for later on. Return to the lower level and continue west to the stairs that lead to the Corridor of Timelessness.

TREASURES

- A. DEATH POWDER X5—TAKE THE ELEVATOR PAD UP, THEN STEP OFF IT TO THE RIGHT AND GO DOWN THE SHORT STAIRCASE TO THE TREASURE CHEST.

THE CORRIDOR OF TIMELESSNESS, PART 1

You don't have to spend much time in here right now; walk to the save spot and use the switch to reach it, then continue east to a staircase and onward to the next outdoor area, the Valley of Loneliness. Don't worry about hunting down the items here at this point; you'll be spending plenty of time in this area very soon.

THE VALLEY OF LONELINESS (LOWER AREA)

You'll appear back outside in an area called the Valley of Loneliness near a large staircase. Head down it and walk up to the nooks in the wall. Notice the gray tiles on the floor—step in front of each to activate the adjacent platform. Again, you won't be able to ride these platforms; they create walkways above for later on. You'll also notice that one of the switches turns on the power to a pad, but the pad isn't there—you'll take care of that later.

After you've activated all three platforms, continue through the door to the left to return to the Square of Eternity; this might be a good time to leave the temple and return to the shopkeeper on the White Boa to stock up on supplies. Don't worry; when you return, everything will be exactly as you left it. If you're ready to proceed, go back up the stairs the way you came and return to the Corridor of Timelessness.

THE CORRIDOR OF TIMELESSNESS, PART 2

Things get much trickier now. You've been to the lower levels of both the Precipice of Hopelessness and the Valley of Loneliness; your goal now is to get back outside to the upper levels of the two areas. The Corridor of Timelessness is much more complicated than the Square of Eternity. The best way to navigate this section is to remember what route you took starting from the save location; it's a good centrally located landmark to help you keep your bearings.

It's easiest to go to the upper area of the Valley of Hopelessness first. To reach the door in the southeast part of the chamber, ride the elevator pad northeast of the save location, then activate the block switch so that it swings toward the south. Then take the elevator pad in the north and proceed to the door on the right.

TO THE VALLEY OF LONELINESS (UPPER AREA)

Your goal in this area is to snag the Jasper of Loneliness, one of the two items necessary to make it into the boss's chamber. First, walk to the far east of the ledge and ram the elevator pad off its precarious perch. Then go back toward the door and climb down the ladder across from it. If you remembered to hit all the gray switches below, you should be able to walk across the stationary elevator pads and pick up the Jasper of Loneliness. Before you climb back up the ladder, be sure to get the Magical Lock Key down the nearby staircase next to the ladder; with it you can access more-difficult challenges in the Backyard. Now head back into the Corridor of Hopelessness. As you return to the save location, activate the one block switch you hit on the way out—you'll need it in its original position to continue.

ITEM

A. MAGICAL LOCK KEY—CLIMB DOWN THE LADDER, THEN HEAD DOWN THE STAIRCASE TO THE TREASURE CHEST.

TO THE PRECIPICE OF HOPELESSNESS (UPPER AREA)

Head to the elevator pad northwest of the save location and take it to the upper level (you'll need to walk around the pillar to reach the pad). Walk through the beam of energy that's suspending an elevator pad above you. Hit the nearby block switch once so that the adjacent blocks create a walkway to the right. Make your way to another elevator pad to the northeast. Before stepping on it, however, be sure to hit the block switch that's only a few steps away (blocking the path you just came from). Now ascend via the elevator pad, and walk to the elevator pad you crossed under previously. Ride it down, then hit the nearby block switch to move the blue blocks into a third, higher position. Step back onto the elevator pad you just rode, and ride it up to the entrance of the Precipice of Hopelessness, which will be just to your left.

The first time you come to this switch, create a path heading right.

The next time, raise the blocks to a vertical position.

APPENDICES

Hopefully you activated the elevator pad we pointed out earlier—it's the only obstacle between you and the Emerald of Despair, the other item you'll need to unlock the boss's chamber. If so, you can reach the ladder that takes you to the jewel below. There aren't any items to pick up out here, so you're ready to proceed to the boss.

THE CORRIDOR OF TIMELESSNESS, PART 3

Getting to the boss is a piece of cake from here, but be sure to save first. Now that you can ride the descending elevator pad on the west side of the Corridor of Timelessness, getting down to the save location is much easier. Just descend, activate the block switch twice, and ride the descending elevator to the north down to the save spot.

After saving, retrace your steps toward the door to the Precipice of Hopelessness, but this time take the ascending elevator pad to the highest level of the map. From there you can easily make your way around the perimeter of the chamber to the altar where you must place the two jewels. An elevator pad will rise in the middle of a platform behind the altar—walk toward it and hit the block switch to reach the platform. Step on the pad to descend deep into to the Altar of Truth, where the Legendary Spirit Sorcerer Fu awaits.

BOSS PREP

MACK MUST BE IN THE ACTIVE PARTY; FILL THE REST OF YOUR RANKS WITH IMMORTALS. EVERY IMMORTAL SHOULD KNOW ABSORB ATTACK AND FREEFORM, AS WELL AS EVERY SKILL THAT CAN PROTECT AGAINST NON-ELEMENTAL MAGIC, PARTICULARLY ABSORB MAGIC. FU CAN DISPEL YOUR ALL-BARRICADUS AND ALL-SHIELD SPELLS, SO EQUIP AUTO BARRIER AND AUTO SHIELD TO GIVE YOUR TEAM SOME PROTECTION HE CAN'T QUASH. IN THE LATER STAGES OF THE BATTLE, YOU MUST BE ABLE TO INFLICT A LOT OF DAMAGE IN A SHORT AMOUNT OF TIME. THE SORCERER RING AND OTHER SPIRIT KILLER RINGS WILL HELP TAKE FU OUT, WHILE RINGS THAT ABSORB HP WILL HELP KEEP YOUR FIGHTERS ALIVE.

BOSS TACTICS

LEGENDARY SPIRIT SORCERER FU HAS ONLY A SMALL SET OF MOVES THAT HE'LL USE THROUGHOUT THE BATTLE, BUT IN COMBINATION THEY CAN BE BRUTAL. IN ADDITION TO A BASIC STRIKE, HE'LL UNLEASH THREE WAVES, AN ATTACK THAT DEALS MASSIVE PHYSICAL DAMAGE AGAINST ANY COMBINATION OF ALLIES, INCLUDING TWICE OR ALL THREE TIMES AGAINST THE SAME ALLY. FU HAS A COLLECTION OF EFFECTIVE STAT-CHANGING MOVES—ALL-RISE WILL BOOST HIS AND HIS FELLOW ENEMIES' STATS, WHILE ALL-FALL WILL LOWER YOUR ENTIRE PARTY'S STATS. DON'T BOTHER TRYING TO BOOST YOUR STATS TO COMPENSATE—HE'LL CAST DELETE-ALL TO WIPE THEM ALL AWAY. HE'LL ALSO CAST SHUFFLE, WHICH JUMBLES THE POSITIONS OF YOUR PARTY—IT'S EASY TO DEFEND AGAINST FOR IMMORTALS WHO KNOW THE FREEFORM SKILL, AND MACK CAN BE EFFECTIVE FROM BOTH THE FRONT AND BACK ROW.

BOSS TACTICS

ALL OF THESE ATTACKS ARE ONLY TABLE-SETTERS FOR FU'S UBER-ATTACK, HALBERD OF THE HEAVENS. FU WILL LAUNCH HIMSELF INTO THE AIR, THEN CRASH INTO YOUR PARTY WITH ALL HIS MIGHT. THIS IS WHERE THE ABSORB MAGIC SKILL COMES INTO PLAY—WITHOUT IT, FU COULD WIPE OUT YOUR ENTIRE PARTY IN AN INSTANT; WITH IT, YOU STAND A GOOD CHANCE OF GETTING WIPED OUT IN AN INSTANT. FRANKLY, MACK DOESN'T STAND MUCH OF A CHANCE TO STAY ALIVE FOR LONG WITH THESE ODDS—YOU MIGHT HAVE TO DO MOST OF THE BATTLE WITHOUT HIS SERVICES. IF YOU DO TRY TO KEEP HIM FRESH, USE GODDESS MEDICINE TO REVIVE HIM—IT'S FASTER THAN CASTING REVIVE, AND IT RESTORES MORE HP THAN AN ANGEL'S PLUME.

THE FIGHT AGAINST SORCERER FU COMES IN SEVERAL STAGES. HE'LL BEGIN THE BATTLE BY SUMMONING AN OBSIDIAN MIASMA, THE SAME CHARACTER THAT TOOK SPIRITUAL POSSESSION OF MACK IN THE CRIMSON FOREST. THE MIASMA WILL PERFORM OBSIDIAN SIGH, WHICH HITS AN ENTIRE ROW AT ONCE; IT'S NOT PARTICULARLY DAMAGING, BUT IF HE AIMS FOR THE FRONT ROW YOU MIGHT WANT TO HAVE MACK USE HIS WALLA SKILL TO REGAIN THE LOST GC RIGHT AWAY. ONCE YOU'VE DEFEATED THE OBSIDIAN MIASMA, SORCERER FU WON'T MISS A BEAT. HE'LL SUMMON TWO APPARITIONS CALLED REVERSE SOULS. THE REVERSE SOULS DON'T HAVE MUCH IN THE WAY OF ATTACKS, BUT WHEN THEY GET LOW ON HP (OR WHEN SORCERER FU DOES) THEY WILL CAST SACRIFICE SELF, A SPELL THAT DESTROYS THE CASTER BUT HEALS FU AND CREATES A NEW REVERSE SOUL. IT TAKES TWO TURNS FOR THE REVERSE SOUL TO CAST SACRIFICE SELF; YOU MUST BE ABLE TO DO ENOUGH DAMAGE IN THAT TIME TO KNOCK OUT THE REVERSE SOUL BEFORE IT CAN GET THE SPELL OFF. CONCENTRATE ALL OF YOUR ATTACKS ON JUST ONE REVERSE SOUL AT A TIME, AND DON'T EVEN BOTHER TO ATTACK FU WHILE THE REVERSE SOULS ARE IN THE FIELD, AS THEY'LL JUST HEAL HIM RIGHT AWAY. YOU SELDOM HAVE TO RELY ON GETTING PERFECT RING HITS, BUT THIS IS ONE OF THOSE TIMES—YOU'LL NEED TO DO ALL THE DAMAGE YOU CAN EKE OUT EACH ROUND.

AFTER YOU'VE DEALT WITH THE REVERSE SOULS, YOU CAN GO DIRECTLY AFTER FU. HE'LL PROBABLY STILL HAVE MOST OF HIS HP; WHITTLE IT AWAY WITH FORCEUS AND PHYSICAL ATTACKS. HE WON'T HAVE ANY WAY OF HEALING HIMSELF AT THIS POINT, SO TAKE IT SLOW AND FOCUS ON KEEPING YOUR OWN TEAM ALIVE.

BOSS POST-MORTEM

Once you've taken care of Legendary Spirit Sorcerer Fu, you may have a little unfinished business in the Altar of Truth. If you received the Enchanted Mask from the merchant in Saman, take it up to the altar. You'll have to go back to Saman to collect your reward. Also, if you've spoken with the boys in the Katyla Family House in Numara to learn about the "What the Cursed Mask Guards" treasure hunt, you'll find it right at the altar—you'll earn the Phoenix Discus and Phoenix Ring.

Remember that you don't heal after the boss battle, and it's a long way back to the entrance. Be sure to heal up before beginning the trek back to safety.

FORGING WITH ORICHALCUM

WHILE IN THE CORRIDOR OF TIMELESSNESS, YOU SHOULD DEFINITELY PICK UP THE ORICHALCUM. IT LOOKS LIKE A RING COMPONENT, BUT IT'S ACTUALLY USED TO FUSE A SPECIAL WEAPON. THERE'S ONLY ONE OF THESE ITEMS IN THE GAME, SO DON'T MISS IT. FROM THE SAVE LOCATION, GO NORTH TO THE ELEVATOR PAD IN THE MIDDLE OF THE ROOM. TAKE THE ELEVATOR PAD UP, THEN HOP ON THE ONE RIGHT IN FRONT OF IT ON THE NEXT LEVEL. WIND YOUR WAY BACK UNTIL YOU'RE RIGHT ABOVE THE SAVE LOCATION TO FIND THE TREASURE CHEST.

IF YOU HAVEN'T BEEN BACK TO THE IPSILON MOUNTAINS MINING SITE IN A WHILE, YOU MAY BE SURPRISED TO FIND AN OLD BLACKSMITH LOITERING ALONE IN ITS UPPER REACHES. TAKE THE ORICHALCUM TO HIM TO HAVE HIM FORGE A WEAPON FOR EITHER KAIM OR SETH. THERE ISN'T ENOUGH MATERIAL TO MAKE TWO SWORDS, SO YOU'LL HAVE TO CHOOSE THE CHARACTER WHO DESERVES IT MOST. IF YOU OPT TO HAVE THE WEAPON MADE FOR KAIM, THE BLACKSMITH WILL CREATE DURANDAL ALONG WITH THE DURANDAL RING. IF YOU DECIDE THAT SETH NEEDS A BETTER SWORD,

THE BLACKSMITH WILL FORGE THE WHITE IGNIS AND THE IGNIS RING. YOU REALLY CAN'T GO WRONG EITHER WAY—BOTH WEAPONS ARE AMAZING, AS ARE THE RINGS.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE SPEED OF YOUR PARTY—THEY'LL PLAY THE NOTES IN THE SAME ORDER THAT THEY WERE ASSIGNED. IF YOU GET ALL THE NOTES RIGHT, YOU'LL GET A GOOD PRIZE. IF YOU MISS A NOTE, YOU'LL HAVE TO START OVER FROM THE BEGINNING.

INVISIBLE TREASURE CHESTS

HIDDEN THROUGHOUT THE WORLD ARE INVISIBLE TREASURE CHESTS, MOSTLY IN AREAS THAT YOU COMPLETED PREVIOUSLY. THE TREASURE CHESTS MOSTLY CONTAIN POWERFUL SPELLS AND SPELLCASTING SKILLS. TO SEE THEM YOU'LL NEED A SPECIAL ITEM CALLED THE SUNDERCH GLASSES, WHICH CAUSES INVISIBLE CHESTS TO SHIMMER INTO VIEW. THE ONLY WAY YOU CAN ACQUIRE THE SUNDERCH GLASSES IS TO WIN THEM FROM A CUBIC MUSICIAN BY COMPLETING CUBIC MUSIC SCORE 9. YOU CAN FIND CUBIC MUSIC SCORE 9 IN THE PIRATE FORTRESS—MAKE THAT YOUR FIRST DESTINATION AFTER ACQUIRING THE WHITE BOA.

TREASURE HUNTS

DURING YOUR JOURNEY, YOU'LL ENCOUNTER QUITE A FEW PEOPLE EAGER TO TIP YOU OFF ABOUT THE LOCATIONS OF HIDDEN ITEMS. THESE TREASURE HUNTS PROVIDE AN OPPORTUNITY TO PICK UP ALL KINDS OF EXCELLENT GOODS. YOU'LL FIRST LEARN OF TREASURE HUNTS IN MOUNTAIN VILLAGE TOSCA, WHERE YOU'LL RECEIVE A MAGIC-POWERED LOCATOR THAT ALLOWS YOU TO HONE IN ON HIDDEN TREASURES—THEY'LL SHOW UP AS ORANGE DOTS ON YOUR MAP. FOR THE TREASURES TO SHOW UP, YOU MUST FIRST RECEIVE A CLUE BY TALKING TO PEOPLE. YOU CAN UPGRADE YOUR MAGIC-POWERED LOCATOR TWICE—ONCE IN THE GREAT ANCIENT RUINS AND AGAIN IN THE PIRATE FORTRESS—ALLOWING YOU TO DISCOVER EVEN BETTER TREASURES. Because Papa starts out the battle with a Poison condition, your impulse is to act quickly. Careful—if you kill the enemies too quickly you could end up striking the Kelolons by mistake. Have your party assail the Wild Balls from left to right—when the first enemy dies, your next ally will target the next enemy from the left instead of a Kelolon.

You can't remove the status ailments via items, nor can you use spells, so magic users aren't helpful in this fight. THE MANTALAS' RETURN!

Mantalas and his cohorts don't like to get pushed around, so when you attack, they'll push back with powerful counters. Mantalas is the only vital target, so get to him before the others get to you!

BONUS STRATEGY

Give the Mantas a taste of their own medicine with your own counter skills—they can't counter a counter! Otherwise, load up on magic users and slam them with Ground spells and Force spells. Mantalas is in the front row, so take it out before it can wreak havoc with Toxin and Petrify ailments.

You might not be able to use healing items, but HP-absorbing rings do the job just fine. Your foe will attempt to inflict the Poison status ailment on Tolten; use the Antidote Brooch to prevent its effect.

The next round, every one of them will cast Huge Explosion, removing them from battle one by one. Remember to equip the Absorb Fire or Fire Proof skills!

MEAT EATERS

These monsters think they can go it alone, but they might need a little help from daddy. Make 'em extinct before they can call for backup.

ENEMIES

RAPTOR X7+
HP: 1,000
TYPE: BEAST

RAPTOR BOSS
HP: 2,970
TYPE: BEAST
ELEMENT: FIRE

BONUS STRATEGY

This is similar to the battle with Don Laploss; the Raptors will call in allies for a while before fetching the big man. Go on the offensive only when you need to thin out the herd a little. Watch out for the Raptor Boss—he uses both Darkness and Toxin attacks. There's no restriction on item use, so keep yourself healthy and fit until he arrives.

A GERM OF ANNOYANCE

GAINTOAD
HP: 800?

ELEMENT: ?

BONUS STRATEGY

You'll be fully in the dark about the enemies' stats. It's an all-or-nothing onslaught—beat them before the toxin beats you. Use Taunt in combination with HP Absorb to draw fire and keep the target ally healthy. Immortal recoveries count as resurrections, so either beat them before the immortals come back or stick with an all-mortal lineup. The Persistence skill will give your fighters one more round of attacks before they fall.

SHARED FRONTLINE

The Eastern Sage apparently likes playing with dolls—dolls that will attack anything that gets near him. Kill all the Doll Queens you want; the Neo Generators will make more.

DETAILS

VICTORY PRIZE: MANA PRIME X3

VICTORY CONDITION: DEFEAT THE EASTERN SAGE

BONUS PRIZE: SLOT SEED

BONUS CONDITION: DEFEAT 15 OR MORE DOLL QUEENS

ENEMIES

EASTERN SAGE
TYPE: SPIRIT MAGIC ELEMENT: NONE

DOLL QUEEN X 4+
TYPE: MAGIC
ELEMENT: NONE

NEO GENERATOR X2
HP: 1,830
TYPE: MECHANICAL
ELEMENT: NONE

BONUS STRATEGY

Given the Eastern Sage's propensity to cast All-Seal, magic users aren't all that necessary in this fight. Keep a tally of how many Dolls you defeat so you don't lose track. The Neo Generators will hit you with status ailments only when they're not busy assembling more Dolls. Otherwise, just try to stay alive and watch out for the Eastern Sage's Shadow attack.

ENTER KELOLON COMMANDER!

The poor Kelolons just don't know when to stop. This time, a company of the large-helmeted lads aims to march all over you, while their commander supports them all the way (at a safe distance, of course).

DETAILS

VICTORY PRIZE: KELO-OIL X10

VICTORY CONDITION: DEFEAT ALL
ENEMIES

BONUS PRIZE: SLOT SEED

BONUS CONDITION: DEFEAT THE KELO
BRIGADIER CAPTAIN FIRST

ENEMIES

KELO BRIGADIER CAPTAIN
HP: 6,780
TYPE: KELOLON
ELEMENT: NONE

KELO-RANGER X3
HP: 3,390
TYPE: KELOLON
ELEMENT: WATER

BONUS STRATEGY

The Kelo Brigadier Captain is well-defended by his front line of troops. Fortunately, Sed knows the way through to him. Have your immortals learn Lucky GC Ignore from the old pirate, then target the captain with their best attacks. Watch out! The Kelo-Ranger's Combination move is way stronger than you've ever seen it before. Not to worry, though—this might surprise you, but it won't kill you. Go get 'em.

ABSENCE OF IMMORTALS

You don't have to be a thousand years old to have a little fun—this fight is for the mortals only. You'll be revisiting an old friend who's learned some new tricks. There's no hiding from this beast's massive attacks now!

DETAILS

VICTORY PRIZE: GODLY DRAGON TEARS X3

VICTORY CONDITIONS:
ALL FIVE MORTALS REQUIRED
DEFEAT ALL ENEMIES

BONUS PRIZE: SLOT SEED

BONUS CONDITION: DON'T USE ANY SKILLS

ENEMIES

DINOZAORO
HP: 34,080
TYPE: ORGANIC
ELEMENT: NONE

BONUS STRATEGY

The restriction for winning the bonus applies only to actual skill attacks—giving Mack and Cooke accessories to enable Black Magic spells will still earn you the Slot Seed. It's a good idea to do just that—Forcea and Forceus are much more powerful attacks than either could muster physically. Dinozaoro loves to mess with your formation—Give Tolten the General's Pen to keep him in the front row and keep your GC intact.

AH, FIREWORKS FOREVER!

Light up the battlefield against a host of fiery balloons. Careful—eliminate one baddie, and another might just take its place.

VICTORY PRIZE: GODDESS MEDICINE X5

VICTORY CONDITION: DEFEAT ALL ENEMIES

BONUS PRIZE: SLOT SEED

BONUS CONDITION: DON'T LET ANY ALLY GET KO'D

ENEMIES

BABALLOON X6+
HP: 5,760
TYPE: NONE
ELEMENT: FIRE

BONUS STRATEGY

Just like in the earlier Fireworks fight, the trigger for getting the enemies to self-destruct is to douse them in fire. Cast All-Flarus in the first round to coax them into using Self Destruct (after first performing Mindus), then protect yourself by having the Nullify All Elements, Absorb Fire, or Fire Proof skill equipped. Any other form of attack will only make matters worse, as the Baballoons will resurrect fallen comrades faster than you can take them down.

MASTER RING USER

Time to face the ultimate ring challenge. Pay attention to the directions the soldier gives, and repeat them with the appropriate ring attack or face the wrath of his pet dog.

VICTORY PRIZE: 30 HEALING MEDICINES

VICTORY CONDITIONS:
KAIM REQUIRED
SKILLS NOT ALLOWED
SPELLS NOT ALLOWED

DEFEAT VETERAN SOLDIER

BONUS PRIZE: WHITE CHARM

BONUS CONDITION: DEFEAT SUBEL THE HOUND FIRST, THEN GALIS

ENEMIES

VETERAN SOLDIER GALIS
HP: 27,290
TYPE: NONE
ELEMENT: NONE

SUBEL THE HOUND
HP: 81,950
TYPE: BEAST
ELEMENT: NONE

BONUS STRATEGY

Have one of the support characters use a Poison Ring to hit the hound; have Kaim stay focused on Galis. Once Subel is defeated, you're in for a fight. Galis will stop the ring-matching business and start wailing on you. Have Seth and Kaim attack as often as possible; Sarah and Ming should always defend; they're just there as fodder to make sure the battle lasts long enough for the other two to do their business.

ELEMENT: EARTH

BONUS STRATEGY

You can use Fire-element attacks to encourage the Moneys to do coin tosses, but the faster way is to have your immortals learn Slot Hit—they'll flip their coins every time. Don't worry about doing too much damage—they have plenty of HP and you don't have a lot of time to take it all off.

KELOLON BATTALION HEAD

The Kelo-Thug is hardly a leader—he's kinda weak and prone to running away. The Kelolons might not know how to choose their officers, but they sure know how to choose their bodyguards.

THE IMMORTAL ONE

All the practice and hard work you've put into your previous Backyard battles will do little to prepare you for the Immortal One. Buckle down for a long and difficult fight.

VICTORY PRIZE: SLOT SEED

VICTORY CONDITION: BEAT THE IMMORTAL ONE

BONUS PRIZE: QUAD-ELEMENT SEAL

VICTORY CONDITION: WIN THE BATTLE IN 30 TURNS OR FEWER

ENEMIES

IMMORTAL ONE

TYPE: AERIAL

BONUS STRATEGY

For as challenging as the Immortal One is, the strategy to beat him isn't terribly complicated. Use the spell Divide, which does the same amount of damage as the caster's HP, and Reversa, which does the amount of damage the caster has lost. Put all of your immortals in your party so you don't have to spend time healing. Persistence and Magic Absorb will give your team a good shot at staying alive, but you'll still need a lot of luck. Just keep in mind that there isn't enough room in the world for another immortal!

SLOT SEEDS

USE SLOT SEEDS TO INCREASE THE NUMBER OF SKILLS YOUR IMMORTALS CAN EQUIP SIMULTANEOUSLY. SLOT SEEDS CAN BE ACQUIRED IN A NUMBER OF WAYS, INCLUDING SEARCHING TREASURE SPOTS, COMPLETING SUB-QUESTS, AND WINNING AT BACKYARD EVENTS. THERE ARE 48 SLOT SEEDS IN ALL; EACH OF THE FOUR IMMORTALS CAN USE A MAXIMUM OF 12 OF THEM. SLOT SEEDS DON'T DO THEIR WORK AUTOMATICALLY; YOU MUST USE THEM ON A CHARACTER TO ADD THE NEW SLOT. DON'T FORGET TO EQUIP A NEW SKILL AFTER USING THE SLOT SEED.
